Recess Paris Peace Talks For Nine Days

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger flew here Saturday night to confer with President Nixon after he and Hanoi's chief negotiator Le Duc Tho agreed to interrupt their secret peace talks in Paris for nine days.

Kissinger arrived at Kennedy Airport at 9:45 p.m., EST, debarking from an Air Force jetliner and going directly to a waiting helicopter. He did not speak with newsmen.

Kissinger arrived at the Waldorf-Astoria about 30 minutes later and went directly to the President's quarters.

He merely grinned when asked by newsmen whether he was bringing good news or bad news from his meetings in Paris.

The President's special adviser refused to talk with newsmen at Orly airport, Paris, as he smilingly took leave of the head of the South Vietnamese delegation, Pham Dang Lam.

"I'll see you on Dec. 3," Kissinger told Lam.

The North Vietnamese delegation said Tho would remain in Paris to await the resumption of the secret talks on Dec. 4. A delegation spokesman said Kissinger had suggested the break.

Kissinger and Tho, accompanied by only their top aides, met for two hours in Tho's residence in suburban Choisy Le Roi. Both sides refused comment on details of the negotiations.

The unexpected interruption came after reports in Saigon that South Vietnam's special observers at the talks told President Nguyen Van Thieu that the negotiations were "virtually deadlocked" over North Vietnamese troop withdrawals.

A Saigon newspaper controlled by Thieu's Independence Palace quoted a "high source" as saying no optimistic signs had been seen in Paris. The paper added in an editorial that peace remains "far away" because the negotiators have ignored the troop withdrawal issue.

Kissinger and Tho refused comment on a Washington Post story that the talks were deadlocked by an American refusal to honor the tentative agreement reached last month.

In New York, presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said it had been mutually agreed "not to discuss the substance of the talks or characterize them in any way whatsoever."

Asked about any obstacles that may have come up during the talks, Ziegler said, "I would caution you against excessive speculation." He added that both sides "are negotiating seriously."

The administration spokesman also said that Nixon has agreed to meet this week with Thieu's special assistant Nguyen Phy Duc who is coming to Washington to discuss the negotiations.

The official Hanoi newspaper Nanh Dan charged that the Nixon administration was creating "all the difficulties and troubles in the path of ending the war." The paper accused the United States of "trying a 180-degree turn" in backing away from the draft agreement.

There was no official explanation for the circumstances leading to abrupt nine-day suspension of the talks.

Peace Negotiators

Continue Heavy Raids on North

The North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry issued another statement condemning the bombing attacks, and American military sources indicated the raids were a signal to Hanoi that the United States will not stop its bombing below the 20th Parallel until a peace agreement is reached. The peace talks have gone into recess until Dec. 4 after six sessions in Paris.

U.S. officials disclosed that a second B52 was damaged in a surface to air missile attack last week that claimed the first B52 combat loss of the Vietnam war. None of the six crewmen on the damaged plane was injured but two of the six crewmen on the downed aircraft were hurt.

U.S. officials in Vientiane, Laos, also disclosed that an Air America C7 Caribou cargo plane flying in support of Laotian irregular forces, was shot down by enemy antiaircraft fire Thursday, killing two Americans, a Thai and a Lao. Air America is backed by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

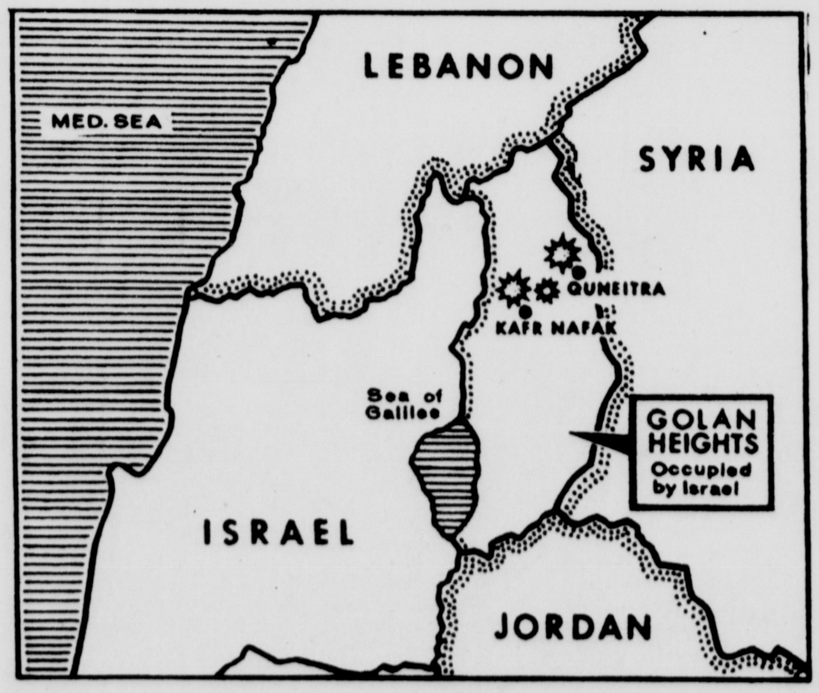
As reports circulate in Paris of serious differences between U.S. and Hanoi negotiators, the North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry said the B52 attacks "laid bare the deceitfulness of the Nixon administration's professed desire to end its military involvement and restore peace in Vietnam."

In South Vietnam, tens of thousands of marchers demonstrated along a 50-mile stretch of Highway 4 in an anti-Communist protest to show that the government is in control of the main road through the Mekong Delta.

The marchers carried flags and banners demanding that North Vietnamese troops get out of South Vietnam and declaring that "coalition with the Communists is suicide."

During the 24-hour period ending at noon Saturday, the U.S. Command reported 14 more B52 missions against North Vietnamese targets below the 20th Parallel.

The U.S. Command said the attacks were centered on supply caches awaiting shipment to Laos and South Vietnam. But the North Vietnamese claim the Stratofortresses are bombing populated areas and causing heavy civilian casualties and damage.



Bombard Golan Heights

UPI newsmap spots the area where Syria bombarded Israeli-occupied Golan Heights with artillery fire Saturday. A Syrian spokesman said the bombardment was in retaliation to an Israeli mortar and machinegun attack on Syrian positions, but Israeli officials denied any firing on Syrian positions.

Sentence Guerrilla Commander

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Sean MacStiofain, widely regarded as the commander of the Irish Republican Army's guerrillas, was sentenced Saturday to six months in prison for belonging to the outlawed movement.

The haggard guerrilla, weakened from seven days on a hunger and thirst strike, banged clenched fists on the rim of the dock in Dublin's special criminal court in an explosion of rage and shouted hoarsely:

"I will see you dead in hell before I submit. I will be dead in six days—live with that!"

His wife, Marie, burst into tears and rushed into his arms past burly police guards and medical orderlies.

Only a few hours before the three judges in the no-jury court pronounced him guilty and gave him the minimum sentence, the 44-year-old English-born MacStiofain collapsed from his week-long protest.

MacStiofain was carried back into the guarded courtroom in a chair to hear the sentence.

Earlier, gray-faced and weak from his self-imposed ordeal, he declared hoarsely: "I do not expect justice. I shall continue my hunger and thirst strike."

A doctor told newsmen the once husky leader, who his attorney said had lost at least 15 pounds since his arrest last Sunday, may have only three days to live unless he was fed. Under Irish law he can be force-fed after conviction.

He was taken under heavy guard after the court session to a Dublin hospital where it was believed he was being given vitamin and glucose injections.

On a street near the hospital a crowd formed to protest MacStiofain's arrest and conviction. Police patrols were increased around the city.

German Gunman Killed By Police Sharpshooter

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — A police sharpshooter Saturday killed a gunman who had held an Air Canada stewardess hostage for nearly 24 hours aboard a jetliner on the ground at Frankfurt airport.

Police identified the gunman who carried a loaded revolver as Viktor Widera, 58, a German with a long criminal record.

The stewardess, Margit Sommer, 31, a German-born resident of Montreal, was described by an Air Canada spokesman as "unharmed and just terribly tired."

Widera was killed by "one well-aimed shot" from 60 yards as he stood at the partly open door of the Air Canada DC8, which he commandeered Friday afternoon to press demands for release of various prisoners held in West German jails.

Widera, who was described by police as having "strong pathological traits," threatened to blow up the airliner along with himself and Miss Sommer if his demands were not met.

Widera claimed he had a package of dynamite. When police stormed the plane after he was shot, they found a small parcel containing a powdery substance which was not immediately identified.

Widera, a short man, was dressed in brown overalls.

Horst Vogel, who directed the special 150-man police security force, told newsmen that "colleagues with special training were under orders to shoot the hijacker in a crystal clear situation that would not endanger the hostage."

The sharpshooters' first opportunity came when Widera showed himself, with a handkerchief pressed to his mouth, as authorities passed a two-way radio through the plane's front door. He had accepted the radio to speed up negotiating with police.

"When Widera pushed the door open, Miss Sommer ran a few yards away from him down the corridor, giving police sharpshooters on the ground a chance to fire one well-aimed shot from 60 yards," Vogel said.

Police then stormed aboard the plane and found Widera fatally wounded in the passageway.

Miss Sommer was whisked away after the rescue and lodged in an undisclosed hotel.

West German Rado reported that Air Canada had sent several million Deutsche marks to the airport to meet any monetary demand for Miss Sommer's release. The airline's local office refused to comment on the report.

Although Widera made various demands for release of prisoners, police did not report that he asked at any time for money.

Widera, who was born in the former German province of Upper Silesia, now a part of Poland, first demanded custody of a young Czech airplane hijacker or as an alternative the release of 20 Czechs he said were jailed in West Germany on espionage charges.

Told there were not 20 such prisoners, Widera said he would settle for the release of any 20 convicts serving the highest sentences in West German prisons.

Widera had described himself in notes dropped from the plane as a former inmate of a Nazi concentration camp who wanted to go down in history.

Labor Party Wins Upset In Election

WELLINGTON (AP) — New Zealand's Labor party won a landslide general election victory Saturday and Prime Minister-elect Norman Eric Kirk called it "a victory for the little people."

With one seat still in doubt the voters gave Kirk's party 55 seats in the single-chamber Parliament and 31 seats to the National party. In the previous 84-seat Parliament the National party had held a four-seat edge.

Defeated Prime Minister John Ross Marshall, a 60-year-old lawyer said in conceding the election that he had to agree with Labor's slogan that "it has clearly been a time for a change."

"It can fairly be described as a landslide," said Marshall, glancing at a television set in his House of Parliament office as further reports of slashing Labor wins continued to pour in.

Provisional figures are that 1.4 million voters — 91.6 per cent of those eligible — produced a 4.6 per cent swing to give Labor its third term of office in the country's history.

Kirk, a softspoken, former train engineer, said at his home in Christchurch, "I believe the people have been dismayed by the drift in New Zealand toward wanton materialism."

The election may have been a victory for Kirk's "little people," but it was even more of a triumph for Kirk himself, who is far from little. He weighs 252 pounds.

After leading Labor to two election defeats in six years, the 49-year-old Kirk trimmed down 40 pounds and threw his still portly frame into the campaign with the election cry, "It's time!"

Foreign affairs were barely mentioned, but Kirk is known to feel that New Zealand's military commitment to the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization should be phased out.

The balloting was watched most closely in Australia, where general elections are to be held Dec. 2 and Labor again hopes to unseat the Liberal-Country coalition government in power for 23 years.

The election was fought solely on local issues, with Kirk scoring on promises of increased social benefits and regional development.

Five People Killed In Two-Car Collision

A two-car collision that split one of the vehicles in half killed five persons and seriously injured two others at 9:20 p.m. Friday on Highway 52, 1.1 mile west of the intersection of Highway 127.

The dead were identified as Marilyn Ruth Scott, 19, and her mother, Ilah R. Scott, 41, both of Lowry City; James Sloan Gardner, 23, Warsaw; his one-year-old daughter, Julie; and his brother, Patrick Allen Gardner, 28, Edwards.

The baby and the elder Gardner were pronounced dead upon arrival at Bothwell Hospital. The other were pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, Pettis County Coroner who investigated.

In serious condition at Bothwell Hospital are Jamie Gardner, 21, wife of James Gardner. She suffered a partially collapsed lung and lacerations to the forehead and knee. Also admitted was Nancy Jean Gardner, 25, wife of Patrick Gardner. She received possible head injuries and facial lacerations.

The accident brought Pettis County's traffic death count for the year to 22, one of the worst in recent memory. Records indicate that in 1967, 23 persons died on county roads as the result of accidents, with the worst being 1968, when 26 were killed in collisions.

Both 1969 and 1970 records show 13 persons killed each year, with 1971 having the lowest count in the five-year period, with nine fatalities.

The investigating officer, Trooper E. J. Dayringer, said Saturday that because of the wet and dark conditions Friday night and the two surviving passengers in no condition to talk, he could only make an educated guess as to the cause of the accident.

He said it appeared to him that the 1969 Plymouth driven by Marilyn Scott was westbound on Highway 52 when it skidded sideways into the path of a 1970 Ford, driven east by James Gardner.

According to Dayringer, the force of the impact split the Scott auto in two. The front half of the car came to rest against a fence on the south shoulder of the road and the rear half went through a fence on the north side.

No one was thrown from either of the cars involved, Dayringer said. He added that both Miss Scott and her mother were wearing seat belts at the time of the accident.

It could not be determined exactly where the Gardner families were sitting in their car at the time of the accident. Dayringer reported witnesses who had seen the Gardners before the accident occurred said James and Jamie Gardner and their baby were in the front seat, with Nancy and Patrick Gardner in the back.

It was reported that the Gardners had gone bowling in Windsor and were enroute home when the accident occurred.

The accident was the second multiple-fatality crash in Pettis County this month.

On Nov. 4, a firey, one-car crash on Route HH, about 10 miles northeast of Sedalia, claimed the lives of Carl L. DeWitt, 20, LaMonte; Lewis J. Brannen,

Wind Up Navy Racial Hearings

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A congressional subcommittee wound up on Saturday initial hearings on race relations in the Navy. They investigated, in particular, the refusal of 183 protesting sailors to return to the aircraft carrier Constellation after being put ashore here.

Rep. Floyd V. Hicks, D-Wash., chairman of the House Armed Services subcommittee, said no statement will be made about what was said in the closed-door hearings until the group's report is prepared.

The subcommittee is scheduled to open a hearing here Monday on another Navy racial incident — a riot aboard the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk while the ship was off the North Vietnam coast six weeks ago. The Navy said 46 of the 100 men involved in the fight were injured. Twenty-one black sailors are being held here for court martial.

The hearings concerning the Constellation opened in Washington last Monday and were moved to North Island naval Air Station here Tuesday.

PO 3.C. Michael Dawson of Detroit, who testified Wednesday, told reporters Friday:

"They asked me questions about why I disobeyed a basic order and why I joined the protests, but they didn't address themselves to the central problems of discrimination and inferior job assignments for blacks aboard the ship."

Another sailor said earlier in advance of a scheduled appearance before the subcommittee that the Constellation's skipper, Capt. J. D. Ward, could have avoided a confrontation.

Seaman Howard Smith of East St. Louis, Ill., said he and another sailor "went up to the bridge and pleaded with Ward" to meet with the dissident sailors on the carrier's mess deck the night of Nov. 3.

Congressperson Dislikes Her 'Gentlelady' Label

By HOWARD WHITE
Associated Press Writer

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — "May I object to being called 'gentlelady,'" asked Barbara C. Jordan, a 36-year-old U.S. representative-elect from Texas.

"How would you want to be addressed," asked Alan W. Steelman, another Texan heading for the political maze called Congress.

"I don't know, but I don't like 'gentlelady,'" said Miss Jordan.

The question was one of hundreds being raised by four newly elected congressmen in an experimental month-long "cram course" at Harvard University's John F. Kennedy Institute of Politics.

"It's kind of a Congressional Head Start program," explained the man providing many of the answers, Mark E. Talisman, 31-year-old administrative assistant to Rep. Charles A. Vanik of Ohio.

During a period when most of their newly elected colleagues are arranging to move, writing thank you notes or vacationing, the four participants started school this week. Their curriculum ranges from informal lectures on how to choose an office and file a bill to briefings on issues ranging from the economy to the environment.

In addition to Steelman and Miss Jordan, the other participants are 32-year-old William S. Cohen of Maine and Yvonne Brathwaite Burke, 40, of California. Miss Jordan and Mrs. Burke are Democrats, Steelman and Cohen are Republicans.

Mrs. Burke's arrival has been delayed because the California Assembly of which she is a member is still in session, Institute officials say.

Miss Jordan's expression of concern about the prospects of being addressed formally as "the gentlelady from Texas" brought a suggested solution from Talisman — a brief speech early in the session to make her wishes known.

The school this week held the first in a series of briefings on congressional procedures and matters of a housekeeping nature. Some major themes: new congressmen should learn fast what questions to ask, should assert their rights and be aware of the political consequences, and should learn the rules of the House soon.

"Is it possible to master the rules in your first term?" asked Steelman, whose Washington experience had been in White House staff jobs.

"No," responded Talisman, "but you can be familiar enough with them to ask the right questions, which will put you ahead of 90 per cent of your colleagues."

Such practical matters are to be covered for the four congressmen-elect, who will get briefings on such subjects as how to set up their offices and pick staffs, deal with lobbyists, and write "dear colleague" letters seeking cosponsorship and support.

But they're balanced with a rich collection of briefings on substantive issues.

Physicians Said Too Objective

CHICAGO (AP) — Physicians at times view their patients as objects rather than as human beings, a Canadian radiologist says, and he suggests that the physician may remedy the tendency by spending some time himself in the doctor's waiting room.

Dr. J. Scott Dunbar of Vancouver, B.C., made the comments in the December issue of The American Journal of Roentgenology, Radium Therapy and Nuclear Medicine.

"Radiologists and other physicians become engrossed in the organizational and administrative aspects of their tasks so that the individual human beings who appear in radiologic departments are in danger of becoming faceless objects in a production line rather than individual persons seeking attention," Dunbar wrote.

A solution, he said, would be for doctors to take on the role of the patient occasionally.

Physicians should "go through the experience of being a patient in a busy, overcrowded outpatient department or stay in a shoddy, understaffed hospital once in awhile," he suggests.

Investigate Accidents, Auto Thefts

A 14-year-old Sedalia youth was hospitalized early Saturday morning following incidents including the alleged thefts of two autos and accidents involving six cars.

The youth, who was not identified, was admitted to the hospital with possible head injuries and lacerations. His condition was listed as not serious Saturday evening.

According to information available Saturday afternoon, two different juvenile drivers were thought to be involved in the accidents, one of them the injured boy.

Police said the series of events began when Elsie Zaremba, 1400 East Seventh, reported the theft of her 1960 Chevrolet sedan from her residence at 1 a.m. She told police a youth, who she believed took the auto, had asked her permission to use it earlier in the day, but she refused.

A few minutes after 1 a.m., police found the car in the yard at the residence of Mrs. Emma McCorkle, 1503 East Seventh. Mrs. McCorkle told The Democrat-Capital that the car was eastbound on Seventh when the driver attempted a right turn onto Porter, but apparently lost control of the vehicle, which came to rest on a stump in her yard. She said two boys ran from the car before police arrived.

A 1970 Buick owned by Emmet E. Yeager, 58, Denver, Colo., was struck and damaged on the right side while it was parked on Porter, 28 feet north of the intersection with Seventh. Police said the 1960 Chevrolet sedan driven by the juvenile collided with it before coming to rest in the McCorkle yard.

William Jeffries, 731 East Fifth, reported a 1960 Chevrolet sation wagon stolen from that address and police received a report at 1:25 a.m. of a hit-and-run accident in the same block. A 1967 Ford Mustang, owned by Franki W. Summers, 41, Ontario, Canada, a visiting missionary from Jamaica, was struck while parked on the north side of the 700 block of East Fifth. Police said they believe the vehicle responsible for the crash was the stolen Jeffries Chevrolet.

A three-car collision in the 200 block of East Fifth ended the half-hour spree as the westbound stationwagon, operated by a juvenile, collided with a parked 1970 Pontiac owned by Frank R. Wise, 33, Route 2, and an eastbound 1970 Pontiac driven by Juanita Steinkuhler, 51, 1009 South Ohio.

Police chased at least one youth and he was taken into custody on the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. lot in the 200 block of East Fifth. An ambulance was called to take the youth to Bothwell Hospital. Officer John McNeese suffered an apparently minor injury to his right leg when he jumped over a shrub during the chase.

Symington, Eagleton Headed For Bulgaria

Sen Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., also was in the party.

The Americans met with representatives of the Yugoslav parliament and other top political leaders and discussed international problems and mutual relations. They also visited a Belgrade tractor and machine plant.

The group is scheduled to visit Sofia, Bulgaria; Bucharest, Romania, and Prague, Czechoslovakia.

Salvation Army Needs Volunteers

More volunteer help is being sought by the Salvation Army to man the "Christmas kettles" in the downtown area, it was reported Saturday.

The Business and Professional Womens' Club, Golden Agers Club, Job's Daughters, Jaycees, Rod and Gun Club Auxiliary, Veterans of World War I and their Auxiliary are presently participating, according to Maj. Marjorie A. Weber, commanding officer of the Salvation Army here.

Contributions placed in the kettles, or checks mailed to the Salvation Army headquarters, all go into a fund designed to make Christmas a "happier holiday for many people who might otherwise be left out," she said.

Shotgun Blast Injures Youth

Mikel Proffit, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Emmett Proffit, 1412 South Osage, told Pettis County Sheriff's Deputy Don Stratton Friday afternoon that he accidentally shot himself in the right foot with a 12-gauge shotgun while hunting in the Old Covered Bridge Park area.

Proffit and another youth were rabbit hunting and Proffit said he was trying to unload his gun when it went off, striking him in the foot.

He was listed in good condition Saturday at Bothwell Hospital.

Peron Says He Would Resign

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Juan D. Peron, nominated by his Peronist party for president in elections next March, said Saturday he would resign his candidacy "if this would contribute to the benefit of my country."

The 77-year-old former dictator spoke to a crowd of 160 foreign newsmen at his first news conference since Nov. 17 when he returned after 17 years of exile.

He did not elaborate on his political plans for the elections called by the country's ruling military junta for March 11.

Technically, Peron cannot run for office. The government had set last Aug. 25 as the date for Peron to return to Argentina if he wanted to run for office. Peron ignored the deadline and the military government ruled him out of the running.

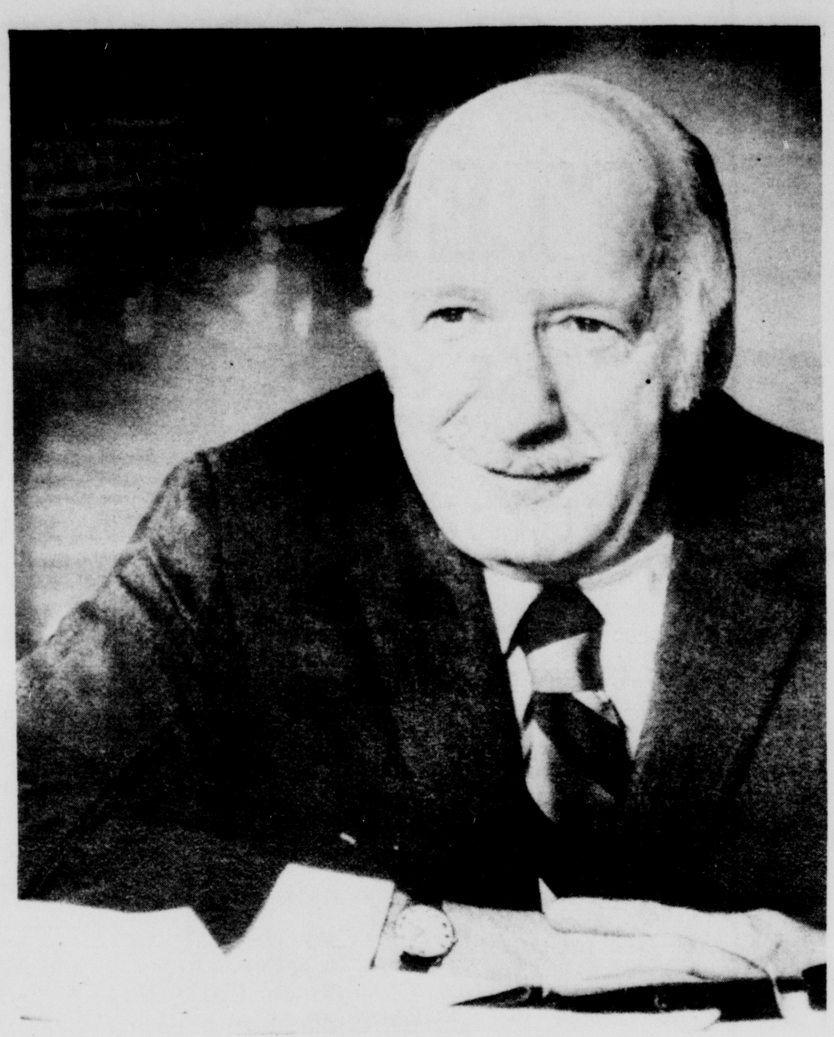
Peron was asked for his opinion about half a dozen guerrilla groups operating in Argentina, including four that claim to be Peronist.

"It is a natural escape for repressed people and a reaction against oppression," Peron replied, and he cited the Hungarian revolt against Soviet domination as an example.

Concerning the coup that forced him into exile in 1955, Peron said, "We were not overthrown by the Argentine people; it was by foreign interests allied with Argentines working for those interests. Upon my return I have affirmed again that the best we have is the people. It is a pity, for us, that the governments are unable to rise to their ambitions."

Much of the hour-long news conference involved Argentina's economic problems.

Argentina needs technical and financial help from "the so-called, superpowers," Peron said, "but we must do this in a modern form. We cannot accept the importing of manufactured goods; we should import the factories."



Treasurer Candidate

Joseph E. Cole, 57, a prominent industrialist in Cleveland, Ohio, said Saturday that he has been offered the post of treasurer for the National Democratic Party "by representatives from all segments of the party. I'm considering the possibility, but I definitely have not yet made a decision." Cole, chairman of the board of Cole National Co., said he would make his decision before Dec. 9, when the national committee meets to pick its officers. Earlier this year he served as chairman of the NDC to raise campaign funds for Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

Shot Injures Youth

The bullet struck Mark Walter Thomas in the abdomen, authorities said.

Get-Tough Policy With Labor Noted

ROME (AP) — Premier Giulio Andreotti's government is showing signs of a new get-tough policy with labor on the eve of weather vane local elections.

Four million Italians will ballot Sunday against a background of rising prices and crippling strikes that have brought the country to the brink of an economic recession. It is the first election since Andreotti's center government took office last June with a pledge to ease labor and social unrest. The premier has asked voters for a show or support to help his government attack Italy's problems.

Twice in the past 24 hours the government and police intervened in labor disputes to restore essential services at Italy's strikebound airports. With the contracts of four million Italian workers up for renewal this year, the airports have become labor battlegrounds in a country where the right to strike is guaranteed by the constitution and police rarely intervene.

Police were called out Friday to Milan's Linate Airport after striking ground workers blocked a runway with cranes and trucks. Tommaso Passeretti, airport director, said the strikers' action jeopardized incoming flights and the public safety.

Last month striking ground workers at Malpensa Airport in Milan held 155 passengers captive aboard an airliner for several hours. Airport officials finally went to a judge and got him to sign an order directing the strikers to release the loading ramp so the passengers could get off the plane.

The ground workers, who are seeking a new national contract, have been striking intermittently for months at airports across Italy. But authorities for the most part have done nothing. While harried passengers tote their own luggage and wait for hours for flights delayed — and often canceled — because of the ground strikes.

A 20-week-old strike by Fiumicino Airport's bus drivers has made it as difficult to leave the airport for the city 18 miles away as it is to land.

But the government, apparently fearing the loss of tourist revenue, has stepped into the dispute and ordered the drivers to return to work.

FOOLING AROUND IS USUALLY FOOLISH

Especially when you don't feel well. That's when it makes no sense at all to fool around wasting time, trying to make excuses for not seeing—or at least phoning—your doctor. All too often, what may seem to be nothing more than just a "minor' stomach upset or a "mild" fever can actually be a signal that something is seriously wrong in your system.

The penalties for neglecting such signals can include prolonged confinement at home, lost time (and wages) from work, hospitalizations, etc. But these penalties can usually be avoided if you will remember to resist "fooling around" and will instead, seek the advice of your doctor whenever you aren't feeling well.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine and we will glady deliver it without charge. If you prefer, you may pick it up at our drive up window. We keep accurate records for tax and insurance purposes. We carefully fill welfare prescriptions and deliver or mail free of charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Warrensburg Youth Suffers Fatal Injuries

(Democrat-Capital Service)

WARRENSBURG — A 14-year-old boy died here Friday afternoon in the Johnson County Memorial Hospital. According to an autopsy report, blows to his head received in a fight at the Warrensburg Junior High School before classes Wednesday were the cause of death. The report cited brain damage as the main factor.

Police Chief Gene Burden said that from accounts by witnesses and autopsy results it is believed no weapon, other than another juvenile boy's fist, was used in the assault.

Dead is Peter Mitchell, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mitchell. Young Mitchell had been on life support systems at the hospital since Wednesday because he could not control his own breathing, according to Burden. The boy never regain consciousness.

Burden said Saturday that the fight broke out in the gymnasium of the school building before classes Wednesday.

He said one teacher was at the other end of the gym but attributed the scuffle to youngsters crowding out of the room as a first-class warning bell had just sounded. "I don't want to make it sound trivial, but it was just one of those fights kids get into at school," he added.

According to the police chief, another juvenile boy struck Mitchell, but only with his fists. One source told The Democrat-Capital the other youth will be brought up for a hearing Friday in Johnson County Juvenile Court. The police have no one in custody in connection with the incident, Burden said.

Police Investigate Break-Ins

Two break-ins and an incident of vandalism were reported to Sedalia police Friday and Saturday. Items taken in the break-ins were valued at over $440.

A break-in at the Mattingly's store, 218 South Ohio, was reported to police at 7:58 a.m. Saturday. Police said two bricks were thrown through a plate glass window and a hole "large enough for a man to crawl through" allowed someone to gain entrance.

Store manager Don Stratton said 16 watches, valued at $174, were apparently the only items taken. The thermo glass window was valued at $125.

Mrs. Mary A. Butler, 625 South Lafayette, told police Friday morning that someone had broken into her residence and taken several articles sometime between Monday and Friday morning.

Police said someone apparently broke out a glass pane on the rear porch and reached through to unlock the door. Pry marks were found on another door but entry was not gained there. Blood was found near the broken glass, police said, indicating the burglar probably cut himself while gaining entry. All rooms had been ransacked.

According to Mrs. Butler, the items taken are valued at more than $270, including a clock, glass dome clock, records, pennies and half-dollars, Christmas gifts, canned food, a transistor radio and three nightgowns.

W. W. Hogan, manager of The Handiest Coin-O-Matic, 313 North Osage, reported vandals broke a neon Pepsi Cola sign at the laundry sometime Friday night or Saturday. A police spokesman said a rock or bullet is believed to have caused the hole in the bottom of the sign.

Police Charge Students

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — Police charged students who shouted anti-Bangladesh slogans Saturday and interrupted a public address by President Zulfikar Ali Bhutto.

After repeatedly telling the students to let him speak at a public meeting in Abbotabad in Northwest Frontier Province, Bhutto ordered police and members of his People's party to bring them on the stage with him.

According to reports from Abbotabad, six students were injured in the melee but when they reached the stage, Bhutto embraced and kissed them.

He told the crowd. "I have a right to speak and no one will take it from me."

Bhutto said he had every sympathy with the injured students and a doctor was ordered immediately to treat the injured.

The president was on the next-to-last day of his 11-day tour of the province during which he has complained numerous times the political opposition is trying to disrupt the program.

The students had chanted "we don't accept recognition of Bangladesh." Bhutto throughout the tour has been insisting that Pakistan eventualy must recognize its former eastern region.

Investigating Shooting Report

RED LAKE, Minn. (AP) — The FBI in Minneapolis said Saturday it was investigating a report of a fatal shooting Friday night on the Red Lake Indian Reservation.

FBI agents were sent to the reservation Saturday morning.

Francis Blake, who described himself as a member in Minneapolis of the American Indian Movement, said Brian Desjarlait, 15, was shot to death by a policeman. Blake said a shotgun was used.

Authorities refused comment on the report.

Question

I can remember as a young men that funeral services for friends of our family were always held in their own homes. Why isn't this done anymore?

Answer

The home, in this era, was traditionally the center of all family activity: birth - life and death. Eventually well equipped service facilities began to take over these functions. Hospitals, schools and funeral homes assumed these home responsibilities.

Our modern, well equipped funeral home is a product of this social change. We have become a home away from home for those who lose a family member. We care for the deceased as he was formerly cared for in his own home; we provide rooms for visitations and for funeral service. in addition we have added facilities not usually available in a private home such as parking, air conditioning, an organ, flower handling and particularly personal around the clock supervision.

Reunited at Last

Mrs. Diona Vircol and her son, Alexander, are surrounded by newsmen as they arrived at Chicago's O'Hare International Airport. Mrs. Vircol is the daughter of exiled Romanian poet Vasile Posteuca, who is dying of stomach cancer, and whose wish it was to see his daughter before he died. Up until now, Mrs. Vircol had been prevented from seeing her father because of red tape and the Iron Curtain. (UPI)

Wins Battle Against Red Tape

CHICAGO (AP) — Because of his anti-Communist sympathies Vasile Posteuca was forced to leave his native Romania, his young wife and two small children in 1941.

He spent a year in the infamous Nazi concentration camp at Buchenwald and did not see his wife, Zamfira, again until 1968. He never again will see the homeland about which he wrote widely published pastoral poetry.

This fall Posteuca, who had been teaching linguistics at Mankato State University in Minnesota, learned he was dying of stomach cancer.

Still, Friday night, the 60-year-old Posteuca praised God.

In his arms, he once again held his daughter, Doina Vircol, 34, who had waged a three week battle against red tape in Bucharest to obtain a passport allowing her to visit her father and family and fulfill one of his last wishes.

"My faith in God kept me from dying," Posteuca told the 30 reporters, photographers and television cameramen gathered around his bedside at Columbus Hospital to view the reunion. Also at his side was his wife, and his son, Doru, 33, of Kasota, Minn.

His doctors said Posteuca, 60, should have been dead two weeks ago; but, as he drew his gray, wasted body into a sitting position, he said, "I feel great; I never felt greater.

Mrs. Vircol's efforts to obtain a passport twice were stymied when authorities refused her a visa. Friends said this was because of her father's outspoken attitude against the Communist regime in Romania. Finally, a wave of public opinion embarrassed Romanian officials into granting her request.

Mrs. Vircol's visa is renewable for up to six months. Dr. Alexander Ronnett, Posteuca's physician and personal friend, indicated Mrs. Vircol would remain in the United States as long as possible.

With the reunion Posteuca's two final wishes were fulfilled. He had expressed a desire to become an American citizen; and Tuesday, in a surprise bedside ceremony, he took the naturalization oath.

Ronnett, who was with Posteuca at Buchenwald, was asked how his friend had fought off death for so long.

"Medically, he should have been dead two weeks ago," Ronnett replied. "But he looks upon death not as other people. He has faced death before ..."

Believe Bormann Is Alive

NEW YORK (AP) — The Daily Express of London reported Saturday that it has "incontrovertible evidence" that Nazi chieftain Martin Bormann escaped from the rubble of war-torn Germany to safe haven in South America and is living there now.

Bormann, Adolf Hitler's chief deputy, was sentenced in absentia to death by the Nuernberg war-crimes tribunal. Today, he is leading the life of a prosperous 72-year-old businessman but is kept under constant surveillance by Latin American secret-service agents, the newspaper said.

The article, written by Express Foreign Editor Stewart Steven, was distributed under copyright in the United States by the Chicago Tribune-New York Daily News Syndicate. The first installment in a series, the article appeared in Saturday's editions of The Daily News.

Steven says in the article that much of the evidence was collected by Ladislas Farago, an expert on Nazi affairs who plans to publish a book on Bormann next spring.

The article says Bormann reached Latin America "thanks to the protection of the Vatican, former Argentine President Juan Peron and some of the most powerful politicians and financiers in South America."

The article said that Bormann "bought South American presidents and governments and police departments, as others buy cars ... with gold and precious works of art smuggled from Germany to the Argentine even before the war ended."

Army Private Michael A. Teter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis V. Teter, Route 1, Smithton, has completed eight weeks of basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood. He received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military justice, first aid and Army history.

First Public Lottery Does Big Business

TRENTON (AP) — Business is booming for the first daily public lottery in the nation.

That was the word from lottery officials here Friday, when the 50-cent tickets went on sale in thousands of stores throughout New Jersey.

"They're selling extremely well," said Jerry Davis, a district office manager for the New Jersey Lottery Commission. "We're getting a lot of calls for more tickets."

New Jersey has had a weekly public lottery since January 1971 but went to a daily operation because of dwindling ticket sales. With daily offerings, the state hopes to increase public excitement and, for the first time, enter into direct competition with illegal numbers operations.

Daily tickets cost 50 cents, and payoffs will range from a high of $2,500 to $2.50.

'Mediums' Enlisted In Massive Hunt

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — At least nine mediums in various parts of the country are pooling their psychic powers to help locate a missing Cleveland Heights woman, and the woman's mother says she's hoping to enlist the aid of even more.

Particularly sought, according to Jane R. Lund of Kansas City, is psychic detective Peter Hurkos of Hollywood, who consulted with Massachusetts authorities in the Boston Strangler case.

But Mrs. Lund said that Hurkos, who asks a cash-in-hand fee of $5,000, won't be available until Tuesday. She thinks that may be too late.

Jane-Anne Lund, 26, a mother of four, has been missing for eight days, and although the mediums now working on the case say she's believed alive, "the impressions these people are getting is that she is in desperate need of help," Mrs. Lund said.

Merits of SCS Program Debated by Farmers

By RON JENNINGS
Democrat-Capital Staff Writer

The initials are nearly identical and they both stand for organizations dealing with soil conservation and water management practices. But the similarity between ASCS and SCS, at least in the eyes of many area farmers and agricultural leaders, ends there.

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) has been serving Pettis County landowners in financing and designing land improvement practices since its inception during the Depression. Now, in the wake of the recent forced resignation of ASCS project director Erwin Rumpf, plans are being completed to possibly replace him with employes of the Soil Conservation Service (SCS).

If this were to happen, the county ASCS office would then be solely concerned with providing federal financial assistance, or cost-sharing, to local landowners. Its dual obligation of field work would be eliminated.

Rumpf was forced to resign his post recently after being named a state co-chairman of the Farmers for McGovern organization. His leadership in this movement violated the Hatch Act, which forbids federal employes from actively participating in political campaigns.

At age 63, however, Rumpf had repeatedly indicated for the past few years that "he would step down soon" from his increasingly grueling pace. It was this announcement, along with Rumpf's increasing workload, that prompted the ASCS county committee to take the first step in establishing a county SCS program by circulating petitions calling for the establishment of a soil and water conservation district in the county.

Obtain Petitions

According to Sam Hieronymus, chairman of the committee, the necessary 25 signatures from the county's 17 townships have been obtained and were delivered Friday to the Missouri Water Commission for routine approval. Once this authorization is received, a date will be set, probably in mid-December, for a public hearing on the matter.

Hieronymus indicated that he and other committee members are anxious to get this question resolved as quickly as possible because Rumpf's two temporary replacements, borrowed from the Saline County SCS office, are scheduled to leave Dec. 31.

Following this public hearing, a date will probably be set for a county-wide election in which all residents owning at least three acres of land may vote. They will vote not on SCS but rather on the establishment of a soil and water conservation district. If a voter approves the question, he will also vote to elect a four man committee, representing the four quadrants of the county. The committee will oversee the long-range program.

Can Seek Program

This four-man governing committee, which has a fifth member, the county extension agent as a permanent non-voting secretary, then may ask SCS officials to come in and establish their operations in the county.

According to a map supplied by Robert Best, director of county SCS operation with headquarters in Warrensburg, Pettis County is in the approximate middle of the largest bloc of counties in the U.S. not to have SCS operations.

"That's got to tell you something," Best said. "Not that many other counties could be wrong, could they?"

Hieronymus said the county committee feels it necessary to be removed from this minority status because "we're doing more and more conservation work...and we haven't got anyone at all to take (Rumpf's) place. We want the best for the farmers in the county and we feel this is the only way to continue."

Dick Dalton, county ASCS office manager, estimates it would probably take at least an entire working season or more to train the two replacements for Rumpf, which he indicated would be necessary because of the increasing amount of work.

Names Advantage

Conversely, Dalton said, "If we had SCS, they could just move two men in at almost a moment's notice."

The county ASCS also would benefit financially if SCS men were available to do project work, Dalton indicated. According to him, approximately $14,000 would have to be allocated to pay salaries that would attract two capable men. If SCS men were available, the ASCS would pay a flat rate of 5 per cent of their yearly budget for these services. This year, Dalton said, this figure would have been approximately $5,000.

A third benefit of SCS to area residents, Dalton said, is that "stake-out work" would be available free of charge to anyone and not just to those enrolled in cost-sharing ASCS programs as currently the case.

One other advantage of ASCS, which its detractors, however, feel is not pertinent to Pettis County, is that SCS project men are concerned with the "overall picture" of water management and soil conservation practices on a particular farm. Technically, the ASCS is concerned only with the one project, to the exclusion of all others.

Rumpf, ASCS promoters claim, has always gone beyond what was expected of him "and has never worked on a piece-meal basis."

No Other Choice

Hieronymus agreed on this point but added "If we could get another man like Erwin to step right in, we might stay with ASCS...but we just can't and the other advantages are so great that we think we should go ahead."

Hieronymus emphasized, however, that "we will only do what the farmers want us to do as expressed in an election. They will have the final say, not us."

Added support for the introduction of SCS in Pettis County comes from what might likely seem to be a surprising source — Rumpf himself.

"We really haven't got any choice," he said. Although declining to elaborate on his opinions because he feels "the farmers should make up their own minds and not let me make it up for them," Rumpf indicated he believed SCS "is the only way to go."

Some Find Fault

Expressing an opposite point of view was Merle Vaughan, a former county agent, who claims "in every county that has gone SCS, the quality and quantity of work has gone down terribly."

According to figures supplied by another opponent of SCS, county extension director Lloyd Lewellen, 150 Pettis County farms had terracing done in 1971 as compared to neighboring SCS counties. Henry County had 17 acres terraced and Johnson County 48, he said.

Best, however, said these comparisons "are not really meaningful because the counties are of different sizes.

Another area farmer, who requested anonymity, said "the records show that ASCS procedures and the way they have been formulated are better. If you weigh that against the record of SCS it doesn't look as good. There's something wrong when you've got practically more SCS men than there are jobs, and not enough ASCS men."

Cloyce Wilson, Route 3, opposes SCS because "it doesn't suit me. I takes so long to see the plans carried through. We've accomplished a lot and Mr. Rumpf has given me a lot of assistance."

At the core of the controversy, then, is apparent agreement. In the eyes of both parties, Rumpf has provided Pettis County farmers with capable, dependable and far-sighted assistance. How to best replace him? That, to all concerned, is the question.

"There's plenty of work for someone next spring," Dalton said. "We're ready to go with whatever the farmers decide and do the best we can under their decision."

Music Bargains Are Plentiful

By PETER WEAVER

If you have a music lover on your shopping list, there are some outstanding bargains to be found in records and tapes.

Unless you're a stereo freak, steeped in the lore of electronic sound, you're liable to be confused by the array of tapes and records for sale. There are long-play records from as little as $2 on up to $7. And, of course, there's the confusion about "eight-track" versus "cassette" tapes.

Which are the best buys? You've got to know the labels and have a smattering of technical background in order to find the bargains. To help sort through stacks of records and tapes, I talked with John Olsson and John McLynn. Both are musicians and both have been involved for years in the sale of every conceivable type of record and tape. Here's their guided tour:

RECORDS are, perhaps, your best source of entertainment bargains, especially if you like classical music. There's an enormous variety of records with all sorts of price tags. The list price for most popular "hit" records and first-line classical records is around $6.

But you can do much better than that. Look for special bargain labels and records that have been overproduced or discontinued. If you don't have a well-stocked discount record shop nearby, you may have to drive to the nearest urban center to do your shopping.

Bargains are plentiful this season at discount record stores. Look for such labels as Victrola (RCA), Stereo Treasury (London), Odyssey (Columbia), Turnabout and Nonesuch in the classical line. For example, you can get a two-record, long-play Victrola stereo album containing the complete Berlioz "Requiem Mass" by the Boston Symphony Orchestra for less than $5. The original RCA album sold for $12 and the quality is the same.

With "pop" records, look for "two fors" (two for the price of one) and special labels. Columbia's Harmony Series and United Artists' Sunset Series provide top artists on good-quality recordings for less than half the price of the so-called "top hit" records.

Steer clear of the very latest hits because you have to pay top price and record companies often rush records out so fast the pressing quality suffers. You get a high number of warped or "bubbled" records.

TAPES have to be purchased for the type of recorder player in use. There are cassette and eight-track recorders or "decks." The eight-track tapes are bigger and, according to the pros, much less versatile than the smaller, more flexible cassette tapes.

If you're considering buying a tape recorder or deck for stereo listening, the experts say you're much better off with the cassette-type system. Eight-track tapes cannot be turned back to relisten to a special piece. You have to hear it all the way through. Also, the eight-track cartridge wears out faster than a cassette because it cannot be relubricated.

Another advantage cassette tapes have over eight-tracks is the fact that you can use them in conjunction with an FM stereo radio to record your own taped music off the air. Cassette tape quality has advanced so much in recent months you can literally make better recordings off the air than those that come prerecorded. You must, however, have a good recorder and you must use blank tapes that cost at least $1.50.

Normally, prerecorded tape music costs from $6 to $7 for each cassette or eight-track. Classical listeners, however, can get excellent prerecorded tapes for less than $3 under such labels as Stereo Treasury, Vox and Nonesuch.

Sony and Panasonic have surprisingly good portable cassette-tape stereo sound systems (tape deck, AM-FM radio, two speakers) for around $200.

Sedalians To Attend Conference

Mr. and Mrs. Greg Connor, 2503 Anderson, and Mrs. Mary Kay Hunter, 624 East 14th, are expected to attend the annual meeting of the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Missouri Friday and Saturday at the Lodge of the Four Seasons, Lake Ozark.

Gustav Lehr, vice president of public affairs for MFA Insurance Co., Columbia, and chairman of the legislative committee of the Association, will be among those addressing the group Friday evening.

The Saturday morning speakers include Harold Edwards, executive director of the Association.

It was reported that Mr. and Mrs. Townsend Godsey, School of the Ozarks, will be presented an award for their contributions and services to the Cerebral Palsy program.

For the Fifth Time

Nixon Declines to Address Cities Group

By MICHAEL J. SNIFFEN
Associated Press Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — President Nixon has declined to speak to the National League of Cities for the fifth straight year and some NLC leaders think the resulting disappointment among members of the group that represents 15,000 cities may result in less support from them for the President's legislative goals.

"Definitely there is disappointment and perhaps even some resentment, and as a result these officials might be less responsive to the administration than otherwise," said Allen E. Pritchard Jr., executive vice president of the NLC and head of its Washington lobbying staff, as 3,000 city officials gathered here for the opening Monday of the League's four-day 1972 Congress of Cities.

White House spokesmen would not give a specific reason for the President's declining, but mayors close to the administration said they were certain he was too busy with the reorganization of his administration for a second term. And deputy White House press secretary Neil Ball rejected any notion that Nixon does not like the league, calling it "highly regarded, very constructive."

But Pritchard, who must continue to represent the league before the administration, said "Some of our members may think they're being used. They are cared about when they are needed to help pass a revenue sharing bill, but when something isn't hot, they're ignored."

Invitations also were declined by Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz, Commerce Secretary Peter Peterson, Transportation Secretary John Volpe and Office of Management and Budget Director Casper Weinberger. This will be one of the rare league meetings at which no Cabinet member is present.

The issue has risen before at the league's sister organization, the U.S. Conference of Mayors, some of whose members were upset when Nixon declined their invitation last July—becoming the first President since their group was formed in 1932 not to speak to the conference during a four-year term.

"When the guy in charge is not willing to talk to the urban officials," Pritchard said, "it really doesn't look much like the 'new federalism' the administration talks about."

Pritchard's disappointment was echoed by the president of the league, Atlanta Mayor Sam Massell, a Democrat who supported George McGovern against Nixon. Massell said, "It makes it that much more difficult to muster support for measures proposed by the administration."

Among pending presidential proposals which the league has supported are reorganization of Cabinet departments and consolidation of federal community development aid money into block grants, which Pritchard characterized as "issues the general public doesn't get excited about. The constituency for those bills has come from the governors, mayors and other local officials who have to make them work, who have something to gain from them."

The man most likely to succeed Massell as league president, Detroit's Mayor Roman Gribbs, a Democrat who also supported McGovern, said, "I am disappointed that the President and his Cabinet members cannot be with us, but I do not feel this will lessen the impact of the NLC on national affairs. When the time comes, we will as in the past make our voices heard."

Several mayors closer to the president politically found nothing to criticize in his declining the invitation.

Houston Mayor Louie Welch, president of the U.S. Conference, a vice president of the league and Texas cochairman of Democrats for Nixon, said he could fully understand that the president was busy with reorganization and he thought the other mayors also would understand.

Indianapolis' Republican Mayor Richard Lugar, thought by many to be the administration's favorite mayor and certainly the one most often tapped for special presidential notice and assignments, said, "I think the President's decision is related to his current problems of reorganizing his government; he will be preoccupied with determining how his government will be structured. No one is going to be offended by that."

Some NLC officials had hoped that Lugar's friendship with the administration might help obtain the first Nixon address. In his first term, Lugar consolidated city and county government here, a proposal strongly pushed by the administration as a necessary step in the solution of urban problems, and the mayor has been consistently high in his praise for the administration.

Lugar said he was hopeful the normal presidential telegram to the meeting "will give some clues to the President's thinking on reorganization, but it may be premature. As for the Cabinet members, many members of the administration don't know what the course will be yet. It puts whoever might come out here very much on the spot; he either speaks perfunctorily or if he goes beyond that on an issue that hasn't been decided yet in the White House then there could be a real danger of misunderstanding down road."

Parade Date Is Announced In Hughesville

(Democrat-Capital Service)

HUGHESVILLE — The annual Christmas parade, sponsored by the Community Betterment Club here, will begin in the downtown area at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

The entries, which include six floats, two bands, the Missouri Farm Bureau queen, the Northwest Saddle Club and American Legion Post 539 color guard, will line up at the Hughesville Baptist Church. The arrival of Santa Claus in the area will also be featured in the parade. Cash prizes are to be awarded the best entries.

Treats will be available for the children and free refreshments will be served at the Grimes Building. Entries will be accepted up to Friday, by calling Mrs. R.D. Gray, 826-1888.

Fund Drive At Whiteman Tops Its Goal

(Democrat-Capital Service)

WHITEMAN AFB — The Combined Federal Campaign here topped its goal last week. The five-week campaign ended Tuesday and saw collections total almost $23,000.

Proceeds from the campaign will be distributed to international and national health agencies, as well as United Funds in surrounding areas. In addition to the amount donated on the base, about $1,800 was given to the campaign by federal employes in Sedalia and Warrensburg.

Sedalia Collectors Invited To Show

Sedalia and area coin collectors are invited to participate in the Capitol City Coin Club's Coin and Stamp Show at the downtown Holiday Inn in Jefferson City, Dec. 2 and 3, according to Sid Pohlman, president of the Club.

Rare double-die Lincoln cents and other coin oddities will be on display, it was reported.

Q — I am wondering why there were only two voting booths at Hubbard School during the last general election. We saw at least three couples place their ballots on edge of the stage and vote for their candidates, with no privacy whatsoever. — A.R.M.

A — County Clerk Mrs. Mary Jane Wilson, who supervises the distribution of all booths and election supplies, said her booth distribution schedule was "based on the precedent of past years."

Mrs. Wilson said if you feel more booths are needed, she would welcome your request. She then will confer with the election judges in your precinct to determine if the request is valid. If it is, Mrs. Wilson said, "We will be happy to provide all the booths that are needed in any precinct or township."

Q — If the city is planning on buying its own ambulance with taxpayers' dollars, I would like to know if the taxpayers will be charged to ride in it?—M.C.

A — Mayor Jerry Jones said, "I assume some sort of charge will be made," but indicated that, because the idea is still in the formative stage, he could name no specific amount. "It's still merely an idea," he said. "Nothing definite has been worked out yet regarding charges."

Q — What can the city do to insure that taxicabs operating in Sedalia meet certain standards of safety and newness? Most of the cabs I have experienced are old, broken-down junkers. Also, are they adequately insured for passenger protection? — R.H.

A — No city ordinance stipulates that a taxi must be new, only safe. A city ordinance states that the chief of police is to maintain a continuous taxicab safety program on all taxicabs operated within the city. Police Chief William Miller said he accepts the mandatory state inspection of taxicabs as proof of safety.

Miller also said each taxicab company owner must file with the city clerk's office a certificate of public liability and property damage insurance covering each vehicle used by the business. A spokesman for the city collector's office said after the insurance application is approved by the city clerk's office, taxicab licenses are granted. The city ordinance stipulates that before receiving the license, each vehicle must be insured for $10,000 for injury or death to one person, $20,000 for injuries or deaths from any one accident and $5,000 property damage for any one accident.

Q — Is it necessary to have all those sirens before a parade? I attended the Veterans Day parade and was unable to hear the Smith-Cotton Senior High School band due to the many loud sirens immediately preceding the group. One siren to alert persons of the oncoming parade would be sufficient. I am not alone in this way of thinking, and would like to see sirens eliminated from the Christmas parade and future parades. — H.F.P.

A — Police Chief William Miller said one of the reasons sirens are sounded during parades is because "children get a kick out of hearing the sirens." He also indicated that in many parades, the parade marshals make a request for the sirens.

Miller said this is the first such complaint he has received about the use of sirens during parades, adding that in the recent Veterans Day parade, his siren was kept at the minimum noise level. Sirens will be heard during the Christmas parade, he said.

Sailor Says Admiral Main Target

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A congressional subcommittee investigating race relations and discipline in the Navy apparently "is out to get" Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr., chief of naval operations, says a petty officer from the aircraft carrier Constellation.

"They asked me questions about why I disobeyed a basic order and why I joined the protests, but they did't address themselves to the central problems of discrimination and inferior job assignments for blacks aboard the ship," PO 3.C. Michael Dawson of Detroit said Friday.

The three-man House Armed Services subcommittee was scheduled to wind up its current hearings on Navy race problems in general and the Constellation in particular Saturday. It will hold further hearings here Dec. 5 regarding a race riot aboard the carrier Kitty Hawk.

Dawson, one of 123 crewmen who were put off the Constellation Nov. 4 for complaining of discrimination and then refused an order to go back aboard, testified before the congressmen Wednesday but didn't discuss the matter with newsmen until Friday.

The hearings, which opened last Monday in Washington, D.C., and moved here the following day, have been closed to the public and the media.

Commander Of Plane Is Praised

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. B52 commander was credited by the Air Force Saturday with saving top-secret electronic equipment from falling into North Vietnamese hands by guiding his crippled bomber into friendly territory before it crashed.

"It was a masterful job," said one senior Air Force official, speaking about Capt. Norbert J. Ostrozny, 30, of Lackawana, N.Y., the aircraft commander. "He did it with sheer skill and bravery."

Earlier, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird sent congratulations to Ostrozny.

"He went beyond and above the call of service in order to bring that aircraft into Thailand after it had been hit and damaged," Laird said in Washington.

It was the first B52 reported lost as the result of enemy fire in 7½ years of operations in Indochina.

Ostrozny was not injured. But his navigator, Capt. Robert L. Estes, 32, of Abilene, Tex., was wounded by shell fragments that pentrated the aircraft; and the copilot, Capt. Philip Foley, 6, of Fair Haven, Vt., suffered a fracture of his right ankle when he landed in the dark.

The three other crewmen, all uninjured, were identified as Maj. Larry T. Stephens, 35, also of Abilene, the electronic-warfare officer; Maj. Adam Rech, 35, also of Abilene, the radar navigator, and S. Sgt. Ronald W. Sellers, 28, of Waco, Tex., the tail gunner.

Marijuana Hearings Scheduled

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Hearings are scheduled Dec. 18 before U.S. Magistrate Thomas D. Dwyer for four Waynesville high school students, including sons of two high ranking Army officers, charged with selling marijuana on Ft. Leonard Wood.

Thomas A. Stities, 17, son of Col. William Stites, base chief of staff, was charged with alleged sale of eight capsules of LSD in Waynesville Nov. 14, and alleged sale of marijuana on the post Nov. 19.

Scott Allan Collins, 16, son of Maj. Harold A. Collins, base chaplain, was charged with alleged sale of marijuana on the post Nov. 13.

Raymond Rivard, 17, Waynesville, was charged with alleged sale of marijuana on the base Nov. 13, also.

Jacob Weber, 17, Laquey, Mo., was charged with alleged sale of marijuana on the post Nov. 16.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Paul Anthony White filed the charges Friday and the youths were released to their parents after an appearance before Dwyer in Springfield.

An Army spokesman said military authorities investigated the case first, then turned their information over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which gave it to federal marshals.

Crunchy Meal

Residents on Milwaukee's south side were treated to an unusual sight Friday — a parrot eating frozen apples in an apple tree. The bird, which must have escaped from a pet store or his cage in some residence — refused to be lured from its perch. (UPI)

Jordanian Linked To Effort

BEIRUT (AP) — Beirut newspapers named a prominent Jordanian banker and a high-ranking army officer today as part of an unsuccessful attempt to overthrow Jordan's King Hussein last month.

The newspaper Al Moharrer identified the banker as Said Dajani, a Palestinian and a former cabinet minister who is manager of the Jordan Bank. He allegedly obtained $20 million from Libya for the conspirators.

He and Col. Rafei Hindawi of the Armored Corps, the alleged leader of the coup, have been arrested, the paper said.

Quoting Arab diplomatic sources, the leftist paper that supports the Palestinian guerrillas said 17 other officers also were arrested.

The officers planned to strike Nov. 6, a Moslem feast day that marks the end of a month-long fast, the paper said.

"The conspirators were to announce the downfall of the monarchy and proclaim a Jordanian Arab republic. But the word leaked to the royal palace, and the king quickly broke up the plot," Al Moharrer reported.

Reports of a coup against Hussein first were broadcast by Damascus Radio Nov. 15 but were denied in Amman the same day.

Creative Writing Instructor Dies

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Edwin L. Peterson, a teacher of creative writing at the University of Pittsburgh for 40 years, is dead at the age of 68.

Peterson, who retired as a professor of English in 1967, was an author and was instructor to such writers as Gladys Schmitt, Robert Musser Brown, Lester Goran and Peter Beagle, who dedicated his first book, "A Fine and Private Place" to his parents and "as it must be to Edwin L. Peterson."

Peterson is survived by his widow Helen, and a daughter, Peggy Peterson Hain of Warrensburg, Mo.

Say Whites Dominate Management

NEW YORK (AP) — Ninety-nine per cent of the managers and officials of Missouri television stations are white, according to a report on minority hiring by the United Church of Christ's Office of Communications.

The report said a study of 21 Missouri stations found a total of 98 minority employes — or eight per cent of the total jobs. The stations employ 1,248 full-time workers.

The study said there were two minority group employes in the officials and managers classification, 20 in professional positions, five in sales and 13 in technical work.

The report also said that the state's television stations employ 54 women in the same top four categories — 17 as officials or managers, 28 as professionals, three in sales and six as technicians.

Most of the 291 women working at Missouri television stations are employed in office and clerical jobs, the report said.

Increases In Prices Top News

By DAVID BURKE
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — News of rising industrial and consumer prices dominated the economic picture the past week, as steelmakers announced a broad range of price boosts and the government released its October cost-of-living report.

Bethlehem Steel Corp., the nation's second-largest steel producer, said it was lifting prices next year about 4 to 5 per cent on a number of heavy steel items which account for nearly half of its product line.

This move came on the heels of a similar announcement late the previous week by U.S. Steel, No. 1 steelmaker, and virtually assured an industry-wide trend. Later in the week, third-ranked Republic Steel Corp. followed suit, as did fifth-ranked Armco Steel Corp. and sixth-ranked Jones and Laughlin.

Hikes in steel prices, observers said, are generally felt in other fields and are expected to have reverberations in the construction and automobile manufacturing industries.

At the same time, the Price Commission said it was trying to hold the lid on rising lumber prices, which have climbed about 16 per cent in the past year.

Deputy Executive Director Peter Carpenter promised "significant action" against price control violators over the next few weeks.

About 30 per cent of the controlled lumber companies have been violating government price and profit reporting requirements, he said, while an unspecified number were illegally evading government guidelines.

Meanwhile, the Labor Department reported that consumer prices last month rose at a 3.6 per cent seasonally adjusted annual rate, below September's 6 per cent level but above Nixon administration targets.

Graham Outlines Improvement Plan

NEW DELHI (AP) — Billy Graham said today he is not "God's Dr. Kissinger" but spelled out a four-point plan for improving relations between the United States and India.

"I do hope that my trip here will illustrate both to the American public and to the Indian public that in the United States there is a tremendous reservoir of good will and love for India," the American evangelist told a news conference.

"The people of the United States have poured more money into India since the war than any other country in the world. And when a misunderstanding comes between friends, that can be made up rather quickly."

Graham said he had discussed with President Nixon the deteriorated relationship between the governments before coming to India, where he conducted a three-day crusade in remote Nagaland.

He refused, however, to disclose whether he was carrying a message from Nixon to Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, whom he is to meet Monday.

Frequent contacts between government leaders is one of the points of a program he said would bring relations between New Delhi and Washington to a more amicable level.

The other suggestions are more tourists in both countries, increased trade and exchange of ideas and philosophies, especially about religion.

There has been some controversy in India on the last point, especially among members of India's Communist party and the Jana Sangh, a right-wing Hindu nationalist party. The usual protest is that foreign missionaries are being used as espionage agents to subvert India.

"I would not try to engage in political activity, and the President would not want me to nor would he subject me to it," the evangelist said.

"I am not, as a cartoon appeared in one of the papers here, God's Dr. Kissinger. I must not go around the world trying to settle all the worlds problems."

Saloon Owner Leaves Huge Stock Fortune

CASTELLA, Calif. (AP) — Mike Padula, who ran a saloon in this small northern California town for much of his life, has left $1.5 million to a sister and her two daughters whom he never met.

The inheritance is in Lucky Stores supermarket stock. It will be split equally between the sister, Mrs. Wesley Gray Jr. of Monroe, Mich., and her two daughters, according to attorney Howard Jones.

Padula, 78 and a bachelor, also owned an undetermined amount of property that could be worth another $1.5 million, Jones said Friday.

No one seemed to know for sure how Padula amassed the fortune. He came to Castella in 1919, and his first job was as a busboy.

Padula died Nov. 4 and left instructions that his body lie in state in his saloon for a wake. It did. The long painting of scantily clad women behind the bar was draped in black while Padula was on view for an hour in a 500-pound copper casket.

James Padula, a brother, said at the funeral that Mike had not contacted or seen any of his 11 living brothers or sisters in 55 years.

American Identified In Manila

MANILA (AP) — Philippine authorities Saturday identified a second American, described as a sharpshooter, who they said had participated in a plot to assassinate President Ferdinand E. Marcos and pave the way for a coup d'etat.

"We have now in our custody one Edward Lehman, who has implicated a number of personalities — Filipinos as well as foreigners — in the series of assassination attempts," said Information Secretary Francisco Tatad. He said the man was a Vietnam war veteran, but gave no other details.

Tatad Saturday said evidence in the hands of the state indicates "there was a rightist conspiracy ultimately leading to a coup d'etat."

Asked to elaborate, Tatad said the plot was "political in nature, making use of some criminal elements and also, to an extent, making use of a Communist conspiracy."

He said the Filipino financiers and principal participants in the plot "are big Filipino names." He added that "this conspiracy was one of the immediate reasons" for Marcos' declaration of martial law Sept. 22.

Tatad said a Filipino and another non-Asian alien have been arrested in connection with the investigation but he did not name them.

Authorities said the man identified as Trackman had fled the Philippines, reportedly to Hong Kong.

Last Services For 308-year-old Church

NEWTON, Mass. (AP) — The First Church in Newton, a 308-year-old parish chartered 44 years after the Pilgrims landed, is holding its last service Sunday.

After efforts to merge with two other United Church of Christ parishes failed, First Church voted to sell its building to the Greek Evangelical Church and give its funds to several social and religious programs.

Young shoplifters don't see 'wrong'

The alarming growth in shoplifting is well known: $3.5 billion a year in losses, a 174 per cent increase in incidents of such crime over the last decade.

What is less known are the forces that make a shoplifter tick—why he or she steals. The stereotype here is of a middle-aged suburban matron who shoplifts compulsively, not out of any real necessity.

Such offenders do account for a large amount of losses from shoplifting, but another age group has been growing in significance: early teenagers.

According to the New York Times News Service, an increasing number of amateur shoplifters are boys and girls in their early teens, those in junior high school. Why do they steal?

To be "in."

"In junior high school shoplifting is a status thing," one student told a Times reporter. "You are out to prove you are groovy and you can make it. You brag about it on the school bus."

"It's like a game," said another.

One junior high student laughlingly ticked off a long list of things she had stolen in the past year: clothes, cosmetics, jewelry, candy, stereo tapes, etc.

Perhaps more alarming than the actual thefts is this amoral attitude of many young shoplifters. They see nothing dishonest or "wrong" with what they do, viewing the whole thing as just another way to beat the system.

Has there ever been a clearer indication of how we have failed our children? Where is parental discipline? Where is the church? Where is the old distinction between right and wrong?

Stealing is still wrong, whether done for gain by professionals or as a "game" by amateurs. Maybe we are reaping the harvest of neglecting to teach that simple truth.

President has great faith in Kissinger

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has such complete confidence in Henry Kissinger's negotiating skills that he stopped reading the complete transcripts of the secret truce talks long ago. He used to go over every word of the transcript until he found that Kissinger was responding with precisely the points the President himself would have made.

The President is particularly pleased with Kissinger's ability to keep the negotiations on the main track and not become distracted by side issues. Nor has he allowed the Communists to panic him into making hasty statements or agreeing to unintended concessions.

At the latest Paris meetings, Kissinger has placed great stress on international supervision at the very start of the cease-fire. He brought with him to Paris secret intelligence reports warning that both government and Communist cadres were preparing their forces for furious fighting to improve their positions between the time a cease-fire is declared and the time international supervisors arrive to enforce it.

As one captured Communist document declares, "the big guns will cease firing, but the small guns will still fire."

The biggest issue that Kissinger sought to resolve, however, was the presence of North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam. He has worked out a secret formula to reduce the number of North Vietnamese troops in the South. Under the proposal, Hanoi would deploy the bulk of its troops into evacuation areas. Eventually, they would be flown and shipped back to the North. Only 20,000 troops would stay behind to police the Viet Cong-controlled areas.

The trouble with this agreement is that Hanoi has maintained all along that no North Vietnamese troops are stationed in South Vietnam. Hanoi can't sign a public agreement, therefore, that it will remove troops it claims aren't there. And Kissinger has promised that all agreements will be made public. It's unlikely Hanoi will repudiate its past public statements. It's more likely that Kissinger will agree to a secret understanding.

Cuba's Fidel Castro changed his mind about negotiating a skyjacking agreement with the United States apparently because of the criminal violence involved in the latest air priacy.

The Cuban leader was reported to be upset over the trail of murder and robberies, left by four hijackers who took over an Eastern airlines plane in Houston last month and ordered it to Havana. This was followed by another shooting spree by three men who hijacked a Southern Airways plane in Alabama and forced it to fly to Cuba.

Castro slammed the hijackers of both planes in jail and suddenly showed an interest in seeking a way to stop the incidents.

The first evidence of his new attitude came in the form of a note, dated Oct. 29, and signed by Foreign Minister Raul Garcia. The note, delivered to the United States by the Swiss, reported the arrest of the men who hijacked the Eastern jet and expressed an interest in negotiating a skyjacking agreement.

Some of the big hospital chains are trying to charge off part of their normal administrative costs to the taxpayers.

Other profit-making companies must hire their own financial agents, lawyers and accountants; most also pay for their own stockholder reports, annual meetings and newsletters.

But some hospital chains want the taxpayers to help foot these bills. Since most investor-owned hospitals care for Medicare patients, the hospital officials contend that Medicare money should be used to defray administrative expenses.

The hospital chains, working through the Federation of American Hospitals, are bringing pressure on the Health Insurance Benefits Advisory Council. This is a committee of health-care professionals who advise the Social Security Administration.

But a Social Security spokesman told us pointedly: "We will consider HIBAC's recommendations, but we don't have to take their advice."

Indians have a ready answer for officials eager to prosecute them for demolishing the Bureau of Indian Affairs building during their seven-day sit-in. They cite a 1969 Interior Department regulation aimed at several Indian tribes in Oregon and Washington.

Posted after an Indian protest, the order reads that the Indian's own "structures. . . may be removed, demolished or otherwise disposed of, with or without prior notice." The order goes on to say that the cost of "such disposition shall be assessed against the person responsible for the structure."

Applying these standards in Washington, D.C., the Indians reason, they had a right not only to tear down the Bureau of Indian Affairs, which belongs to the Interior Department, but to assess the Nixon Administration for the cost of tearing it down.

One Indian leader has estimated, tongue-in-cheek, that even at minimum semi-skilled wages, the white House owes the Indians $4,000 for smashing the building and its furnishings. This, says the Indian, does not include overtime.

Principles at stake in union order

By JAMES J. KILPATRICK

WASHINGTON — An "Important Notice" turned up in my mail on Tuesday. It was not the friendliest communication that ever hit the desk. It came from the executive secretary of the Washington-Baltimore local of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA), and it read in part as follows:

Kilpatrick

"You and all AFTRA members are hereby ordered, pursuant to the resolution of the AFTRA National Board, to respect the picket lines of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) at CBS, or any other facility where programs or portions thereof are produced for broadcast over the facilities of CBS, and members are ordered to refrain from performing any broadcast or pre-broadcast services for CBS.

"This order is effective Tuesday, November 21, 1972, at 6:00 P.M. . .

"You are advised that any member who violates an order of the AFTRA National Board may be found guilty of conduct unbecoming an AFTRA member and shall be subject to disciplinary action."

Late that Tuesday afternoon, after I had thoroughly lost my temper and spent two glum hours with a melancholy lawyer, the AFTRA secretary telephoned: A New York state judge, acting on a petition brought by CBS, had just enjoined the union from enforcing this "order." The issue is thus in suspense.

But the issue will be back, and the issue transcends this immediate dispute between CBS on the one hand, and the two unions on the other. What is involved here is a conflict of principles. AFTRA's national board is defending the principle of union solidarity. Some of us on the other side are defending the principle of individual freedom. When it gets right down to the crunch, and it almost got down to the crunch on Tuesday afternoon, the principles cannot co-exist. Something has to give.

The problem arises from the contractual agreement between CBS amd AFTRA. This contains a provision that every "artist" employed by CBS, as a reporter, commentator, or otherwise, "is or will become a member of AFTRA in good standing." Several years ago, when I began serving as a conservative commentator on TV, the proposition was put to me squarely: Either I joined the union, in accordance with this union shop agreement, or I could stay off the air. Under protest, I joined.

I do not mean to make any flaming statements, but I love freedom, I despise compulsion. The effect of these union shop contracts is to deny freedom to the independent worker, in whatever field, who does not want to join the union. His chosen occupation may be thus closed to him absolutely; and this is true whether he is a grape picker in Bakersfield, who knows no other skill, or a TV commentator in Washington. Tribute must be paid to the union — or no job. Get in, or get out.

In the case of those workers who are actual members of a collective bargaining unit, and thus benefit willy-nilly from whatever benefits a union may obtain, there may be some defense for the "agency shop." Under the agency contract a worker pays union dues, but is not required to become a union member. But AFTRA does not bargain for Walter Cronkite or Eric Sevareid, or for that matter, Bill Buckley or me. We make our own contracts.

The aborted "order" from AFTRA carries particular danger in this area of the news. If AFTRA can use its disciplinary power in order to keep a particular expression of opinion off a network — if it effectively can throttle a voice — the First Amendment, to that extent, is a dead letter. Most members of AFTRA are liberals; I should think they would find it difficult to embrace so illiberal an action as this.

In any event, I cannot and will not obey the "order." If the injunction is lifted and AFTRA sends out a fresh notice, we will have to get into court, with compulsion on one side and freedom on the other, and find out whose orders at last will prevail.

With TV, no time for love

WASHINGTON — The subject of sex in marriage is no longer taboo, and more and more institutes have been set up to help married couples find sexual happiness together.

Buchwald

Dr. Henrico Belladonna, who runs the Clinic of Marital Bliss in Spring Valley, told me, "One of the big discoveries we psychologists have made is that not all sexual problems in today's marriages can be attributed to fear. Our studies indicate that fear now ranks only second as a reason for sexual hang-ups."

"What is No. 1?" I asked.

"I'll show you," he said. "I have a couple coming in now. Why don't you go over and sit in that chair and observe what happens."

A man and wife entered nervously and the doctor asked them to be seated.

Dr. Belladonna waited for them to say something. Finally the husband spoke up. "Doctor, we've come to your institute as a last resort. Our sex life seems to be on the rocks and we don't know what to do about it."

Dr. Belladonna said, "I would like to ask you a few questions. How often do you have relations each week?"

"Never," the wife said.

"Never?" Dr. Belladonna asked.

"It isn't that we don't want to," the husband said. "It's just that we don't seem to have the time any more."

"I see," said Dr. Belladonna. "Well, let's look into that. What's wrong with Monday night?"

"Oh," said the husband, "we can't on Mondays. That's the ABC Football Game of the Week. It's never over until midnight."

"You prefer watching football to making love?" Dr. Belladonna asked.

"That's a stupid question," the husband said angrily, "doesn't everybody?"

"Not EVERYBODY," Dr. Belladonna said. "Don't you find it strange that you prefer Howard Cosell to your own wife?"

"Are you trying to say I have homosexual tendencies?" the husband yelled.

"I didn't say that at all," Dr. Belladonna replied. "But it is true you'd rather watch 22 men knock each other down for three hours than make love to your wife."

"You're twisting things around," the husband said. "I can make love to my wife any time, but how often can I see a good football game?"

"All right, let's forget about Mondays," Dr. Belladonna said. "What about Tuesday night?"

"There's basketball to watch on Tuesday night. You want me to give up basketball, too?"

"I don't want you to give up anything. What about Wednesday nights?"

"He has hockey on Wednesday nights," the wife said.

"And Thursdays? Do you have anything to watch on Thursday nights?" Dr. Belladonna asked.

"No," said the husband. "But I'm pretty tired from staying up late on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. A guy has to rest SOMETIME."

"Fridays?" Dr. Belladonna asked.

"Friday is another basketball night," the husband said. "And Saturday night I like to get to bed early so I can watch the TV football games on Sunday afternoon."

"Well," said Dr. Belladonna, "that seems to take care of the week."

"Can you help us, Doctor?" the wife asked.

"It means a lot to us," the husband said. "We're willing to do anything to find happiness together."

Dr. Belladonna asked, "What are you doing for the rest of the afternoon?"

Forgetting

I think we're all too busy
As the days we hurry through
That we simply can't remember
All the things that we should do;
Now some may be successful
In making out a list
But I can make one, then I find
Things I need most I have missed;
There are people going on a trip
Who forget tooth brush or clothes
And some who leave them where they stayed
Then, of course, I have known those Who have made some special purchases
And afterwards just howl,
They are scared to write to the hotel
Because they swiped a towel;
There's the very upset hostess
With her food nice and hot,
Now should she serve or should she wait?
Because one guest forgot;
And the poor program chairman
Stews and frets while they wait,
To find the out-of-town speaker
Simply just forgot the date.
Men who forget anniversaries,
Or any special day,
Or to meet their little woman,
Find they're in a a real bad way;
But it doesn't seem to matter
We can think we won't and yet
There are times, because we're human,
That we simply just forget.

In religious allusions, the pelican is the symbol of the Body and Blood of Christ and of His atoning sacrifice, because the bird was popularly believed to feed her young with her blood.

Chiefs-Raiders Game Could Be AFC West Final

OAKLAND (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs are struggling and hurt, the Oakland Raiders hot and healthy going into their game Sunday which might settle the American Football Conference West title.

But the biggest factor, as always when these teams meet, will be pride.

"We could play the first half without the football and no one would notice," is the definitive quote, summing up the intense rivalry, made by a combatant after a Chiefs-Raiders game a few seasons ago.

Kansas City hasn't lost to Oakland since 1970. Last season, the teams played to a tie here and the Chiefs won 16-14 at Kansas City late in the season to clinch the division crown and advance to the National Football League playoffs.

Three weeks ago, quarterback Len Dawson, wide receiver Otis Taylor and running back Ed Podolak starred in a 27-14 Chiefs victory which put their team half a game up on the Raiders in the standings.

But since then, Kansas City has lost to Pittsburgh and San Diego while Oakland has beaten Cincinnati and Denver.

"We put ourselves in the hole and now we have to climb out of it," says Chiefs Coach Hank Stram, whose team practiced at Santa Barbara in Southern California the past week.

Dawson ranks third among AFC quarterbacks, behind Marty Domres of Baltimore and Daryle Lamonica of the Raiders, but had a rough day in last weekend's 27-17 loss to the Chargers. He completed only five passes for 29 yards before being replaced by Mike Livingston, who could be Sunday's starter.

Taylor suffered a rib injury early in last week's game that makes him a doubtful starter. He still leads AFC receiver, with 44 catches for 666 yards, and Oakland's Fred Biletnikoff is No. 2 with 42 receptions for 567 yards.

Podolak has been bothered by ankle and hip injuries, the main reason the Chiefs' rushing offense ranks only eighth in the conference.

Oakland has one of the hottest set of running backs in the NFL, Marv Hubbard and Charlie Smith, and has totaled more yards running, 1,665, than passing, 1,637.

Smith has had two straight 100-yard games and Hubbard, with 777 yards for the season, could become the first Oakland running back since 1963 Clem Daniels to gain 1,000 yards.

The Raiders are 6-3-1 with a chance to take a 2½-game lead over the Chiefs, 5-5. Oakland will close the season against San Diego, the New York Jets and Chicago. Kansas City finishes with Denver, Baltimore and Atlanta.

Buckeyes Upset Michigan To Earn Rose Bowl Spot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two brilliant goal line stands and the open field running of freshman Archie Griffin gave Ohio State a 14-11 victory over Michigan on Saturday. It gave the Buckeyes the Big Ten football co-championship with the Wolverines and a berth in the Rose Bowl.

The ninth-ranked Buckeyes matched Michigan's 7-1 conference record and will take a 9-1 over-all record against Southern California in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day

Griffin burst 30 yards for the clinching touchdown in the third quarter. His 18-yard gallop set up Champ Henon's one-yard plunge for the Buckeye's opening score.

An aggresive Ohio State defense lad by tackles George Hasenohrl and Pete Cusick and linebackers Rick Middleton and Randy Gradishar made the two touchdowns standup.

The Buckeyes twice thwarted Wolverine scoring threats in the shadows of their goal posts—once in each half.

An Ohio Stadium throng of 87,040 and millions more on national television saw Michigan take a 3-0 lead on sophomore Mike Lantry's 35-yard field goal early in the seond quarter.

The third-ranked Wolverines, suffering their first loss in 11 games, spent most of the dreary, rainy afternoon in Buckeye territory but could score only one touchdown.

Fullback Ed Shuttlesworth bulled one yard with nearly five minutes to go in the third period for Michigan's lone touchdown.

Ohio State fans could not wait to celebrate the avenging of a 10-7 loss at Michigan last year. They tore down the south goalposts with 13 seconds to go while the Wolverines were trying to work into scoring position.

The Buckeye partisans poured onto the field, and the clock was halted with six seconds to play. When the field finally was cleared, the Ohio State defense stopped Franklin at the Buckeyes' 41, and the fans encircled the team at midfield as time ran out.

It was a frustrating afternoon for the Wolverines, favored by six points to earn their third Rose Bowl trip in four years.

They moved the ball into Ohio State territory nine of the 10 times they had possession, but mustered only 11 points.

Meanwhile, the Michigan defense, the national leader against scoring yielded the most points this season. It was the first time in 1972 the Wolverines had leaked for two touchdowns.

Henson, the Buckeyes' 221-pound sophomore who was the national scoring leader going into the game, ran his touchdown total to 20, an Ohio State one-season record.

CMS Cagers Plan to Run

(Democrat-Capital Service)

WARRENSBURG — It will be a running affair. That is the best way to describe the new look of the Central Missouri State University basketball Mules as they get ready to open the 1972-73 season under new coach Jim Kampen. The Mules open the season this Tuesday at home against Arkansas Tech before taking to the road for games against Illinois State University Nov. 30 and the University of Missouri-St. Louis Dec. 2.

Ready or not the Mules will open the season playing the new brand of basketball Kampen brought with him from South Dakota Tech where last year his team won a conference championship with a 20-6 record. The Mules' players have been working since Oct. 15 on learning a new system. The big question surrounding the team has been whether the predominately veteran team, which includes five seniors and eight returning lettermen, can adapt, and if any of the newcomers can make a contribution to the team. For the most part Kampen seems to be optimistic on both counts. "We believe most of our players are making the transition pretty well. But you never know for sure until they are in an actual game situation," he said.

Kampen's biggest problem seems to be who will start at the guard spot in the opening game. Senior Rich Fohey, who started in all the Mules' games last season, will probably be at one spot. At the other backcourt position the main competition seems to be between senior Carl Matlock and junior Mark Rubenstein with freshman Jim Miller also in the running. Rubenstein is the best shooter of the three while Matlock and Miller are quicker and better defenders.

Also fighting to see game action for the Mules this fall is Doug Maple, a scrappy 5-10 freshman from Sedalia Smith-Cotton. Maple, who has the ability to run the fast-break offense with his speed, ball handling and passing ability, is one of three freshmen on the 15-man squad.

At the forward positions it appears senior Lamont Cooper (6-3) and junior college transfer Deon Kayhill (6-4) will get the nod along with center Bruce Tolbert (6-5) for the starting spots in the season opener. Other players who have looked good in practice and should see a considerable amount of action under the basket include senior Jack Rudor (6-7) and junior Dave Steward (6-5), Craig Shour (7-0) and Elroy Schumacher (6-7). Tudor will swing between the post and forward slots while Shour concentrates at center and Steward and Schumacher at forward.

The game against Tech should be an interesting one. What also makes it interesting is the fact that Tech is similar to Mules. They are not a big team, but will run and play a fast game. Tech will have three games under its belt when the Wonder Boys come to Warrensburg.

If the Mules had their choice, they probably would just as soon not go to Illinois State University at Normal. ISU has accelerated its program and is now a University Division team led by United States Olympic star Doug Collins, a 6-6 guard. On the way home from ISU the Mules play UMSL in Rivermen Hall in St. Louis. The Rivermen are coached by former Mule head Coach Chuck Smith (1965-66). Also, both of Smith's assistants have been associated with CMSU basketball. Dan Wall was graduate assistant here (1969-70) and Cozel Walker was an all-MIAA and all-American player for CMSU (1964-65). The games will be season openers for both ISU and UMSL.

Gremlins In Title Defense

(Democrat-Capital Service)

TIPTON — The Sacred Heart Gremlins, who now stand at 6-1 overall, go after their second straight Tipton Invitational Tournament title Monday night, when they face Tipton in the opening game of the eight-team event.

Battling against all odds last year, the Gremlins bounded from their fifth seed and upset their way to the championship. Key wins along the way came over Jefferson City and Eldon.

This year the Grems face the same situation, getting the fourth seed.

A win for Sacred Heart in the 6:15 p.m. Monday opener would advance them to the Thursday game against the winner of the Jefferson City-Otterville clash. Jefferson City, the lone Class L team in the event, faces Otterville in Tuesday's 8:30 p.m. tilt.

Two other games are on tap Monday. At 7:45 p.m., Fulton, who replaced School of the Osage in the tourney, will face Lincoln Lab. Fulton is seeded second. Eldon, third seeded, takes on Versailles Monday at 9:15 p.m.

The championship will be decided Friday at 9:15 p.m.

THEIR GOLF PAYS OFF

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth and Jane Blalock this year won more than $50,000 by mid-September on the Ladies PGA golf tour.

The LPGA reports Kathy's figure was $51,022 for 23 events through Sept. 18. Janie had won $50,231 while playing in 22 co-sponsored tour events for the same period.

Anderson One Of Top 100

Sedalia Smith-Cotton's standout senior center, 6-9 Kim Anderson, has been named as one of the 100 best high school basketball players in the United States by "Popular Sports Basketball" magazine.

Anderson was one of only two Missourians named to the 100-man list. Reuben Shelton, a 6-4 product of St. Louis Northwest, is the only other cager from the Show-Me state honored by the national publication. Only one Kansan made the list. He was Paul Pearce of Shawnee Mission Northwest, Shawnee, Kan.

The magazine also predicted four all-america prep teams, but neither of the Missourians was included.

Anderson, who averaged 26.8 points a game during the season last year, led the Central Missouri Conference in scoring in 1972 with a 21.6 average. A first-team all-state selection as a junior, he also averaged 16.7 rebounds a contest last season.

Eken Makes Team At USAF Academy

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — Jim Eken, former prep star at Lincoln, Mo., has earned a berth on this year's Air Force Academy varsity basketball squad, it was learned this week.

The 6-4, 195-pound sophomore forward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Truman C. Eken, Lincoln, led the academy's freshman squad in both scoring and rebounding last year with 17.5 tallies and 11.2 caroms a game. He shot better than 50 per cent from the field.

An all-state choice at Lincoln, where he lettered three years in basketball and four years in baseball, Eken is joined on the Air Force squad by four seniors, two juniors, four sophomores and three freshmen.

The Falcons will open the 1972-73 campaign on the road Dec. 2 against the University of Colorado at Boulder. The majority of the 25-game Air Force schedule is composed of Rocky Mountain teams, but the Falcons will play in two holiday tournaments in Morgantown, W. Va., and Evansville, Ind.

Versailles Falls Victim To Clinton in Close One

By WARREN RIPLEY
Staff Sportswriter

VERSAILLES — Four players hit in double figures for the Clinton Cardinals as they downed the Versailles Tigers here Friday night in cage action, 58-49.

Until the final moments of the game, the outcome was a toss-up for neither team could gain a clear-cut advantage. The score was knotted many times throughout play, especially in the third period.

Versaille's 6-3 junior pivotman Doug Anderson and Clinton's Brown, a 6-5 leaper, fought for control of the boards and hit for 16 points each for their respective teams while battling each other for every rebound and shot.

Clinton grabbed the lead at the end of a see-saw first quarter, 14-11. With 4:47 left in the second stanza, Versailles took the lead for the first time, 15-14. The Tigers held on to their advantage throughout the rest of the initial half and led at intermission, 26-22.

The Tigers played strong defense throughout the night against their taller Cardinal opponents. Ball-handling miscues plagued both teams during the contest, a problem which eventually proved most serious for the Tigers.

A 2-2-1 zone press was Tiger Coach Larry Pummill's stratagem in the third quarter. It worked well but cold shooting kept the Tigers from breaking away. The score was tied four times during the period and it ended at one of those times, 37-all.

The final period was also an up-and-down affair until, with 4:36 remaining, the Cards made their move. The opportunistic Redbirds hit five consecutive field goals without retaliation from the Bengals to open up a big lead.

The Tigers during this time were having problems hitting the bucket although their pressure defensive play was netting them opportunities to score. But the home five just couldn't cash in on the fruits of their labors.

With 1:10 remaining the Cardinals had forged ahead 52-43 but the way the game had been going, even this lead seemed a bit precarious. The home squad could get no closer, though, and the Clinton five tucked away the victory.

The Cardinals made it a sweep when they also took the jayvee match by a 55-43 decision.

Larry Daulton, who had been besieged by a bout with the flu earlier in the week, played a strong overall game for the Tigers. Clinton's 6-3 front-liner Titus also played a key role in the game's outcome.

Scoring

In Championship

Host Montrose Against Ballard

(Democrat-Capital Service)

MONTROSE — Ballard was to meet host Montrose in the title contest of the Montrose Holiday Tournament last night following the third place contest between Hume and Sheldon.

Ballard shelled Sheldon 66-27 Friday evening to advance in the four-team tourney while the home-court Bluejays blasted Hume, 91-52.

Steve Abraham paced the Bulldogs with a blistering 42 points, scoring 14 of his team's 15 points in the first stanza. Abraham netted most of his total through short jumpers.

Montrose pushed their record to five wins without a loss with their defeat of the Hornets. Larry Jurgensmeyer was high-scorer in the game with 28 but four other Bluejays were also in double figures. Jim Phillips pumped in 20 for Hume's best effort.

The Montrose press provided the big edge in the contest.

The third place contest was to be a rematch of a game played earlier this season when Sheldon won by a meager two points.

The Bulldogs last night were seeking to boost their record to five wins against two defeats for the season while Montrose was defending an unblemished record.

Scoring

Montrose (91) — Jurgensmeyer 28, Cook 14, Mayer 12, Schessler 11, Brownsberger 10, Vogel 8, Fluty 4, Westhusing 2, Cannon 2.

Jaynes' Arm Did It

Jayhawks Capitalize On Mizzou Defenselessness

By ROBERT MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUA, Mo. (AP) Underdog Kansas found a Missouri weakness—pass defense—and Dave Jaynes capitalized fully on it as the Jayhawks whipped the fumbling Tigers 28-17 Saturday in the Big Eight Conference football finale for both teams.

A crowd of 46,000 watched the contest played in a drizzling rain on a muddy field under gray, low-overcast skies.

Jaynes pulled Kansas from behind three times with his passes. He threw for two touchdowns, 40 yards to Marvin Foster and 20 yards to Bruce Adams, and scored once himself on a 1-yard sweep.

Jerome Nelloms got the other Kansas touchdown on an eight-yard romp after Jaynes' aerials had set the Jayhawks up with a first down at that point. Bob Helmbacher, who converted once, kicked a 27-yard field goal for Kansas.

The 16th-ranked Tigers, who lost three of five fumbles and had three interceptions, got both their touchdowns on passes to Jack Bastable, one on a 67-yard pitch by John Cherry and the other on a 20-yard halfback option toss by Chuck Link.

Greg Hill, whose late-game field goals won three earlier tests for Fiesta Bowl-bound this season, gave the Tigers a short-lived three-point lead with a 30-yarder with the game less than six and a half minutes old.

He also kicked two extra points.

Jaynes completed 16 of 36 passes for 259 yards.

Kansas' victory made the Jayhawks' Big Eight 2-5 and kept them from sliding into a tie with Kansas State for last place in the league. Kansas finished 4-7 over-all. Missouri ended its regular season 3-4 in league play and 6-5 against all opposition.

Jaynes, a junior, turned in his second-best performance ever. His 259 yards brought his career collection to 3,001, breaking the school record of 2,982 set by Bobby Douglass, now with the Chicago Bears, in 1966-68.

Interceptions, fumbles and poor kicking on this dull, gray afternoon set up nearly all the first-half scoring, when Kansas gained a 16-10 advantage.

Dean Baird's interception of a Cherry pass started Kansas on the way to its first touchdown at the Jayhawks' 47. Jaynes found Adams with the 40-yard touchdown pass on the fourth play.

Helmbacher's field goal on the fourth play of the second quarter came after Denny Lantz intercepted Cherry's pass and returned it 29 yards to the Tiger 17.

The Tigers struck right back, moving 69 yards on three plays with Cherry unloading the 67-yarder to Bastable.

Kansas rolled 62 yards with six and a half minutes left in the second period, the big gainer Jaynes' 28-yard strike to Emmett Edwards, who fell down in the mud at the eight. Nelloms took it the rest of the way on the next play.

Missouri, looking like the team that upset ranked Notre Dame and Colorado in late October, lost no time moving the second-half kickoff to a touchdown to a regain the lead, 17-16.

Dave Johnston returned the kickoff 26 yards to the Kansas 41. Cherry broke through for 26 yards to the 15. After Ray Bybee failed to gain, Link pitched to Bastable in the end zone.

That was Missouri's last bid for a victory.

Kansas, with Jaynes throwing deadly passes, piled two touchdowns into the final seven minutes of the third quarter. The Jayhawks marched 55 and 54 yards on the two drives.

At Winter Meetings

Mets, Bucs Expected To Trade

HONOLULU (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Mets, both in need of pitching strength, probably will be the most trade-minded teams at baseball's annual winter meetings here, starting Monday.

The major target is Steve Carlton, the 27-game-winning pitcher of the last place Philadelphia Phillies and winner of the Cy Young Award as the best pitcher in the National League.

Club owners meet here primarily to conduct baseball business, but most of the action takes place in the lobbies and ante rooms where trades are consummated.

The Phillies, with Carlton as bait, are hoping to pick up three or four players to strengthen key positions. They recently were involved in a seven-player deal with the Milwaukee Brewers.

Last year at the winter meetings in Phoenix, Ariz., the major league teams exchanged 53 players in 15 deals. A total of 18 teams were involved in the trade-happy week, by far the most explosive in the sport's history.

Since the World Series in October, more than a score of players have changed teams.

Pittsburgh might be willing to offer a package of four or five players for Carlton and another Phillies' regular.

The Pirates, who need a first-class shortstop along with a strong starting pitcher, have several available players because of their deep bench strength. Second baseman Dave Cash might go along with first baseman Bob Robertson, outfielder Gene Clines, pitcher Bob Johnson and catcher Milt May.

The Mets, who recently traded away Gary Gentry, are in the market for a starting pitcher. They've shown interest in Chicago's Bill Hands and would probably be willing to part with outfielder Tommie Agee, catcher Jerry Grote and second baseman Ken Boswell in a multi-player deal that also involved Cub center fielder Rick Monday.

The Baltimore Orioles need a catcher and the New York Yankees could use a left-handed slugger. The Yankees continue to show interest in Baltimore's Boog Powell.

The Oriole slugger, along with pitcher Mike Cuellar, could be with the Yankees before the week is out. One report has catcher Thurman Munson, among others, going to the Orioles, for those two.

Andy Messersmith, California's fine righthander, is coveted by the Boston Red Sox.

"It seems certain that both the Red Sox and Angels will make a major deal at the winter meetings in Hawaii," said a source close to the Boston team.

Harry Dalton, the general manager at California, desperately needs a power hitter. He's interested in outfielder Reggie Smith, who might be one of those first made available by the Red Sox.

Smith, who had his differences with some of the Red Sox players and at times refused to talk to the press, is also rumored headed for the Cubs.

Reveal Kaysinger Statistical Leaders

LaMonte's Darrell Oswald is the leading scorer and Smithton's Rusty Templemire is the loop's leading shooter and rebounder in statistics of Kaysinger Conference action through Nov. 20. The figures are unofficial since Warsaw did not submit a report, according to Bob Shackelford, league secretary.

Oswald has pumped home 133 points for LaMonte so far, for a 22 points-per-game average.

Templemire has whistled in 42 of 61 field goal attempts for a 68.8 field goal percentage. He's also made good on 88 per cent of his 42 free throw attempts. His 80 rebounds in six games so far in the young season is also a loop standard.

Deer Figures Up to 19,994

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Missouri hunters killed 4,881 deer Saturday, the next to last day of the season, the state Conservation Commission reported, bringing the season total to 19,994.

Texas County still leads in total hills with 845, followed by Howell County with 659 and Gasconue County with 589.

Saturday and Sunday both does and bucks were legal game, except in the bootheel.

Hazelwood Ties KC Southwest

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Quarterback Dan Allison whipped a four-yard pass to John Thompson with 7:35 left in lifting Hazelwood High to a 6-6 tie with Kansas City Southwest in finals of the Missouri 4-A football playoff Saturday.

The touchdown play climaxed a frustrating afternoon for both clubs, which were hampered by muddy conditions on Washington University's Francis Field.

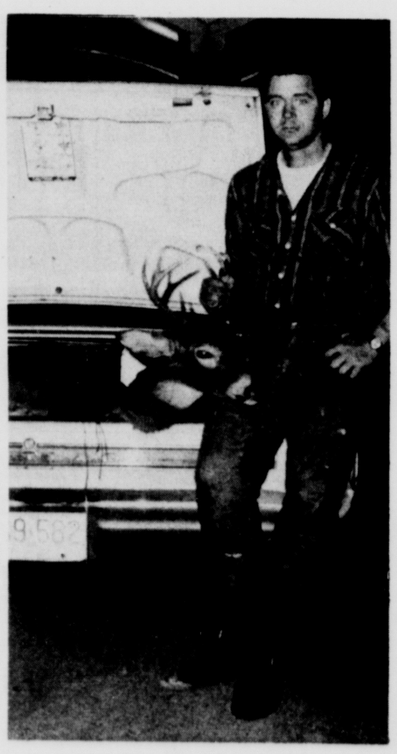
Usually reliable placekicker Ken Seaman missed the try for the extra point following Hazelwood's touchdown, and both he and Southwest's Steve Haigh missed late field goal tries.

Southwest, finishing its season at 9-1-2, scored the first time it had the ball on a 55-yard drive started with a pass interception.

Don Sloan ran eight yards for the touchdown putting the Indians in front 6-0 but was swarmed under by tacklers while attempting to run for two extra points.

Hazelwood then mounted a threat in the second period only to have an offensive pass interference call set them back to the Southwest 25. A Seaman field goal try from the the 32 failed.

Hazelwood finished its season at 9-1-1. The tie was the first in the five-year history of the Class 4-A playoffs.



Two Bucks, One Doe

Burton Ives (left), 1504 Driftwood, and Bob Clark (right), 1115 East 10th, both got bucks Friday, while 15-year-old Donny Wiseman, LaMonte, got his doe early Saturday. Ives' six-point prize was taken five miles south of Cole Camp, while Clark brought down his eight-pointer near Smithton. Young Wiseman was hunting with his father, Don Wiseman, in Benton County near Cole Camp Creek when he brought down the doe with a single 75-foot shot.

Mineral Area Downs SFCC

BULLETIN

FLAT RIVER, Mo. — State Fair Community College lost their third straight contest here Saturday night, bowing to Vincennes (Ind.) University, 76-66, in the Mineral Area College Classic basketball tournament.

Despite the loss to the defending national junior college champions, Coach Bill Barton said it was the Roadrunners' best effort this season.

Game honors went to Phil Spence, 6'8", who pumped in 29 points for Vincennes while teammate Harold Miles added 17. Leading SFCC was Charles Shell with 16. Jack Easley added 13 to the Roadrunner total.

The loss left SFCC 1-3 for the season and marked Vincennes' 37th consecutive victory, the fourth this season.

FLAT RIVER, Mo. — Inconsistency, lack of strong rebounding and the hot shooting of 6-7 freshman Robert Parker were the contributing factors as the State Fair Community College Roadrunners dipped to 1-2 on the season Friday night with an 82-70 loss to Mineral Area College in the MAC Classic.

"We just can't keep an opponent down once we get the lead," said SFCC head Coach Bill Barton as he saw his cagers lose nine and seven point leads in the first and second halves, respectively. "I've not given up faith at all," he continued. "We are young and its going to take us some time to develop."

State Fair went ahead 19-10 with 9:12 to go in the first half on the fifth field goal by 6-6 forward Charles Shell. But less than four minutes later, on a pair of free throws by Parker, who literally riddled the Roadrunners' defense all night, the Cardinals were only one back 21-20.

The team traded the lead for the remainder of the half but State Fair was able to pull ahead by one point as the buzzer sounded for the intermission, 33-32.

SFCC went out quickly in the second half, building up a 45-38 lead on another field goal by Shell with 15:22 showing on the clock.

But again the Roadrunners couldn't hold up as Mineral Area roared back and went ahead at the 13:41 marker on four straight field goals by Parker, who gunned in 36 for the night.

The lead again traded hands, but State Fair couldn't offset the hot shooting of Parker, a product of Chicago, who had 24 in the second half.

Barton switched his defense from man-to-man to a 1-3-1 zone with about seven minutes to go in the game, and the Cards in the lead, 58-55. The Roadrunners got within one, 62-61, on a pair of charity shots by Shell with 5:25 remaining.

Mineral Area turned one of the Roadrunners' famous tools into their won offensive weapon — the press. As State Fair tried to stop the Cardinals with their pressure tactics, MAC ran the score to 70-62 with only 3:31 left in the game, as Parker and David Jackson, who had 18 himself, did most of the damage.

The Roadrunners were able to get no closer as the seconds ticked away and MAC went into their delay.

It was the second loss of the season for State Fair, who went into Saturday night's game here looking for their first win ever in the Mineral Area gym. But the prospects were none too bright, as they took on the defending national junior college champion, Vincennes, Ind. The Trailblazers, who carved out a 33-0 mark last season in winning their third NJCAA championship in five years, took a 37 game winning streak into the contest. Their most recent win was Friday night's 90-67 shelling of Northeastern Oklahoma in the MAC Classic.

State Fair did considerably better from the field, hitting on 30 of 51 for 56 per cent. That was much stronger than the 29 per cent they hit Tuesday in Neosho against Crowder College.

Mineral Area hit 52 per cent as 33 of 63 shots found the range.

Shell, the only State Fair player who has played consistently for Barton in the first three games, hit for 24 points to top SFCC scoring. Lewis Busch, a 6-7 freshman from Carthage, was the only other Roadrunner in double figures with 16.

Jesse McNeal added 12 to the Cardinals' cause, following Parker and Jackson.

Scoring

Mineral Area (82) — David Church 1-0-1, David Jackson 8-2-4, Jesse McNeal 4-4-4, Robert Parker 15-6-3, Mark Pehle 2-0-0, Charles Penberhy 2-2-5, Jack Shipp 1-2-0. Totals — 33-16-17.

State Fair (70) — Lewis Busch 7-2-3, Jack Easley 2-1-4, Joe Hailey 4-1-3, Mark Jones 3-1-3, Charles Shell 10-4-3, Colles Webb 0-1-3, Brent Yates 4-0-2. Totals — 30-10-21.

Cowboys Open Cage Season With Victory

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)— Junior guard Kevin Fitzgerald pumped in 26 points Saturday night to pace Oklahoma State to a ragged 76-72 basketball victory over Northwest Missouri State in the season opener for both schools.

The Cowboys went ahead for the first time in the game with a little over six minutes gone at 8-6 on a lay-in by Fitzgerald and OSU was never caught in gaining its 33rd Gallagher Hall home opener in 35 attempts.

A 15-foot jumper by Melvin Harvey with 1:52 left put Northwest Missouri within two points, but a free throw by Steve Uthoff and a lay-up by Fitzgerald gave the Cowboys a 74-69 advantage.

Chillicothe Upsets St. Louis Chaminade

CHILLICOTHE, Mo. (AP) — Chillicothe won the Class 3A Missouri high school football championship Saturday with a 14-9 upset victory over St. Louis Chaminade.

Chillicothe scored just after the kickoff when defensive end Steve Gastineau picked up a Chaminade fumble and ran 32 yards for a touchdown. The kick for the extra point failed.

BULLETIN

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Rick Barry tossed in 35 points and the Golden State Warriors outscored the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 36-21 in the fourth period for a 133-114 NBA victory Saturday.

The Warriors actually moved ahead 45-41 on a pair of baskets by Mahdi Abdul-Rahman four minutes into the second period and led the rest of the way except for a pair of ties at 69 and 91-all in the third period. Until Rahman tossed in his pair, the score had been tied 13 times and there had been nine lead changes.

The Warriors hit 53 of 93 from the field, outrebounded the Kings 51-43 and had seven men in double figures.

Nate Archibald figures in 65 of the Kings' points with 37 points and 14 assists. It was the 12th straight game in which he was credited with 10 or more assists.

Fambrough Calls MU-KU Game Their 'Mud Bowl'

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — "This is our bowl game, the mud bowl," said a happy Don Fambrough Saturday after his Kansas Jayhawks had humbled Missouri, 28-17 in a steady drizzle.

The Jayhawks, finishing 4-7, riddled the Missouri secondary as Dave Jaynes passed for 259 yards. Missouri, which has beaten Colorado, Notre Dame and Iowa State, goes into the Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Ariz., with a 6-5 record.

"Our game plan was to throw," Fambrough said. "It's awfully tough to run against Missouri. But our pass protection was what made the passing game go.

"The offensive line deserves a lot of credit. We have tried to throw this season and were not able to protect the passer.

"It's easily our biggest victory of the year. When you win the last one, the winter isn't quite so cold."

Fambrough also praised his defensive line, saying, "We were fortunate to get to John Cherry." The Missouri quarterback left with an ankle injury late in the fourth quarter.

Kansas defensive end Pat Ryan was in on 13 tackles and twice caught Cherry for losses. Tackle Gery Palmer threw Cherry for 17 yards in losses, and linebacker Steve Towle threw the quarterback for 16 yards in losses, participated in 12 tackles and intercepted a pass.

"A passing team has one advantage in a wet game," Fambrough said, "because the receiver knows where he is going and the defensive back doesn't."

Did Missouri relax after getting a bowl bid?

"I don't think that had anything to do with it," said Missouri coach Al Onofrio. "I think our people have been getting up for every game. Since the first of the season—especially the last seven.

"They were ready to play, but they just didn't execute as well. I don't know why. Our opponents had something to do with it.

"The players played hard, but we just didn't get the big plays when we needed them after we went ahead, 17-16."

"I thought we were all ready mentally," Cherry said. "But it's hard to come from behind each week. It just caught up with us."

"We can't blame it on the field, because they scored on us," said defensive back Gary Anderson, who twice was burned on Jaynes' touchdown passes.

Onofrio gave his Tigers a week off from practice before they will begin preparations for the Fiesta Bowl game Dec. 23. The coach said the extent of Cherry's injury had not been determined.

Solid Defense

Oklahoma State puts up the solid wall and pushes Iowa State tailback Mike Strachan (33) back for a loss as he tries to go over the top. Jay Cruse (79), Ray Ennis (53) and Jim Williams (72) make up the tough defense while ISU's identifiable blocker is Geary Murdock (75). The Cowboys won the Saturday confrontation at Stillwater, Okla., by a good margin, 45-14. (UPI)

Redskins Could Open Up 2-Game NFC East Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Washington Redskins, the recipients of a Thanksgiving Day gift from San Francisco, can open a two-game lead in their National Conference East race Sunday and, on Monday night, Miami's unbeaten Dolphins can take another step in their quest for a perfect record.

The Redskins, seeking their first National Football League division title since 1945, have spent most of this season trying to stay a game ahead of defending Super Bowl champion Dallas.

On Thursday, the 'Skins saw the lead widen to 1½ games as the 49ers knocked off the Cowboys 31-10. A Washington victory over Green Bay would add another one-half game to that edge and, with three games remaining after that, would give the Redskins the inside track to the divisional title.

It would also throw the NFC Central race back into at least a two-way tie for first. The Packers must win to remain a game ahead of Detroit, which defeated the New York Jets 37-20 in Thursday's other game. And if the Packers lose and Minnesota beats Pittsburgh, it'll be a three-way tie with the Packers, Lions and Vikings all owning 7-4 records.

The Dolphins are bidding to become the first team since the 1942 Chicago Bears to make it through an entire NFL season unscathed.

But their foe in Monday night's nationally televised game should give them little trouble in game No. 11. The St. Louis Cardinals, 2-7-1, are two-touchdown underdogs.

Sunday's other games have Buffalo at Cleveland, Kansas City at Oakland, New England at Baltimore, Houston at San Diego, Los Angeles at New Orleans, Denver at Atlanta, Philadelphia at New York against the Giants and Cincinnati at Chicago.

A one-point loss to New England early in the season is the only thing keeping the Redskins from a possible perfect record. Their 9-1 mark is second only to Miami. But they've got to win to make sure the Cowboys won't be able to catch up when the two teams meet again Dec. 9 in Dallas.

The Packers, seeking their first division crown since 1967, when they won Super Bowl II, are one-touchdown underdogs.

The Steelers, who have never won a title—divisional or otherwise—in their 40 years in the league, saw their American Conference Central lead evaporate last Sunday when they lost to Cleveland. They need a triumph this time—and the Vikings are slight favorites to prevent them from getting it—to retain at least a share of first place since the Browns are heavily favored to beat the Bills. Cleveland and Pittsburgh have their second showdown next Sunday.

If the Raiders can beat Kansas City, whom they lost to 27-14 three weeks ago, they'll all but clinch the AFC West title by opening a 2½-game lead over the Chiefs.

The Patriots, whose losing streak has reached seven games, will be trying to escape the AFC East cellar and avenge a 24-17 loss to the Colts three weeks ago. The Oilers have a 1-9 record—worst in the NFL—and a seven-game losing streak of their own as they visit the Chargers, who snapped their five-game tailspin last week by whipping the Chiefs.

The Rams, having lost three of their last four games, have now slipped half a game back of first-place San Francisco in the NFC West. And the Falcons are just a game off the pace. Los Angeles is facing the conference's worst defense in the Saints and is about a two-touchdown favorite to regain a share of the division lead. Atlanta is going against stiffer opposition in the Broncos but is still favored by about 11 points to keep Denver in the AFC West basement.

The Bengals, 5-5, are out to keep alive their slim hopes of catching the Browns and Steelers. They've got the AFC's No. 2 defense and they'll need it to cool off the Bears' rushing game, tops in the NFC due to quarterback Bobby Douglass and running back Jim Harrison.

The Giants handled Philadelphia with ease earlier this year, winning 27-12 on a Monday night game, but they still remember the 41-28 shellacking the Eagles administered to them at Yankee Stadium a year ago.

Rain Dampens Heritage

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Day-long rains Saturday caused postponement of the third round of the $125,000 Heritage Golf Classic, pushing the windup round to Monday.

Officials of the Professional Golfers Association halted play just before 11 a.m., EST, and called it off an hour later on the 6,655-yard Harbour Town Golf Links.

None of the leaders had teed off.

Johnny Miller and Forest Fezler led the field with 36-hole totals of 136. Don Iverson stood at 137, followed by a bunch at 139 that included Bobby Nichols, Allen Miller, Jerry Heard, Lanny Wadkins, Homero Blancas and Lou Graham.

PGA officials scheduled 18 holes for Sunday and the final 18 Monday before the tour moves to its final 1972 stop at the Disney World Open near Orlando, Fla., which begins Wednesday with a pro-amateur prelude.

Atlas, Race to Meet In Main Mat Event

Top heavyweights return to the Convention Hall wrestling ring here Tuesday night after a week's absence when midget grapplers went through their paces.

Two of the area's best, Omar Atlas and Harley Race, will meet in a showdown of strength and durability in the main event of a four-match program.

Race, a rugged 255-pounder from southern Iowa, has dominated regional action most of the new season, slugging his way to one victory after another. Atlas, a sturdy 232-pounder from Venezuela, also has been a big winner. He is undefeated in individual action.

A six-man tag team clash also is on the schedule. Two newcomers, Hans Schmidt and Leo Seitz, will be joined by Billy Howard in a bid against the talented threesome of Danny Little Bear, Les Thornton and Steve Bolas.

Schmidt, a 260-pounder, has two decades of ring battling behind him. Seitz, 260, is a younger but equally aggressive performer.

Seitz will get his first test in the special event, facing a challenge from Les Thornton, a stocky Britisher who has been impressive in the Midlands for much of the season.

Opening the show will be a clash between Howard and Canada's experienced Bolas.

'Pokes Bury Iowa State

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)— Oklahoma State parleyed a brutal defense and the power running of sophomore fullback George Palmer for a 21-14 halftime lead, then exploded for 24 points in the fourth quarter to bury Liberty Bowl-bound Iowa State, 45-14, in a Big Eight football clash here Saturday.

The victory pushed OSU's season record to 6-4 and insured the 'Pokes, under first-year coach Dave Smith, their first winning season since 1959.

Iowa State became the third bowl team defeated by the Cowboys, who earlier bounced Gator Bowl-bound Colorado, 31-6, and the Fiesta Bowl's Missouri, 17-16.

Palmer scored two touchdowns on a pair of one-yard runs and rushed for 155 yards on 31 carries as the 'Pokes upped their Big Eight record to 4-2.

Quarterback Brent Blackman scored one touchdown, ran for a two-point conversion and tossed two long bombs that set up two more OSU scores.

OSU clinched a third-place tie with Colorado in the Big Eight and could tie for second in the event of a win over Oklahoma in the season finale next Saturday.

The Cowboys jumped out to a 14-0 lead in the first quarter as Fountain Smith scored on a four-yard run and Alton Gerard went in on a one-yard plunge. However, the Cyclones came back to tie it at 14-14 as George Amundson threw touchdown passes of 10 and 25 yards to Keith Krepfle and Willie Jones.

OSU went ahead to stay on Palmer's one-yard run with 10:02 left in the second quarter. The go-ahead score was set up by Lee Stover's interception, one of three Amundson aerials picked of by the Pokes.

MONTROSE — The host Bluejays won their own tournament here Saturday night, burying Ballard, 69-37. Third place went to Hume who scored a 71-64 victory over Sheldon.

The victory moved Montrose's record for the season to 6-0. The Bluejays pressed throughout the entire contest forcing many Bulldog turnovers.

Mizzou Downs Ohio

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Missouri, led by John Brown's 19 points, toyed with Ohio University in the early minutes before unloading a barrage of points and going on to an 87-75 victory Saturday night in the opening basketball game of the season for both teams.

Ohio, defending champion of the Mid-America Conference, trailed by as many as 16 points in the second half, but whittled the Missouri advantage to seven points twice in the last six minutes.

Both times Orv Salmon dumped in points for the Tigers, the first time with a field goal and the second with two free throws to open it up again.

Both teams missed numerous shots in the game's early moments, and lead see-sawed until Al Eberhard hit a layup and two free throws to boost Missouri into a 19-16 advantage with 8 minutes, 46 seconds left in the first half.

Less than a minute later, Denny Rusch made a three-point play for Ohio to close it to 21-19, but charity throws by Mike Jeffries and Salmon's lay-up gave the host Tigers a four-point lead they never relinquished.

With Brown and Gary Link pouring in the points, the Tigers opened a 48-35 lead at intermission.

George Green led Ohio and all scorers with 20 points.

The teams used the 30-second clock with which the Big Eight Conference is experimenting.

U. High Captures State 1A Crown

WARRENSBURG, Mo. (AP) — Ken Briscoe set up a touchdown and a field goal with standout defensive play — scoring another himself on a 14-yard run — Saturday as Warrensburg University High shut out Fairfax 17-0 for the state 1A football title.

Briscoe recovered a fumble on the Fairfax 24 leading to the first score, a 26-yard pass from Bill Mullif to Port Peerson. His 14-yard scoring run followed a Fairfax punt of minus-7 yards.

Mullif kicked a 37-yard field goal after Briscoe made an interception.

Compromise Is Reached In Bolivia

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Government officials and labor leaders late Friday night reached a compromise aimed at ending a crippling 2-day-old strike, but it remained unclear whether the regime would lift a nationwide state of siege or whether the striking workers would go back on the job.

The union chiefs agreed their men would resume work after the government said it would negotiate salary increases "in the near future" and released several labor leaders jailed when the strike began.

Textile workers began a 24-hour strike Thursday to protest recent government austerity measures, including a two-thirds devaluation of the peso, and government charges that unions were being infiltrated by leftist elements.

The right-wing regime of President Hugo Banzer Suarez reacted swiftly. It declared a state of siege to counter what it called an "overt plot" against the government, ordered tanks, troops and police to surround factories in northern La Paz, stationed army assault cars in working class neighborhoods and arrested about 15 labor leaders and workers.

Union leaders estimated more than 20,000 bank employes and 30,000 store workers joined the walkout in sympathy with the strikers; and, as a result, much of the industrial and commercial activity throughout Bolivia has ground to a halt.

There Goes a Dream

Lenny Damron, 21, and his wife stood on the edge of a mudhole and watched a giant sinkhole gobble up their Thanksgiving Day dream in Crystal River, Fla. The young couple and their two-month-old son had planned to move into their new $25,000 three-bedroom house Thursday, but that morning the earth opened like giant jaws and swallowed the house, leaving only rubble. Heights Displease This Santa Clause

MIAMI (AP) — His red cheeks turning green, Santa Claus Daniel Cabrera stepped from a blimp and proclaimed to 1,500 waiting children and parents: "Let it be known that this Santa is deathly afraid of heights."

After passing out goodies to youngsters and taking orders for his Christmas Eve trek, Santa Cabrera winced as he headed for the next stop at Sunland Training Center, where 800 more children awaited him.

Couple Goes Into Army At Same Time

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ellen Gocke didn't want to sit at home while her husband completed three years of military duty, so she joined the Army with him.

Recruiters said the enlistment Friday was made under new Army guaranteed options which are aimed at attracting married personnel.

The Gockes, both recent graduates of West Virginia University and natives of Bridgeport, W.Va., begin their three-year hitches Monday.

Ellen will report for eight weeks of basic training with the Women's Army Corps at Fort McClelland, Ala., and her husband heads for Fort Dix, N.J.

After that, they'll both be enrolled as students at the Army School of Finance in Indianapolis. Then they will be assigned to the finance office at Ft. Louis in Washington State.

"Some of my friends tried to discourage me; they thought I should just stay at home," said Ellen. "But when I started talking to them, I found out they really didn't know what the WAC's was all about. None of them had ever met a WAC, for that matter."

Unusual Law Gets Approval

LARGO, Fla. (AP) — A law banning the lifting of girls' dresses has been enacted at Bouder Elementary School, where arrest warrants are handed out for hair-pulling, talking in class and throwing food.

Thirty-three such statutes are on the books in Tom Hackenberry's second-grade classroom, where the store detective turned teacher is bringing the long arm of the law into the study of social sciences.

A court system has been established with pupils, aged 6 to 8, acting as judges, prosecutors, defense counsels and police.

"This court study has been very effective in curbing school offenses, and students are learning respect for the law," Hackenberry said.

The worst punishment is to be sentenced to go to the principal's office, he added.

A note to the parents, being kept in from recess and missing art class are among other punishments doled out in the classroom court.

"We took a trip to the Largo Municipal Court last week," Hackenberry said. "The children ... were impressed by the fact that the court they were seeing in action was very similar to the one they run themselves."

Back from the city court, the pupils passed a law banning dress-lifting, following a complaint filed by a distraught second grader.

The adjutant is a large bird—standing about five feet high—related to the stork. It is common in India, southeastern Asia and Africa.

Apollo 17 Journey Called 'the Conclusion of the Beginning'

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Now comes the last Apollo, the end of an unparalleled era of adventure and exploration in which man carried his quest for the unknown to another celestial body and opened the gateway to the limitless frontier of space.

Apollo 17 next month will transport three more astronauts to the vicinity of the moon, and two of them will walk the surface. When they come home it may be a quarter century or more before man again treads the dusty lunar soil.

Navy Capt. Eugene A. Cernan, who will command the final Apollo, terms the flight "not the end of space exploration, but the beginning of man's coming together and maybe accepting the challenge to gain knowledge far beyond the moon.

The start will be spectacular as the United States for the first time launches a manned spaceship at night, with liftoff set for 9:53 p.m. EST Dec. 6.

Dazzling in daylight, the mighty Saturn 5 rocket should be awesome as it cuts the darkness with its 2,200-foot-long tail of fire. More than half a million outsiders are expected in the Cape Kennedy area to watch the blazing departure. Space agency experts estimate that if the sky is clear anyone within 500 miles should see the rising rocket.

Cernan's crewmates are Navy Cmdr. Ronald E. Evans and Dr. Harrison H. "Jack" Schmitt, a geologist who is the first scientist-astronaut selected for a space flight.

With his trained geologist's eye, Schmitt, prowling the surface with Cernan, will add a new dimension to lunar exploration. Together they hope to learn about the very early evolution of the moon and of its more recent history, filling in missing chapters on how the moon, and perhaps our earth and solar system, evolved.

Evans in orbit and Cernan and Schmitt on the surface will operate a new generation of sophisticated instruments as they seek secrets of this alien world.

Cernan, the articulate commander who will be making his third space flight and the second to the vicinity of the moon, was pensive as he discussed the end of Apollo.

"Some people talk about it as if it's the end of space. That's not true. Skylab and the shuttle lie ahead. But it is the last flight presently planned to fly into what you might call deep space. But to me Apollo 17 is just the conclusion of the beginning," he said.

Cernan and Schmitt are to land their lunar ship in a narrow valley at a site named Taurus-Littrow in the northeast quadrant of the moon on the rim of the Sea of Serenity.

"We hope here to find some of the youngest and also some of the oldest material on the moon," Schmitt said. "The valley floor is covered with a dark mantle, a thin layer, of material. Our photographic and chemical evidence suggests it is quite fine-grained and very young, perhaps no more than one hundred million years old.

"About four miles south of the landing site is a mountain we call South Massif," he added. "There is a light-covered area on the side which suggests it was of dynamic origin, indicating an avalanche. If so it will have brought rocks down from various levels of the mountain. That is where our potential is for sampling very old rocks. We may get all the way back to the beginning of the moon 4.6 billion years ago.

"We know we have collected rocks with records of events that are at least 4.1 billion years old and one or two which might be older. But the youngest rocks are on the order of 3 to 3.2 billion years.

"So we have a portion of the history of the moon, you might even say of the history of the solar system, that ranges between 3 and 4 billion years. Two chapters are essentially missing — the first and the last. At Taurus-Littrow, Gene and I hope to fill in those missing chapters."

The geologist-astronaut said the oldest rock found on earth, in western Greenland, was 3.7 billion years old, but only a few have been more than 3 billion years in age.

"The early part of earth's history is really obscured, wiped away by wind, water and our atmosphere," he said. "That's why the first billion years on the moon is so important. It can give us an insight into the early history of the earth because the earth and moon evolved by similar or related processes in the same part of the solar system at about the same time."

Cernan and Schmitt are to land on the moon Dec. 11 for a record stay of 75 hours during which they will make three outside excursions, each lasting seven hours.

Most of the first expedition, set to start about four hours after touchdown, will be devoted to deploying and equipping their moon car and setting up a multi-million-dollar nuclear-powered science station.

An instrument to measure subsurface electrical and mechanical properties hopefully will answer the ages-old question of whether there is water on the moon, perhaps as ice or permafrost below the surface.

The experiment that excites scientists the most is called a tidal gravimeter. On the surface of the quiet moon it may detect waves of gravity that may have traveled across eons of time from the birthplace of the universe.

Einstein's theory of relativity predicted such waves. And for the first time, instruments devised by Dr. Joseph Weber, a University of Maryland physicist, have recorded evidence that they are being emitted in bursts from the direction of the center of the earth's galaxy but originated outside the solar system.

Background noises of the earth, from seismic and meteorological disturbances, complicated the experiment, so Weber developed an instrument to operate on the moon where the slightest wave through an atmosphere 1,000 times more quiet than earth's will trigger a signal.

"The origin of the observed gravitational radiation has not been determined, only the direction of its arrival," Weber said. "It is conceivable that the mass at the galactic center is acting as a giant lens, focusing gravitational radiation from an earlier epoch of the universe.

"It should have been accumulating since the beginning of time," the physicist said. "The relatively large intensity apparently being observed may be telling us when time began."

Other physicists believe that if gravity waves could be harnessed, they might provide earth with an unlimited pollution-free power source.

After deploying the instruments, Cernan and Schmitt will collect samples of the dark mantle and then take their first moon buggy ride, 1.5 miles to a 2,000-foot diameter crater that has punched through the mantle. Purpose is to pick up sub-mantle material.

The next day they'll strike out for the South Massif to photograph and gather samples at the avalanche area.

Schmitt said the mountain might be layers of material thrown out at various times during the history of the moon from large meteor impacts which carved out huge basins like Imbrium, Crisium and Serenitatis. The astronauts hope to find rocks from the different ages, including the oldest on the moon.

The third day the moonmen will drive two miles to another mountain front, the North Massif, where they hope to gather more ancient samples. Then they'll inspect an area called the Sculptured Hills, which from photographs appears to be a large region of rolling hills.

"We want to find out why these hills are so different from the massifs in the area," Cernan said. "It may be that they are a different type of material more susceptible to chemical changes."

Back at the lunar ship, they'll load aboard their treasure of about 200 pounds of rocks. Then the explorers will launch the lunar craft and fly to a rendezvous with Evans, who will have been orbiting alone for more than three days, operating instruments, snapping pictures and observing surface features.

One of his new instruments, a lunar sounder, will map rare deposits of subsurface materials, determine geologic composition and locate underground hollows down to a depth of more than half a mile. It also will be able to detect if there is water below the surface.

"My other experiments will record surface temperatures and measure the constituents of the atmosphere," Evans said.

But he feels his greatest contribution may be as an observer who has had extensive training in geology the last two years.

"The eyes are a much better detector than any camera film," he said. "Plus I can interpret what I see."

After the command and lunar ships have hooked up, the spacemen will spend an extra two days in orbit, gathering additional data about the surface. They will make extensive observations on the backside, 30 per cent of which will be in sunlight, compared with only a small percentage on previous missions.

Then they'll fire up their big engine and head for home and a Dec. 1 splashdown in the Pacific Ocean southeast of Samoa.

The flight phase of Apollo will be over. But the rocks and date gathered by Apollo 17 and five other moon-landing crews will keep scientists and geologists busy for years as they seek to unravel the mystery of the evolution of the moon, earth and our solar system.

As a result of the previous explorations, the moon today is a far more familiar place than it was 3½ years ago when Neil Armstrong first set foot on the surface.

There still are several unknowns about the moon, but there is general agreement among scientists on these points after studying Apollo data:

—Mechanisms for evolving life halted on the moon long before even the basic building blocks of life were formed.

—Geologic evolution stopped early on the moon, some three billion years ago. As a result the moon is frozen at a point of primitive development. A big question is why it suddenly turned off its heat machine and essentially stopped evolving.

—There are essentially only three types of rocks on the moon, compared to hundreds of types on earth.

—Volcanoes wracked the moon early in its history, sculpturing valleys, rilles, plains and mountains and indicating the moon once had a hot, molten interior like the earth's.

—The moon is made up of onion-like layers, with a crust about 38 miles thick and a mantle and possibly a core below that, making it more earth-like than many experts believed possible.

—Small moonquakes still shudder deep within the interior.

Before Apollo there were three major theories about the origin of the moon: That it was born at the same time as our solar system 4.6 billion years ago in the convulsive coming together of space debris and a giant gas cloud; it was once a part of the earth and broke away; it was a wanderer from outer space that got caught in earth's gravity field.

The different chemical composition of lunar and terrestrial rocks has led most lunar experts to discount the idea that the moon was once part of the earth. Most believe in the gas cloud-debris theory, but there are many varying ideas on how this might have occurred.

Astronaut Schmitt said "in another five years of studying the data, I think we will have a first order understanding of the evolution of the moon, if not even a more complete understanding than that."

After Apollo, the United States will concentrate its man-in-space effort on earth orbit flights intended to produce a bonanza of benefits for mankind.

The first step will be Skylab, a two-story laboratory which will be launched next April 30 and which will be visited by three different three-man crews over the next eight months. The first crew will stay aboard for 28 days and the other two for 56 days each.

The Skylab astronauts will conduct more than 50 different kinds of experiments aimed at developing techniques for surveying earth's resources from space, determining man's ability to work in orbit for long periods, extending solar astronomy beyond earth's obstructing atmosphere and studying space manufacturing methods.

"The technology we have gained from Apollo is a key element in developing space for mankind," commented Dr. Kurt Debus, director of NASA's Kennedy Space Center here. "I believe that Skylab is going to do even more. Skylab will show the man on the street that space can be of everyday use in solving such problems as pollution, locating resources and feeding the hungry.

In 1975 there will be perhaps the most significant flight yet — a joint orbital mission by American astronauts and Russian cosmonauts. This symbolic meeting in the sky could herald an era when these two powers work together in space to help solve many of the problems on earth.

In 1978, the revolutionary new rocket plane, the space shuttle, is to begin orbital test flights from Cape Kennedy.

The shuttle will take off like a rocket, fly like a spaceship and land back on earth like an airliner. Capable of making 100 or more roundtrips into space, each shuttle will be able to carry two pilots, 12 passengers and up to 65,000 pounds of cargo. It will replace existing space rockets and will be used to deliver satellites into orbit or to repair or bring home ailing payloads.

Debus feels the shuttle eventually will be a stepping stone for future explorations to the moon, the planets and the stars.

"There is no question but that we will go to Mars and colonize the moon, probably sooner than we now think," he said. "I think it also will become a reality that we'll pick up communications from other intelligence in the universe. We will develop our technology in quantum steps as time goes on . . . And the real thing that space is going to bring us, we don't even know yet."

Weddings Bring Joy to Couples During Thanksgiving Season

An afternoon wedding Saturday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church united Miss Patricia Ann Sneathen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Sneathen Jr., 1016 South Moniteau, to John Alan Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester J. Stone, 1810 South Sneed.

The Rev. Father Vincent Hoying officiated at the double ring ceremony where the altar was decorated with arrangements of deep red gladioli accented on each side by spiral candelabra with garlands of smilax.

Musical selections at the ceremony were given by Miss Debbie Eckhoff, organist; Harold J. Johnston, violinist; and Miss Stacy Trotter and Miss Anna Paschke, vocalists.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a rich floor length gown of ivory peau. Appliques cut out of re-embroidered Alencon imported lace on the bodice and fitted sleeves met with a small gathered ruffle on the cuff and at the V neckline. Wide scallops of Alencon lace encircled the hemline and sweep chapel train. Peau rosebuds crowned her lace Juliet cap to which her three tiered veil and long blusher were secured.

For "something old" the bride carried her maternal grandmother's 75-year-old handkerchief which was also carried by her mother and grandmother in their weddings and she had a bouquet of Jack Frost roses accented with ivory sweethearts clouded by baby's breath.

Miss Judi Moore, dressed in a red velvet floor length gown that featured a V neckline was accented by a velvet ruffle at the neckline, sleeves and hemline, was maid of honor.

Dressed identical to her were bridesmaids, Miss Karen Huhman and Miss Tracy Dick. All carried symphony bouquets of ivory and red miniature pixies with baby's breath and trailing ivy.

Best man was Ted Aggeler and groomsmen were Tom Robb and Don Kempf, uncle of the groom.

Performing ushering duties were uncles of the groom, Bill Rude and Jim Stone; a cousin of the bride, Kevin Johnston; and Dennis Orr.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Ramada Inn where the serving table was accented with silver candelabra decorated with white pixies, red sweetheart roses and baby's breath. Servers were Miss Karen Stone, Miss Marcia Stone, Miss Karen Johnston and Mrs. Tom Robb.

Mrs. Linda Fay presided at the guest book and attending gifts were Miss Moe Melvin and Miss Christie Viebracht.

For traveling on a honeymoon to the Lodge of the Four Seasons, the bride wore a red, brown and white striped blazer with matching cocoa brown slacks and had a crimson carnation corsage with baby's breath.

The couple will reside in Independence where the groom works for the Ford Motor Company.

PHOENIX, Ariz. — In a candlelight ceremony Nov. 10 at the United Pentecostal Church wedding vows were spoken between Miss Angie Ruth Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.C. Lykins, Phoenix, Ariz., and Mr. James Lowell Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Brown, Cole Camp.

The bride wore a floor length white gown of chantilly lace with a fitted bodice accented with a small standup collar and long sleeves. The tiered skirt extended into a chapel length train and a fingertip veil completed the bride's attire. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and lavender and purple carnations.

Maid of honor, Miss Kathy Curtis was dressed in a floor length gown of lavender miramist with an empire waist and long sleeves. She carried a single lavender carnation with lavender and purple streamers.

Mrs. Roy Barnhill, Mrs. Larry Schumaker and Miss Barbie Howe, cousin of the groom, were bridesmaids and Miss Lisa Curtis served as junior bridesmaid. They wore dresses identical to the maid of honor's gown and each one carried a single purple carnation.

Larry Schumaker served as best man and David Reeves, David Brown, brother of the groom, and Jerry Lowry served as groomsmen. Bobby Brown, also a brother of the groom, served as junior groomsman. Performing ushering duties were Jeffery Milbourne and Elton Larson.

Miss Lori Schumaker was flower girl. She was dressed like the maid of honor and carried a straw basket filled with lavender and purple carnation petals.

Candlelighters were Miss Faith Benson and Billy Howe, cousin of the groom. Jeffery Reeves carried the rings to the alter on a white heart-shaped satin pillow. Rice maids were Miss Dana Reeves and Miss Carrie Breshears.

The organist was Timothy Fuller and the vocalist was Mrs. Doris Burgess.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the church where a three-tiered cake and gold candelabra decorated the bride's table. Serving at the bride's table were Mrs. David Reeves and Mrs. Doris Burgess. Presiding at the guest book and gift table were Miss Linda Brown, sister of the groom, and Miss Dottie Howe, cousin of the groom.

For traveling on a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks, the bride chose an orange and cream polyester double knit dress and coat ensemble with black accessories. She also wore a corsage of cream carnations.

LOOKING INTO WINDOWS
by Deanie Long

Do you envy the lovely window treatments you see in home furnishing magazines?

Perhaps you've thought. "If only my home had walls of glass and magnificent bays, instead of plain, ordinary windows." Well, believe it or not, there are no 'ordinary' windows. Some of the most striking treatments I've ever seen were designed for the so called 'standard' or 'ordinary' windows.

The standard window usually has an upper and a lower sash. It's opened by raising the lower sash. Occasionally, these windows stand alone but are often found in two's or three's.

How do you make these windows come to life? Use your imagination! If a window is tall and narrow, try changing its proportions with an overhead valance and a rod that extends beyond the window frame and mounts in the wall. How about treating a close-together pair of windows as one extra-wide window? Use a favorite piece of furniture or an unusual picture grouping to unite a pair of windows separated by wall. Want some extraordinary treatments for your 'ordinary' windows? Call us or come in today.

If you're decorating a new home or designing a new look for your present home, you're sure to like the large selection of curtain and drapery window treatments at HOBSON'S. We are at your service at all times without cost or obligation. Open 8:30 to 5:00 P.M. Tuesday thru Thursday & Saturday. Open Monday and Friday until 8:30 P.M. See us at 2805 West Broadway, Sedalia, Missouri 65301 or Phone 826-1192.

Vows Are Celebrated and New Lives Begun

The Alumni Memorial Chapel on the campus of Central Missouri State University, Warrensburg, was the scene Nov. 18 for the candlelight wedding of Miss Wendy Ware, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell M. Ware, 718 West Fourth, and Randall William Sims, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Sims, Kansas City.

Mrs. Richard Davis, aunt of the bride, was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown made by the mother of the groom. The soft candlelight satin skirt was trimmed with wide bands of heirloom lace and the neckline and sleeves were capped with narrow, matching lace. The candlelight finger tip veil was secured to a Juliet cap and the bride carried a bouquet of deep burgundy roses.

Mrs. Jim Newman, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was of textured velvet in two shades of burgundy and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

In identical gowns of deep burgundy velvet, bridesmaids were Miss Patty Maple, Miss Sally Evans, Miss Jill Hagen and Miss Chesley Sims, sister of the groom. Each carried a single white rose with white streamers.

Miss Sandy Mitchell and Miss Dyan Mitchell were candlelighters and flower girl was Miss Heather Newman, niece of the bride. Jon Panter, son of the best man, was ringbearer.

Serving as best man was Jon Panter and groomsmen were Jim Newman, brother-in-law of the bride; Tim Sanders, Mike Byrne and Dave Beane.

The social hall of the chapel was the setting for the reception where servers were Miss Patricia Owen, cousin of the bride; Miss Glenna Hand and Miss Lynne Shepard.

Presiding at the guestbook was Miss Cathy Reavis and in charge of gifts were Miss Annette Davis and Miss Janine Davis, cousins of the bride.

The couple will reside in Independence. The bride is a senior at Central Missouri State University and the groom is an investigator with the state Attorney General's office.

First United Methodist Church here was the scene Saturday of the late afternoon wedding of Miss Teresa Gayle Lovan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald J. Lovan, formerly of Sedalia, now of Bryan, Tex., to Richard Neal Van Cleave, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lee Van Cleave, Independence.

The Rev. Charles Cheffey and the Rev. Denis Craft performed the double ring ceremony where Mrs. Laura Fetters was organist and Doug Hast played the guitar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of ivory faille taffeta with a built in train and satin banded waist. The sheer lace yoke, long fitted sleeves and hem were trimmed with ruffles and her finger tip veil was secured by a cluster of tropicana roses. The bride carried a victorian bouquet of tropicana roses.

Mrs. Valorie Beemer, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Carol Flasco, Miss Ann Wolfe, Miss Beth Van Cleave, sister of the groom, and Miss Susan Lovan, sister of the bride. All wore floor length gowns of tangerine crepe with empire waists. The yokes and sleeves were trimmed with ivory lace and each carried a victorian bouquet of yellow and bronze mums.

Best man was Tom Cabanas and serving as groomsmen were Gary Lovan, brother of the bride, and Jim Gregg, cousin of the groom. Performing ushering duties were Scott Marchbanks, Dan Ogden, Bill Hearst and Jerry Greer.

Miss Gina Beemer, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and Chance Deunsing, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

A reception followed the ceremony at Ramada Inn where Miss Janice Hotson presided at the guestbook. Miss Mona Scrivner and Miss Kathy Hale attended the gifts.

The couple will reside in Warrensburg where the bride is a junior at Central Missouri State University. The groom is a senior at CMSU.

Mrs. J. O. McMurdo, 814 West Fifth, and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Bergman, 1403 East Sixth, announce the Nov. 15 wedding of their granddaughter, Miss Bonnie Lou Bergman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gergman, Independence, to Richard Hanson II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hanson Sr., Pinellas Park, Fla.

Following the wedding at Chapel by the Sea in Pinellas Park, the couple flew to Rome, Italy, for their honeymoon. They will reside in Pinellas Park.

Quotable Women

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Here are some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"If I am asked today what I think about 25 years of marriage, I can answer with equal simplicity and conviction, 'I am for it.'" Queen Elizabeth II on her anniversary.

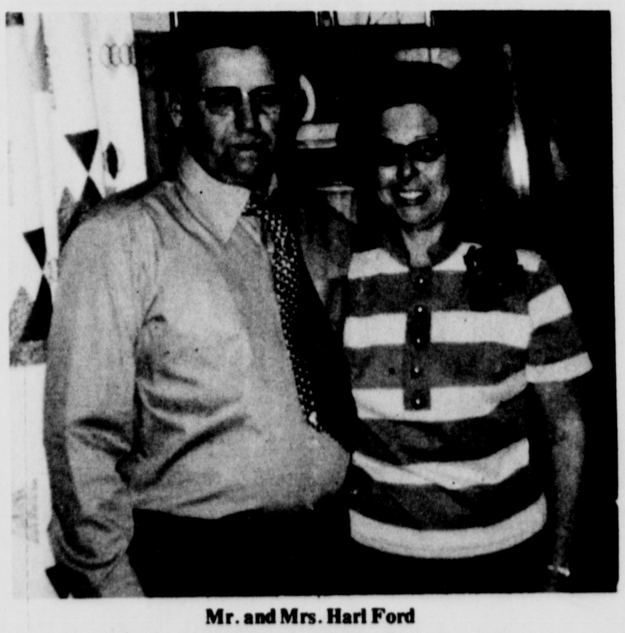
———

"My own future is subordinate to considerations about the future of the party." Democratic National Committee Chairman Jean Westwood.

———

"Our primary goal will be child care legislation and we hope to achieve a broad-based program for all women." Carol Burris, in announcing the formation of Women's Lobby Inc., in Washington.

Anniversary Celebrated



Mr. and Mrs. Harl Ford

Mr. and Mrs. Harl Ford, Route 2, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary with an open house Nov. 12 at their home.

Hosting the event that 60 persons attended were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Ford, Columbia.

Adorning the serving table was a centerpiece of yellow and bronze mums, apricot carnations and sprigs of bittersweet. A four tiered cake was baked and decorated by their niece, Mrs. Oliver Lackman. Serving were Mrs. Lackman, Mrs. Charles McQueen and Mrs. Melvin M. Thierfelder, all nieces of the couple.

At the guest book and gift table was Mrs. Benny Vanderlinden.

Mrs. Ford, the former Jean Thierfelder and Harl Ford were married Nov. 6, 1947, at the home of the late Rev. A. W. Kokendoffer, here.

The couple has two grandsons.

Welcome President

Critical Of Police For Their Methods

LONDON (AP) — British police were under attack Saturday for giving Queen Elizabeth's daughter Princess Anne only a warning for two speeding violations.

A truckers' union leader was in no doubt that in similar circumstances one of his members would have been taken into court instead of being given a friendly warning.

"I'm really bitter," declared Transport and General Workers Union executive Alex Kitson. "Twice she has been warned — how many times does this have to happen before she is charged?

"I have drivers who have gone 30 years without a conviction," he said. "But they don't get such sympathetic treatment. And driving is their livelihood."

Three members of Parliament joined in a chorus of criticism. Laborite Arthur Latham wrote to the government demanding a refund of fines he had paid for two speeding convictions and snorted: "If I don't get them I shall know there is one law for royalty and one for the rest of us."

Princess Anne has been featured in the press recently for her automotive exploits and for riding to hounds in defiance of a royal taboo against fox hunting.

The princess was first stopped by a police highway patrol early this month on a freeway north of London. She was driving her sports car over Britain's 70 miles per hour limit, reports said. No action was taken.

On Nov. 11 she was again flagged down and accused of speeding. She was said to have been going more than 80 m.p.h.

Prominent Businessman Dead; Age 84

Stein served as president of the Kansas Chamber of Commerce from 1948 through 1950 and was a former mayor and city commissioner of Atchison.

He was president of Stein Laboratories, Inc. of Atchison, and a trustee of Midwest Research Institue of Kansas City.

He was credited with inventing the first electric radio in 1925, produced in Atchison under the name Steinite until the company was sold and moved to Chicago in the 1930s.

Survivors include his widow, one son, Frederick Jr. of Atchison, and a sister, Mrs. Effie Hart of Dodge City.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. Monday at Trinity Episcopal Church in Atchison.

Oranges on 'Plentiful Food' List

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department's Plentiful Foods list for January will feature fresh oranges.

The department, in its monthly report for economy-minded food shoppers, says that fresh oranges will be in abundant supply in January.

Other plentifuls on the list are frozen concentrated orange juice and canned orange juice, cranberry sauce, rice, dry beans, and broiler-fryers.

Foods in abundant supply often can be had at attractive consumer prices. The department makes up its list of such foods from fact-finding sources available in government and the agricultural industry.

"The 1972-73 harvest of early, mid-season, and navel oranges is estimated to be 30 per cent greater than last season's large yield. Ample stocks of frozen orange concentrate and canned juice are available, thus assuring plentiful quantities of fresh fruit and juice in January, the report said.

It said that total production of cranberries is forecast at more than 2 million barrels and there are large inventories of frozen and processed cranberries and canned cranberry sauce. Rice production and the dry bean crop will be greater than last year. There also will be an ample supply of broilers and fryers although the production in January will probably be slightly less than in January 1972, the report said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chain stores have been reminded by the Agriculture Department that they must obtain an animal dealer's license under the Animal Welfare Act if they sell or exhibit certain wild animals for any purpose.

Regulations under the act cover all chain stores that handle animals from the wild, such as monkeys, ocelots, anteaters and kinkajous.

Such coverage applies whether the wild animals are offered for sale as pets, exhibited to promote the sale of other pets or displayed on the store's premises for any other reason.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chile's crop production may be down sharply this year, the Agriculture Department reports.

This year's crop is the first one for which all production decisions were made during the administration of socialist President Salvador Allende. The department's Economic Research Service says the cause of the decline in crops cannot be clearly identified with changes introduced by the Allende administration.

The report says Chile's cattle numbers decreased precipitiously shortly after Allende took over. There were reports that 200,000 head were smuggled out of Chile.

Under Allende, who took office on Nov. 4, 1970, land reform efforts are being based on the formation of large farm cooperatives rather than the small, owner-operated farms emphasized by the previous government of Eduardo Frei, ERS says.

Frei's plan was to gradually parcel out expropriated lands to workers. Allende, by contrast, established Agrarian Reform Centers which abolish individual owership except for the worker's house and garden. The Centers are designed to end discrimination and class stratification, features Allende criticized in the earlier administration, the ERS report says.

Continue Hearing For 15-Year-Old

MARYVILLE, Mo. (AP) — Magistrate Judge Montgomery L. Wilson has continued a preliminary hearing until Dec. 4 for a 15-year-old boy charged in the slayings of four members of a Conception, Mo., farm family.

Wilson also took under advisement Friday a motion to return the case of Benedict Louis Kemper to juvenile court. The magistrate said he would not rule on the motion until he receives a mental report on the youth now being tested at the Fulton State Hospital.

Kemper is charged in the gunshot deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Merrigan, their daughter, Helen Ann, 16, and their son, William, 15, on Oct. 11.

The new preliminary hearing was set with the understanding it would be continued again if the report from Fulton had not been completed.

Possibly heralding the modern military draft, the government of ancient Egypt required every able-bodied man to devote at least several months a year to work on the pyramids.

Indict Smugglers

U.S. attorney Robert A. Morse announced at a press conference that 20 persons were indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of operating a vast heroin smuggling operation. Assistant U.S. attorney Thomas Puccio said the ring brought 1,100 pounds of heroin, worth more than $2.5 million in street value, into the country. Standing, left to right, are John O'Neil, Bureau of Narcotics; Puccio; Edward J. Boyd, fifth assistant U.S. attorney in charge of criminal prosecution; Albert Seeley, assistant special agent, narcotics, smuggling, Customs Department; Frank V. Monastero, associate regional director, Bureau of Narcotics; and Customs Department special agent Paul Boulard. (UPI)

Mysterious Sub Is Target For Mines

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Norwegian navy frigates dropped antisubmarine mines in the outer part of the Sognefjord on Friday night after new contacts with a suspected submarine were reported, a spokesman for the Norwegian defense staff said Saturday.

The spokesman did not disclose details of the new contacts, but did not rule out the possibility that they involved "more than one unidentified submarine in the area."

In London, the British Defense Ministry said it was investigating a report that the mystery submarine in Norwegian territory was Russian and that there had been a mutiny aboard.

A Britsh radio ham claimed he picked up a broadcast in English from Albania which said there had been fighting aboard the nuclear-powed vessel and an officer and some crewmen had taken it over for a time.

The mutiny was quelled, the report was quoted as saying, and another Soviet nuclear submarine had sailed to rendezvous in the deep Sognefjord waters.

The Defense Ministry said it had no substantiation of the report from amateur radio monitor David Arthur in Plymouth on England's south coast.

Arthur told newsmen the 16-minute transmission he monitored Friday night was from an Albanian relay station. Albania is a European Communist state which is regarded as following a strongly pro-China and anti-Moscow line.

The broadcast "stated they had sources of information in Moscow that said the submarine had been reported in difficulty in a Norwegian fjord," he said.

"It said there had been a mutiny and an officer was due to face a court-martial when the vessel returned to port."

The Soviet government declared in Moscow Friday that the Norwegian navy was searching for a "mythical submarine" and strongly implied that the search was devised to influence NATO discussions on beefing up the Western Alliance's northern flank.

Temple Workers Granted Rations

ASWAN, Egypt (AP) — Gaber Mohamed lifted the 100-pound sack of wheat to his shoulder and collected a tin of butter, a packet of sugar and one of tea.

A few feet away, just outside the U.N.'s World Food Program (WFP) office, Am Aly was loading his rations on a donkey for the trip home to his wife and three children.

This was the scene as the U.N. agency distributed the first rations to 500 workers engaged in preparing a new site for the 2,000-year-old temples of Philae, endangered by the waters of the Nile river. The new site is the Isle of Agilkia, 500 meters away from the partially submerged temples.

The WFP is contributing $2.4 million in food to the workers over the course of the five-year salvage project.

"We want to attach the laborers to the project through their stomach ... in this case to save the ancient heritage," says Gamal Harbi, resident WFP representative.

Most of the men helped build the Egyptian-Soviet Aswan High Dam, within sight up river from the temples. Their forefathers helped the British build the Aswan low dam, just down river, in 1902.

They are no strangers to the burning sun and desert heat of Aswan, and the cold clear rushing waters of the Nile which have swirled around the temples nine months a year for the last 70 years.

Harbi hopes that the restoration of Philae temples, and their removal to the nearby dry site will attract new swarms of tourists to Aswan.

A deafening explosion of 1,500 pounds of dynamite brings shouts of joy from the workers, as a job which would take weeks with pick and air hammer is done in moments—loosening more rock from the island to which the temples are to be moved.

Proceeds from the King Tut Ankhamen exhibit at the British Museum and pledges of contribution from some 20 countries are to finance the $14 million move and renovation.

Hebron Dispute Has an Ugly Look

By MARCUS ELIASON
Associated Press Writer

HEBRON, Israeli-Occupied Jordan (AP) — Abraham, forefather of Jews and Arabs, bought a burial place for his family in this city. Jews and Moslems still are quarreling about it 3,500 years later.

The dispute took on an uglier color this week after a Jewish prayer book mysteriously was torn to pieces and burned.

Jewish settlers in Hebron, just south of Jerusalem, demanded Friday that Israel crack down on the Moslem citizenry. They accused Moslem anti-Semites of desecrating the book.

Hebron Mayor Sheikh Ali Jaabari denied any Moslem would do such a thing, and a police investigation had turned up no Arab suspects over 24 hours after the incident.

The quarrel centers on a cramped cave housing the tombs of Abraham; his wife, Sarah, and two sons Isaac and Ishmael, forefather of the Arabs.

The Moslems, who worship Abraham as Ibrahim, built a mosque over the cave during Ottoman rule and barred Jews from climbing beyond the seventh step to the cave. The ban was removed ceremoniously by Hebron's jubiliant Israeli conquerors in the 1967 Mideast war.

After the war, dozens of Jews moved into Hebron and began conducting prayers at the cave inside the mosque, shoulder to shoulder with Moslem worshippers.

It worked for two years, but the Jewish settlers grew in number to 250 families, and Moslem tempers flared when the military government acceded to a Jewish demand to expand their worshiping area.

Moslem leaders claimed Israel planned to dispossess them of their prayer rights and called on the world to intervene.

Israel said it intended merely to roof-in an open courtyard in the mosque to shelter the additional Jewish visitors. Israelis claimed the Moslems were disgruntled mainly because their religion does not allow "infidels" to practice religious rites inside the house of Allah.

Now THAT's Smart!

What does a farmer do when continued rain and muddy fields prohibit harvesting corn, soybeans and sorghum? He might follow in the footsteps of Orville Heseman, New Minden, Ill., who is shown here taking a break from harvesting sorghum in an extremely wet field — and doing it with ease. The trick: adapt a combine to cat-tracks, giving it more floatation. Hesemen's rig, assembled at the expense of about $2,000, is in the field while others sit idle.

'Cobra Tongue' Has Heart of Kitten

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Howard Cosell, old Cobra tongue himself, has the heart of a kitten.

"Hate letters tear him up," says Chet Forte, producer-director of ABC Television's Monday night pro football. "Even a nasty sign draped over a stadium wall can cut him to the bone."

Forte quarterbacks telecasts from a van outside the stadium. He is often the troublemaker who ignites verbal exchanges between Cosell and fellow announcers Frank Gifford and Don Meredith.

"Last season, on a cold and rainy night in Milwaukee, the 'cast' was working in an uncovered booth at a Packer game," said Forte. "Howard and Don talked from beneath a big umbrella."

During a station-break, Forte whispered through Meredith's earset to yank the umbrella from over Cosell as soon as the cameras were on again.

"Don did and Cosell was furious. It made a great show and that's what I was looking for."

Often, Cosell will suffer bruised feelings and begin to sulk during a Monday night show. "He'll stop talking for three or four minutes—which instantly tells us things aren't normal—and I have to find some way to uncork his mouth again."

Monday night football was an instant success and continues to capture an average audience of 30-35 million persons. ABC took the gamble by obtaining rights for about $8.5 million a season. NBC and CBS are now talking about bidding when the deal runs out after 1973 and the price should skyrocket.

"Letters from fans continue to pour in," said Forte.

Forte described Gifford, who calls the play-by-play, as "a hard worker who watches films, talks to coaches and keeps up to date on hundreds of figures and facts."

Cosell was the first announcer to be sought when the format began. He had long been a radio sportscaster on the network, earning well over $50,000 a year, but this was to be his great break as the sleepy-eyed one entered his fifties.

Cosell now commands $5,000 per speech. He makes movies, commercials and guest shots on such shows as Flip Wilson, Dinah Shore and Johnny Carson.

He will earn better than $250,000 in 1972.

"There's no middle ground on Howard," said Forte. "You love him or you hate him...but, most important, you watch him."

Meredith was finishing his up-and-down quarterbacking career with the Dallas Cowboys when ABC began formulating Monday night football. CBS was talking to him about being a color announcer.

Gifford, sources at ABC say, talked Dandy Don into the ABC deal although Frank was still talking for money at CBS. Then, less than a year later, Gifford changed microphones.

"Nobody would've forcast such instant success for Meredith," Forte said. "Women love him, after all he looks like a candidate for the centerspread of Cosmopolitan. And, male fans respect his knowledge and generally enjoy his humor."

While Gifford and Cosell jam their brains with material before going on the air every Monday night, the Danderoo shows up bone dry and just lets it fly.

"It would ruin us if Meredith ever tried to prepare himself," Forte said. "With him and Frank, it gives us two gods and Cosell. Or two roses and a thorn."

Support Confidentiality Issue

Although the Thanksgiving holiday may have reduced the number of responses, those reading the latest Democrat-Capital survey gave 100 per cent support to newsmen's insistence that they be permitted to protect their sources.

The question asked: "It is urged that forcing newsmen to reveal confidential sources to judges and grand juries threatens the free flow of information to the public. Based on what you know, do you think newsmen should be required to name all sources and turn over their notes and other material to judges and juries?"

According to B.W. Wiley, Houstonia, "If our federal government can succeed in taking over the press and all newsmen, they will have it made for the next four years. . . "

William Lehmann, Route 5, qualified his answer. He said "newsmen should be required to name all sources when the matter has to do with our security as a nation." Otherwise he favors protecting the confidentiality of news sources.

Robert L. Phillips, no address listed, wrote: "First, it is necessary to ascertain exactly what the issue is: Are not newsmen entitled to the same inalienable rights as the general populace? If the answer to this question is yes, then the issue is: How much power may the government of our country exercise over its citizenry? Can the government capriciously circumscribe rights previously thought inalienable?

"I feel the answer is no. The Declaration of Independence speaks of certain rights — life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The people of the United States continue to possess these rights, but the passage of time apparently has engendered apathetic attitudes. It is important to remember that government is the voice of the people, and as long as it functions as such, infractions upon individual liberties can be eliminated. These people must, however, keep a constant vigil to protect themselves from governmental usurpation," he wrote.

Phillips added, "We must not forget the inspirational value our democracy has for the conquered and oppressed peoples of the world. We confirm the hopes they hold in their hearts: Freedom, prosperity and greatness. It is for us to insure the continuity and inherent superiority of our government."

DEMOCRAT-CAPITAL SURVEY

Question: City ambulance services have been in the news recently, with the latest step being the city's announcement it would study a city-operated emergency service. Do you think that a city-owned ambulance service would be better than a privately-operated company?

Hale Boggs
...abandon search

Say Arrival Of Winter Ends Search

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — After 39 futile days, the search for House Democratic Leader Hale Boggs has been abandoned because of the onset of winter.

Boggs, Alaska Rep. Nick Begich and two other men have been missing since Oct. 16 on a flight from Anchorage to Juneau.

Air Force Maj. Ken Shelley said the search, officially suspended Friday, will be reopened if any new clues or significant information is uncovered.

Aboard the plane were Boggs, 58; Begich, 40; Russell L. Brown, 37, an aide to Begich, and Don E. Jonz, 38, the pilot.

In Washington, Mrs. Boggs said she was deeply grateful for the effort "and especially for the heart" that had gone into the search.

Official proceedings are expected to begin in Alaska within a few days that could lead to declaring open the House seats to which Boggs and Begich were re-elected. Both wives of the missing congressmen said friends have encouraged them to run for the seats.

Fashion Musicale Scheduled Here

"Happy Holidays," a fashion musical featuring more than 30 Sedalia girls and women modeling 50 of the latest fashion outfits, will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Monday at 204-206 South Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Sperry, chairmen of the event, said all proceeds collected will go to the Missouri Heart Association.

Dramatic and comedy skits will be presented to highlight the presentation of clothing and accessories, according to the Sperrys.

Ann Landers

Is Mama Sick— Or Someone Else?

Dear Ann Landers: May I say something to the young lady who thinks her mother is "sick" because she screams at her? It sounds suspiciously like what goes on at our house.

Our daughter is charming, gracious, sweet and easy-going — everywhere except at home. She says she gets along beautifully with everyone but us, so it must be our fault. She fights with her brothers, sasses me, and ignores her father. She seems to hate me because I insist she do her share of work around here and treat the members of the family with respect. What comes out of that girl's mouth you wouldn't believe. If I talked that way to my mother I would have had my mouth washed out with soap. When I tell her it isn't necessary to say everything she thinks, she insists it is "fakey" not to express an honest opinion.

I know it's hard to grow up these days and I have done my darnedest to help her make the adjustment from adolescent to young lady, but it seems we can't do anything to suit her. Every day there is a family fight of one kind or another and she is the cause. I've worked off a lot of hostility just writing this letter to you, Ann. Do you have any words of encouragement for mothers of teen-age girls like mine? Believe me, we can use some help. — San Juan, Puerto Rico

Dear S.J.: Since you feel better for having written, perhaps you'd profit from counseling. Mothers of teen-agers do indeed have a rough go these days and it may be of some comfort for you to know you have a lot of company. Take heart, all of you who are having bad moments with the "Now Generation" — this, too, shall pass.

Dear Readers: Last June someone sent me a poetic essay which she called "Advice to the Unsure." It began, "Go placidly amid the noise and haste and remember what peace there is in silence." The inspirational prose poem concluded with the notation "Found in St. Paul's Church, Baltimore. Dated 1692."

There hasn't been much peace and silence in my office since I printed that reader's letter. I have learned that the "Baltimore poem" is actually entitled "Desiderata," was written in 1927 by the late Max Ehrmann and appears in a volume entitled "The Poems of Max Ehrmann" published by Crescendo Publishers of 48-50 Melrose Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02116. Copies of "Desiderata," printed on parchment paper, are available from Crescendo of $1.25.

How the work came to be associated with St. Paul's in Baltimore is an interesting story. The Rev. Frederick L. Kates, rector of St. Paul's from 1956 to 1961, had a custom during Lent of putting mimeographed leaflets of an inspirational nature in the pews of the church. One leaflet included a copy of Mr. Ehrmann's poem. Presumably it was picked up by a parishioner, marked "Found in St. Paul's," and passed on from hand to hand. The date "1692" refers to the founding of Old St. Paul's parish, Baltimore's first church.

"Desiderata" has since been reprinted in church magazines, Reader's Digest and even Mary Worth comic strip — often with the misleading attribution. With pleasure, I place the credit where it rightly belongs.

Monsters On Way Out

By JERRY BUCK
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The monsters are folding their wings and packing away their claws, and science-fiction films are better for it, say the people who make them.

"I see science fiction improving," said screenwriter Richard Matheson, "and I see the biggest improvement in television films. It's a very popular subject. I think they're finally off the monster kick."

At least nine science-fiction pilots are being prepared for the next television season, and each of the three networks is expected to have such a series.

Matheson, who wrote the screenplays for "The Incredible Shrinking Man," "Duel" and "Nightstalker," the highest-rated movie ever made for television, is one of a number of filmmakers here for the first international Science Fiction and Fantasy Film Convention.

Nearly 2,000 science-fiction buffs from around the world are gathered here to watch 75 films being shown around the clock from Friday through Sunday, to hear the filmmakers and to buy and swap souvenirs.

D. C. Fontana, former story editor for "Star Trek" and creator of a new television pilot called "The Winds of Space," also said he believes the monster era is over.

"It's getting better because the old criterion used to be something like 'The Giant Squash That Devoured Philadelphia,' " Miss Fontana said. "It was always a monster threatening a city."

Forrest Ackerman, wearing Bella Lugosi's old tuxedo and a Count Dracula ring, said he is pleased that the filmmakers are at last turning to the classic authors. He said at least 25 books are under option by the studios.

Teen-Ager Is Arrested In Sniping Case

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP) — A teen-ager has been arrested following the wounding of a San Mateo County sheriff's deputy who was struck by sniper fire while riding in a helicopter over Portola Valley.

Deputy Jack R. Gerhardt, 45, spent more than three hours in surgery late Friday for repair of a damaged artery in his thigh and a shattered left wrist. His condition was listed as serious.

Deputies said the high-powered bullet came through the floor of the chopper as it cruised at 400 feet, through Gerhardt's leg and wrist and then passed out the roof.

The youth, whose identity was not disclosed, was in possession of a high-powered rifle when picked up, one of three guns among four boys in a group, officers said.

He was booked for investigation of assault with intent to commit murder, said Lt. Gerald Fitting.

Officers said the helicopter, piloted by Dave McIntryre, was patroling the remote, forested area after residents reported hearing gunfire. McIntyre said that, after Gerhardt was hit, he landed the craft in a ballpark, summoned an ambulance for his bleeding passenger and called for help.

Found Wallet Long Ago; Seeks Owner

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A Utah deer hunter is looking for the owner of a wallet he found 12 years ago.

The hunter says he and a companion divided $140 they found in the wallet, which they discarded.

Now, he has asked a local newspaper to help him find the wallet's owner so he can return the money with interest. "I would like to make restitution for this mistake," the hunter wrote.

Opening lead—♥ J

By Oswald & James Jacoby

There is one exception to the general rule of opening the bidding with the higher ranking of two five-card suits.

South has almost enough to open with a forcing two-bid and selects one club in preference to one spade because he wants to have the bidding kept open.

It is rare indeed that a club bid is passed out. Even if partner can't respond, the opponents are likely to get into the bidding. On the other hand, spade bids are passed out a good deal more frequently.

Today's hand is no exception. If South opened with one spade the chances are that he would wind up playing the hand right there. North has only five points and will not want to try even one no-trump.

The club opening does give North a chance to respond. Without four clubs he would probably have tried one diamond; with four clubs to the king he pulls himself together and raises to two clubs.

North isn't at all happy when his partner blasts to six clubs and South isn't too happy when he sees the dummy. He is pretty sure that he will bring the slam home if he knows how to play it, but there are so many possible lines of play that he should study the hand for a long time before starting.

Fortunately for South's peace of mind and the North-South partnership, all lines work and there is no way to lose the slam.

Offshore Oil Exploration Vulgarizes Coastline of America

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) — "Our rig can take a 39 degree list," drawled the Texas tool-pusher into the dram of highland malt. "When that sea boils, everyone's sick at the rail like new hands on a destroyer."

Chuck Bonnard, from Odessa by way of Abadan, Kuwait, Abu Dhabi, Luanda and a dozen other boom towns, was explaining why it costs 10 times more to coax oil from the steely gray waters of the North Sea off Scotland than any place else in the world.

"Winds, wave and depth — that's the difference right there."

While the waitress in the mini-kilt served his "Dallas burger," new to the menu that week, Chuck told about "pushing that bit" through 500 feet of water in British Petroleum's "forties Field," buffeted by waves 95-foot high and winds clocked at 135 knots and "sometimes visibility zero in that blasted haar," which is a glostly sea mist socking in the Scottish coast.

Last year Hamilton Brothers, a Denver firm, worked all through the winter and lost 30 days, 25 per cent of its drilling time, to weather. This year Glomar III, like most of the rigs working off Aberdeen, will pick up its buoyant steel legs from the sea and head south for the season.

Since Britain awoke one day three years ago to find 610 million tons of oil on its stormy northern doorstep — as much as Nigeria or Iraq — Scotland has become in the words of Gordon Campbell, secretary of state for Scotland, "the Texas of Europe." And Aberdeen, "the gray, granite city by the sea," home of the Scotch joke and a baffling, sing-song accent.

"When a Louisianian meets a real Aberdonian out there on the platform, they need English subtitles to get through to each other," said Frank James, an Oklahoman here to set up a school to train drillers for SEDCO, Southeastern Drilling Co., one of the largest rig operators.

His office was an old bonded whisky warehouse in a narrow cobblestone street just off Aberdeen's busy, odiferous fish market. Secretaries were on their hands and knees sorting out the 1,500 applications to the school from throughout Scotland, where the 7 per cent unemployment rate is twice as high as in England.

"There's a critical shortage of experienced offshore drillers," said Frank James, who has worked on rigs around the world from Morgan City and Muscat to Korea and New Zealand. "Most of the soldiers of fortune who went wherever oil was found came from Oklahoma and Texas. Now that supply is drying up."

Scotch lads used to hauling in cod nets off Iceland possess, in the opinion of most American oilmen here, the proper combination of muscle and guts to make excellent oil roughnecks. "And they have an optimistic outlook on the weather," added Texan Bobby Phillips. "No matter how that sleet blows, they always say, 'It's nae bad today.'"

Scottish Boom

Aberdeen's docks bustle with activity as oil supply boats swell the Scottish port's normal traffic. Three years ago Britain awoke to find 60 million tons of oil on its northern doorstep. If Scotland has thus become, as claimed, the Texas of Europe, Aberdeen bids fair to become its Houston. The forecast is for 10,000 new jobs to be created in Scotland over the next 10 years, an attractive prospect in view of the present unemployment rate of seven per cent.

(AP)

New firms moving into Northeast Scotland at the rate of two a week are expected to spend more than $2.5 billion over the next 10 years and create 10,000 new jobs in developing the petroleum potential of the British sector of the North Sea. Already billing itself as the "offshore oil capital of Europe," Aberdeen predicts a 40,000 increase in its present 178,000 population by 1980, and twice as many by the turn of the century when 250 rigs may proliferate from the current eight off her shores.

But city fathers are worried that environmental changes will dull the mica-glitter of its famous granite gray fascade, the gracious downtown buildings hewed from a quarry outside town in the opening decade of the 19th century.

They fear the brawling bustle of the oil boom will vulgarize the charm of Royal Deeside, the river road of castles, heather-covered moors and fine golf courses that the queen follows to her Scottish home at Balmoral.

They fret about rising house prices, a growing water shortage, overcrowded hotels and the alarming number of shop girls turning to part-time prostitution to oblige the big spending roustabouts, who get one week ashore for every two spent out on the rig.

Aberdeen, which became prosperous because of the shoals of herring offshore, is concerned about possible pollution of its fishing grounds from the planned 110-mile pipeline on the seabed, and navigation hazards from the anchored rigs. Its 122-boat trawler fleet, third largest in Britain, already is miffed because the habor board suspended work on a new fish market to concentrate on a $3.2 million government grant to make the harbor tidal for deep draught oil service boars.

"The oil boys get all the breaks and they're stealing all our best young men," grumbled Ronnie Grant, who described himself as "drunk or sober the finest trawler cook in the world." He argued that the drilling platforms "would chase away the haddock the way the pulpmills drove off the salmon in the Don," the river winding through town.

James and other oilmen sensitive to Scottish fears patiently argue back that "oil rigs create shoals and reefs. Why the fishing is better than ever in the Gulf of Mexico."

Resignedly surrendering to the Scotch national disease, BP altered the site where its pipeline will come ashore on the coast north of town so as not to distract golfers on the 13th hole of the Cruden Bay course.

Down deep, but on a less urgent level, there is concern here about the Americanization of Aberdeen. So far, upwards of 1,000 Americans have taken up residence in town, not counting the bachelor types in the hotels and the transient experts coming and going with every plane and train.

There is no American colony as such. The Americans have deliberately taken pains to scatter themselves about town and through the suburbs, just as big American firms are scattered all up and down the coast.

The Petroleum Club, just getting launched, includes Norwegians, Germans, Dutchmen, Danes and Frenchmen, in addition to the Americans and Scots, reflecting the many nations engaged in the North Sea production and peripheral service activities.

Since the days of the clipper ships, Aberdeen always has flaunted a wordly air. You don't find cowboy boots and Stetson hats on Union Street, the wide main stem, anymore than you see bow-legged laddies in tartan kilts and tam-o'-shanters promenading with knobby walking sticks.

"The only real evidence of an American invasion is rocketing house prices," said John Hutten, development officer for the Northeast Scotland Development authority. "That and the new American school."

There are other more subtle signs. Bourbon is a mainstay in the bar at the Royal Hotel. Scottish butchers are now wise in the ways of preparing their best Aberdeen-Angus cuts for backyard barbecuing.

Arriving back in town after two weeks on a rig and a two-hour, 185-mile commute from the North Sea by helicopter, the thirsty roughneck finds no comparison between Aberdeen in the '70s and Tulsa in the '30s. Bars close every night at 10 and, except in resident lounges of the hotels, are shuttered on Sunday. The only strip joint is three miles out of town and almost Victorian by Soho standards.

But roughnecks aren't as blatantly rough as they used to be. Most globe-trotting oil hunters today are family men who easily adapt to local customs.

The only rivalry among rigs nowadays springs from the three cans of beer allowed daily to crews on British platforms, while the American rigs are bone-dry in the Puritanical tradition of the U.S. Navy.

Still, they like Aberdeen for its peace and quiet, its cleanliness and its riot of flowers in all kinds of weather.

American "Invasion"

An American high school has just opened in this converted convalescent hospital in Aberdeen. Some consider this divisive in a Scottish community renowned for its fine schools. But this school caters to a special class with special needs: children of American oilmen now working in the area as a result of discoveries of oil in the North Sea off Scotland. So far there are about 1,000 Americans resident in the town, and Aberdonians are voicing concern about future "Americanization."

1,200 New Jobs To Be Available

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City area youths' prospects for summer employment brightened considerably with the announcement of 1,200 job openings at Worlds of Fun, the $20.5-million family recreation center due to open next spring.

Stan McIlvaine, the center's general manager, said Friday he would begin accepting applications and holding interviews at the Missouri Division of Employment Security in Gladstone Dec. 28-31.

Further interviews will be conducted at Worlds of Fun after Jan. 2, 1973. Applicants must be at least 16 and have proof of age to be considered for spring weekend and full-time summer employment.

The employes, or "Ambassadors," will "operate the park," McIlvaine said.

Indian Theater Teaches Survival

NEW YORK (AP) — Some actors with a cause, the American Indian Theater Ensemble, are saying it with a show compounded of pretty tribal myth and shabby realism.

Just about a year and $100,000 after launching, the first troupe ever composed entirely of America's original citizens is on cross-country trek, using drama as a force for ethnic pride and recognition.

"We believe," says Hanay Geiogamah, founder-leader, "we can function as a component of the overall movement to achieve true equality and self-determination."

After a critically-praised debut in their training quarters here, the players bussed west to Chickasha and Norman, Okla., Lawrence, Kan., Sante Fe, N.M., Fort Thompson, S.D., Chicago, and this weekend are in Minneapolis.

"People are just flabbergasted when they see what we've accomplished," chirps Ellen Stewart, the tireless off-Broadway activist who served as stepmother for Indian Enterprise.

Geiogamah, a stocky Kiowa-Delaware, picked Miss Stewart's La Mama Experimental Theater Club as the place where his company of 16 novices could best learn acting discipline and techniques. Among tribes represented in the group are Aztec, Aleut, Navajo, Blackfeet, Cheyenne, Osage, Apache, Pueblo, Shawnee and Cherokee.

From the start, the leader called Hanay by everyone because of that tongue-twisting surname, insisted the purpose of the group would be neither romantic nor vengeful.

"When I started to think about theater work I wanted to use it to crucify whites," he said. "Instead, what we want to take is the approach of survival in the future rather than reproach for the past."

Seed funds were provided by the National Endowment for the Arts, the Ford and Rockefeller Foundations, plus some help from the New York State Arts Council and Lutheran organizations that held parties and sold furniture.

Nearly all the income was used up in the nine-month schedule of classes, bed and board.

The premiere showcase comprises a mood-setting prologue of dance and song, followed by two playlets of extreme contrast.

In "Na Haaz Zan," a surprising pre-Darwinian Navajo myth of evolution and creation is mimed. When the world was young, the legend unfolds, life developed through black, blue and yellow stages; from insect to bird to man.

The folklore fragment, which ends on a note of benevolent coexistence among all creatures, is related with touching, ritualistic simplicity. Far different is "Body Indian," a lurid, surrealistic melodrama by Geiogamah.

A group of the contemporary heirs of idyllic myth lurch through a non-stop drunken spree, cruelly clawing at the one participant who has funds to keep their alcoholic flight from reality going.

Only occasional, oblique references are made to the world outside, but bitter satire is fiercely implicit. The troupe performs with an intensity of feeling that makes up for script shortcomings and their own still-limited histrionic skills. It must be remembered, too, that this is stagecraft designed for performance in places unused to thespic sophistication.

"We want to find a home for the group that is centrally located in Indian country, where we can develop works and then take them to the reservations and urban areas where Indians live," the founder asserts. "Eventually we want to organize a performing arts group within every Indian tribe that is large enough and viable enough to sustain one. If we can do this, then there is no question that Indian culture will thrive and evolve in the future."

Indian Theater First

Cheerful members of the American Indian Theater Ensemble — with spouses and offspring — pose outside the La Mama Experimental Theater Club in New York City. They're the first troupe ever composed entirely of America's original citizens. The Ensemble's 16 novice performers had been training here for nine months. Now they're taking on tour a show of dance, song and playlets, using drama as a force for ethnic pride and recognition.

SALES

SALES REPRESENTATIVE with MANAGEMENT POTENTIAL

Prime division of a 53-year old, NYSE listed, Industrial manufacturer seeks a salesman capable of earning in excess of $18,000 per year for selected openings in the surrounding area of St. Louis. In 1971, for the eleventh consecutive year, we increased sales by 20% and management positions proportionately. We need salesmen capable of rapid growth to continue to expand at this pace. Our success is the result of giving each salesman the opportunity to reach their full potential.

NO TECHNICAL BACKGROUND NECESSARY
You will receive complete training plus unusual fringe benefits. Advanced research, and product development and national recognition provide excellent climate for success.

Starting income up to $15,000 based on experience and qualifications.

38—Business Opportunities

DON'T READ THIS AD

Unless you mean business... We are now considering qualified applicants in your area to become a working part of our National "Hot Food" Distributor System. You are not applying for a job! You are applying for a very high profit business of your own. NO EXPERIENCE NECESSARY — NO SELLING INVOLVED. This business can be started part time — no need to quit your job. Can be expanded full time with company financing. We need people we can depend on. Our products are nationally famous "Hot Food" items made by Heinz. We have over 36 varieties of Hot Soups and Hot Entrees, such as Beef Stew, Chicken & Dumplings, Chili & Beans and on and on. We have all of America's favorites. All these delicious products are sold from the latest in automatic vending equipment. Your route will be established and installed by us. Your age is not a factor, if you qualify. Perfect for a nice couple to operate as a family business.

CASH INVESTMENT REQUIRED

PLAN ONE $2,147.00
PLAN TWO $3,432.00
PLAN THREE $6,795.00

AUTHORIZED DATSUN PARTS & SERVICE
Announcing the new Datsun 610.
The Datsun 610 is something altogether new . . . a luxury economy car. A Datsun Original. Choose the new 2-Door Hardtop, 4-Door Sedan or 5-Door Wagon, and you get a car that's bigger, more powerful, just plain more car than any economy model has a right to be. And it comes at a Datsun price.
There's a new 1800 cc overhead cam engine and power-assist front disc brakes. The Sedan and Hardtop have a new independent rear suspension. As for the luxury, you've got to drive it to believe it. Fully reclining bucket seats; tinted glass, carpeting and custom vinyl interior are just a beginning.
The new Datsun 610 series . . . performance, luxury and economy.

"At Home" Section: Christmas Gifts You Give Your Home

How We Decorate At Christmas—By Mrs. Bing Crosby

Should You Teach Your Pre-School Child to Read?

Ask Them Yourself

Want to ask a famous person a question? Send the question on a postcard, to "Ask," Family Weekly, 641 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. We'll pay $5 for published questions. Sorry, we can't answer others.

FOR LIONEL HAMPTON

Not many blacks favored President Nixon, yet you continued your vigorous support of him for reelection and even wrote a campaign song, "We Need Nixon." Why?—Lynn Jones, East Lansing, Mich.

● My relationship with Mr. Nixon has been similar to the inner workings of a piano: You need both the black and white keys to make good harmony. He supports this doctrine and has ever since I first met him in 1946, when he represented my district in Congress. Through his leadership I have been able to build needed housing in Harlem under Federal funding and also spread the seed of goodwill to other nations through my travels as his musical ambassador. The song, written in collaboration with Elizabeth Firestone, is like any other that sings the deeds of a great man, from folk heroes to world leaders.

FOR NINA VAN PALLANDT

Do you think the Clifford Irving affair helped you or hurt you in the long run?—L. H. E., Elmira, N.Y.

● Professionally I guess it helped, because few people in this country had ever heard of me before. But on the personal side, if I didn't have a sense of humor, I think I would have blown my brains out over what happened.

FOR JOE NAMATH

I've heard that you were offered a good baseball contract your last year in high school. Why did you turn it down?—Douglas Watson, Niagara Falls, N.Y.

● My mother always wanted one of her sons to go to college, and this ambition would not have been realized if I, the youngest son, had not gone to the University of Alabama. So I turned down the baseball offer.

FOR PAT BOONE

Do you discipline your four daughters?—M. Manning, Prescott, Ariz.

● Yes—and I still believe in the old-fashioned spanking, even for teenage girls. I got my last spanking when I was 17 when my mother bent me over the bathtub and let me have it with a sewing machine belt. Cherry, our oldest girl, got her last spanking when she was 17—so far. She had shown a lack of respect for my wife Shirley.

FOR JON VOIGT, star of "Deliverance"

You talk to a lot of young people. Are they still deserting small towns for the big cities?—R. J., Canton, Ohio

● When I was in Texas filming "Midnight Cowboy," the young people I talked with told me that after their schooling the first thing they'd do was head for a big city. Recently, in Southern California, kids told me, "I could never leave here, it's the best place I know." In the last five years young people have begun to appreciate their small-town surroundings more.

FOR MARIO PUZO

I have read different reports about why you wrote "The Godfather." What was the real reason that you wrote it?—S. Kuhn, Kokomo, Ind.

● There was only one reason I wrote it—money!

FOR EDIE ADAMS

Do you really smoke cigars?—F. A., Oceanside, Calif.

● I do in nightclub acts or when I go on a diet. I particularly like Blueberry and Cherry flavored cigars..

FOR MICKI KING, 1972 Olympic Gold Medal diver

After the terrorism in Munich, do you think there'll be another Olympics?—L. B. C., Akron, Ohio

● Oh, yes, there will be. We can't let a handful of terrorists stop us. There isn't an athlete in the U.S. who feels the Olympics should be eliminated. The good that an Olympiad establishes outshadows even the terrible thing that happened.

FOR MICHAEL CONSTANTINE, "Room 222's" Mr. Kaufman

Has your TV series, "Room 222," had any influence on schools or teachers that you know of?—N. R., Winnetka, Ill.

● Some, I think. A friend was talking to a guy in education who was thinking of quitting, but decided, on the basis of Mr. Kaufman in "Room 222," that "Maybe you can fight City Hall, maybe the right man and the right approach as a principal can do some good." He didn't leave education, and now, two years later, he's a principal. That was nice to hear about.

FOR SEN. STROM THURMOND (R.-S.C.)

Why shouldn't Americans be able to travel anywhere they want? Why are you trying to restrict them?—G. E. L., Highland Park, Ill.

● The problem is the travel of certain U.S. citizens without authorization to a country in armed conflict with the U.S. It is one thing to have misgivings about war, but quite another to willfully cooperate with an enemy by naively accepting his every assertion as truth and by broadcasting his propaganda to our troops and citizens. The trip of Jane Fonda to Hanoi is an example of the damage that such unrestricted travel can have on our war effort. We can't allow our Nation's security to be threatened by trips of this nature.

"My Toughest Foe"-

FAMILY WEEKLY asked five of the greatest stars in the National Basketball Association to select their toughest opponents—the men they most dread facing in grueling one-on-one confrontations. Making choices among giants isn't easy. But here, after lots of consideration, are the "Stars' own Stars"

JERRY WEST
Los Angeles Guard
Selects:
OSCAR ROBERTSON
Milwaukee Guard

Jerry West, in his 13th season of pro basketball with the Lakers, has shown no signs of slowing down despite the fact that he is carrying 34 years on his frail-looking back. The native of Cheylan, W. Va., led the Lakers to the NBA championship last season with 25.8 points per game and 9.7 assists, and received more votes for the official NBA all-star team than any other player.

"Since he was traded from the Cincinnati Royals to the Milwaukee Bucks three seasons ago," says Jerry, "Oscar has not concentrated on offense nearly as much as he used to. His scoring averages have gone down—he hit his career low of 17.4 points per year last season—but still runs a team as well as anyone in basketball. I rate him my toughest opponent, and have rated him this way ever since we entered the NBA together for the 1960-61 season.

"Oscar is the strongest guard I've ever faced. He's 6-5, weighs 215 pounds, and uses his shoulders and legs to excellent advantage. He has all the moves and all the shots, and he does everything so efficiently and smoothly. Another player said once that he would be willing to pay to watch Oscar Robertson play basketball. That is the kind of player 'The Big O' is.

"When you're defending Oscar you just can't anticipate him or break up his rhythm. If you commit yourself too quickly, he'll go inside of you for an easy layup. And, if you play him loosely, he'll go up for an unimpeded jump shot. Oscar never takes a shot he doesn't want to take."

WALT FRAZIER
New York Guard
Selects:
DICK VAN ARSDALE
Phoenix Guard

Even if he never scored a point, Walt Frazier would be one of the most valuable Knick players. He is an outstanding ballhandler and playmaker. For the last four years Frazier has been named to the NBA all-defensive team. Walt also is an outstanding shooter. He averaged 23.2 points per game last season, making better than 51 percent of his shots from the field.

"When he plays in the backcourt," says Walter, "Dick Van Arsdale of the Phoenix Suns plays me tougher than any other guard in the NBA. Dick is big enough to play both the forward and guard positions: 6-4 and 210. But since we have big guards, he usually plays in the back against us. He's learned how to play guard very well. Dick was a forward for New York when I joined the Knicks in 1967. He's big and strong, and you can't go over him. What's more, he doesn't commit himself, but waits for you to make a move first. Then he reacts quickly and is often able to tie you up effectively.

"I think Dick and his twin brother Tom [of the Kansas City-Omaha Kings] are two of the most underrated players in the NBA. Both play that tough defense that's become such a necessity in pro ball, and both are solid all-round players in all respects."

KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR
Milwaukee Center
Selects:
NATE THURMOND
California Center

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar (formerly Lew Alcindor) is the most potent offensive force in pro basketball today. In each of the past two seasons, Kareem has been the leading scorer in the NBA.

"Though there are several centers who play me well," says Jabbar, "nobody gives me a tougher time, game in and game out, than Thurmond of the Golden State Warriors. Besides being big and strong, at 6-11 and 230 pounds, Nate has taught me things about playing defensive. He plays the middle effectively, which hurts our inside game, and consequently forces us to shoot from the outside even when we don't want to.

"I guess one way of describing the way Nate plays the pivot is to call him 'spi-dery'—all arms and legs. When we have the ball I really have to work hard for all my shots. He's so agile and leaps so well, he's more liable to block my field goal attempts than any other center I face.

"Thurmond poses big problems for me defensively, too, because he's an effective outside shooter. Our rebounding suffers when he's hitting his shots from outside, because I have to give up my position under the basket to go out and cover him. Not only does this prevent me from being in good position for the rebound, but Nate also follows up his shots so well that it sometimes seems I have to be in two places at once."

DAVE DeBUSSCHERE
New York Forward
Selects:
SPENCER HAYWOOD
Seattle Forward

Many feel that the Knicks never would have achieved championship caliber had they not acquired Dave DeBusschere. He is not the best shooting forward in the league, nor the best rebounder, but he may be the best defender of all forwards. Last year he was the only unanimous choice to the NBA All-Defensive team.

"I hate to single out this opponent or that opponent as being any tougher than anybody else," demurs Dave. "After all, basketball is a tough enough game without suggesting that some guys might not be as tough as they think they are!

"But, okay, I'm supposed to talk about who's the toughest forward. So here's my choice of choices . . . The one man I'm happy I won't have to face too many more years is the young forward of the Seattle Supersonics, Spencer Haywood. He's only 23 years old, but he's already great and going to get better as the years go by. I'm lucky I'll be retired in another couple years. Spence is very aggressive on the boards, and he's strong, weighing about 230 pounds and standing 6-8. I have trouble with him every time we play Seattle. I just try to stop his best moves—and he's got a lot of them. I think someday he'll be recognized as the best forward in the game . . . and that day might be soon."

JOHN HAVLICEK
Boston Forward
Selects:
BILL BRADLEY
New York Forward

John Havlicek is probably the hardest-working player in the NBA. He's in constant motion every minute he's on the court. Last year Havlicek was the third leading scorer in the league with a 27.5 average.

"When he first came into the league," recalls John, "Bill Bradley of the New York Knicks was a shooter, period. Now he's become a fine defensive player. He's the toughest forward in the league for me to play. Bill had a fine series against me in last season's Eastern championship series in the NBA when New York beat us four out of five.

"Against me, opponents try to fill the lanes to keep me from getting the ball. My game is movement. I may be the worst one-on-one player in the league. I don't like to handle the ball a lot, and the defense knows that when I do get it, I intend to shoot it or pass it. I'll rarely drive in for a layup.

"Most of the forwards who give me trouble are of the same 'in-between' size as myself and Bradley, able to play both upfront and in the back-court in certain situations. There's Dick and Tom Van Arsdale, and Mike Riordan of the Baltimore Bullets, all hard-working, very quick.

"When he was with Phoenix, Paul Silas caused a lot of trouble for me with his aggressiveness and hustle. He always was looking to crash the boards, or to follow up his shots. Now that he's on our side, I can leave the problem of trying to contend with him to the other forwards in the NBA."

Too Much Love or Too Little...

Why Can't We Learn to Treat Animals Sanely?

By Felicia Ames

"Could we perhaps take stock of our cruel and silly selves and begin to treat pets with respect for the wonderful animals they are? Not surrogate pampered children, nor inanimate objects on which to vent our hostilities, but sensitive, intelligent creatures who give us so much and ask so little?"

One dark night, in a small town in Missouri, a group of boys untied a four-year-old friendly German shepherd that had never known anything but affection from his family, tied the rope to the back of a pickup truck, and then proceeded to torture the animal by dragging him around town. When the dog was finally found, his fur was covered with dirt and blood, and much of his skin had been ripped off—in some places down to the bone. He recovered, but only barely.

In another state, a woman came to pick up her cat at the veterinarian's where it had been left to be spayed. Taking the cat in her arms to leave, she suddenly burst into tears at the joy of reunion. They had been separated one night.

These two extremes of pet owner behavior—the sadist and the "nut"—have probably been with us ever since animals came to live with man. They are certainly familiar to SPCAs and other humane organizations. Many of us have witnessed them first hand. Oddly enough, although the behavior patterns represent opposite ends of a spectrum, they have a good deal in common. Both reflect the mistaken premise that pets are people and can be treated with as much hostility or adulation as feelings permit. Furthermore, adulation is often cruelty in disguise.

Take the recent case of the lady who kept 107 cats in one house in the mistaken idea she was doing them a favor. Not only did she succeed in creating a neighborhood nuisance, but the cats, when rescued, were in deplorable states of health. Another equally well-meaning but eccentric woman kept 13 dogs in a small house, allowing them to roam during the day without tags or license. Several of the dogs had bitten children, and all of them had kept the neighbors awake with their around-the-clock barking. When she was convicted and sent to jail, "humaniacs" complained that she, not the dogs, had been mistreated.

Dr. Dennis Leigh, a British psychiatrist, recently told a convention of veterinarians that pet-owner relationships can frequently get out of hand. He cited three categories: The Exhibitionist, who chooses an exotic pet, such as an ocelot or toucan, to call attention to himself; The Insecure —e.g. the meek little man who needs a big Irish Wolfhound or Great Dane to ease his fears; and the Eccentric—sincere people "who often neglect themselves and their families to collect animals they believe they are rescuing from hunger or ill treatment. This can lead the animals as well as their would-be owners to living in filth and squalor."

On the other end of the spectrum is the sadist. Children are often cruel to pets – sometimes inadvertently, through ignorance—but sometimes, I am sad to say, deliberately. My mail is sprinkled with stories of children turning parakeets loose, tying cans to dogs' tails, or setting fires to cats. One such letter from a woman in Alabama described how boys riding by her home every afternoon teased and tormented her fenced-in Dalmatian by peppering him with air rifles or hitting him with well-aimed stones. Police seemed unable to stop them. And what, one might ask, had happened to their parents?

A story of cruelty by children—but instigated by parents – made the papers not long ago. Three boys in their early teens were found near Plainfield, New Jersey trying to drown five puppies in a brook. Upset and in tears, they said their mother had sent them to do the grisly job because she couldn't keep the pups.

Dog and cat poisoners—those cowardly killers who periodically strike communities—are in a class by themselves. There are no epithets strong enough to condemn the person who will set out strychnine disguised in food for unwary pets to eat and die painful, lingering deaths. Less spectacular but even more prevalent are the people who deprive their animals of food and water for long periods of time, or who abandon them entirely. In a small town in Michigan, three puppies about 12 weeks old were found recently in a trash container behind a store. They were almost dead from starvation and neglect. A caretaker at a summer resort in New Hampshire heard a dog crying in an empty house. He unlocked the door to find a full grown part-Labrador, half-starved, left behind by summer residents who preferred to let him die rather than take him back to the city. My files are full of similar cases of summer abandonment by vacationers who adopt roaming pets for the season, only to leave them behind when it is time to go home.

The case histories go on and on. While at the other side of the pet world, owners are putting up their idolized Bowsers at kennels with piped in music and menus in French; dressing them in mink jackets or blue velvet after-five outfits; bedding them down in baby cribs tied with pink ribbon. In England, they are conducting marriage ceremonies for cats.

Could we, perhaps, take stock of our cruel and silly selves and begin to treat pets with respect for the wonderful animals they are? Not surrogate pampered children, nor inanimate objects on which to vent our hostilities, but sensitive, intelligent creatures who give us so much and ask so little: food, shelter and love. By the way, what ever happened to plain old love?

Christmas Pastries You Can Serve the Whole Year Round

This week, Food Editor Marilyn Hansen makes tea cakes and cookies. "I was asked to bring cookies to serve at the School Christmas Concert. Problem: What kind of cookies could I make that would fit the season but wouldn't be too Christmassy? Here's the way I solved it!"

Marmalade Tea Cakes and Chocolate Pecan Gems have a richness appropriate for Christmas—but can really be served at any tea of the year.

MARMALADE TEA CAKES

½ cup confectioners' sugar
1 egg, separated
¼ cup orange marmalade
1 cup unsifted all-purpose flour
1 cup finely chopped walnuts

1. In medium bowl with electric mixer, beat butter with confectioners' sugar until light and fluffy.

2. Beat in egg yolk and marmalade smoothly. Gradually add flour, beating at low speed until smooth. Cover and refrigerate until dough is firm (about 30 minutes).

3. Beat egg white with fork in small bowl. With floured hands, shape dough into ¾-inch balls. Dip balls into beaten egg white, then into chopped nuts.

4. Preheat oven to 350°F. Place cookies 2 inches apart on ungreased baking sheets. Flatten balls into ¼-inch thickness with bottom of glass. Make indentation in center with fingertip.

5. Bake for 10-12 minutes, or until slightly browned on bottoms. Remove cookies to wire rack with spatula to cool.

GOLDEN FRUIT BARS

1 cup butter (2 sticks), softened
1⅓ cups light brown sugar, packed
2 eggs
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
2⅓ cups unsifted all-purpose flour
1 cup chopped golden raisins
½ cup chopped walnuts
Browned Butter Frosting (recipe below)

1. Preheat oven to 350°F. Grease a 13x9x2 inch pan.

2. In large bowl, with electric mixer at medium-high speed, cream butter and sugar together until light and fluffy.

3. Beat in eggs thoroughly, then add orange and lemon rind.

5. Bake for 25-30 minutes, or until golden brown. Cool completely, then spread with Browned Butter Frosting. Cut into bars. Makes 27 bars

BROWNED BUTTER FROSTING

In medium saucepan slowly heat ½ cup (1 stick) butter over low heat until it has become a golden color; remove from heat. Gradually blend in 3 cups confectioner's sugar, dash salt and 1 teaspoon vanilla extract. Stir in 2-4 tablespoons hot water, until frosting is of spreading consistency.

(Makes about 2 cups)

CHOCOLATE PECAN GEMS

½ cup butter, softened
3 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
⅔ cup unsifted all-purpose flour
⅓ cup sweetened cocoa mix
1 cup finely chopped pecans
Granulated or confectioners' sugar or Mocha Crème Icing (recipe below)

1. Preheat oven to 325°F. In small mixer bowl, at medium speed of electric mixer, cream butter and sugar together until fluffy. Clean beaters.

2. At low speed gradually beat in flour and cocoa mix; scrape sides of bowl and beaters. Beat again until thoroughly blended.

3. With spatula stir in nuts. Shape dough into balls about ¾ inch in diameter. Place 2 inches apart on ungreased baking sheet. Bake 20-25 minutes.

4. Let cookies cool on baking sheet about 2 minutes, until firm. While still warm, roll in granulated or confectioners' sugar. Or let cookies cool completely; frost with Mocha Crème Icing. Makes about 3 dozen

MOCHA CREME ICING

2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon milk
½ teaspoon instant coffee
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
Dash salt
Confectioners' sugar
Pecan halves
Chocolate curls*

1. In small saucepan melt butter.

2. In milk dissolve instant coffee, cinnamon and salt; add to butter.

3. Beat in enough confectioners' sugar, about ¾ to 1 cup, to make an icing of spreading consistency. Use to frost tops of Chocolate Pecan Gems. Stud tops of frosted cookies with pecan halves or chocolate curls if desired.

At Home

By Rosalyn Abrevaya

In the rush of Christmas giving, we try not to forget any loved one. But what about that take-it-for-granted abode called home? Why not fete it with a gift or two and give pleasure to all? FAMILY WEEKLY devotes this section to gift suggestions for every room—from the kitchen to the den—that add decor, practicality and, in some instances, do-it-yourself charm.

Gifts to Give Your Home For $100 or Under

Figured area rugs made for walking on can also set the decorating scheme when placed on the wall of a child's bedroom.

For the Young Resident's Room— A Gift of Fun and Whimsy (Under $30)

This Christmas, why not garb the children's room with something that will outlast the holiday toy-breaking season? Figured wall-hung area rugs provide winning playmates, are also charming decoration for any room. Here, a perky cowboy and Indian pair off neatly over a desk designed for two active youngsters. These Rya rugs, made of fine wool and woven on a heavy backing, are also durable for the floor; but their 2′4″ x 3′7″ size is just right for wall-hanging—over a bed or dresser, in a corner, or any place that needs a bit of color and sparkle. The rugs are under $30 and are available across the country. By Egetaepper.

A unique gift you can make yourself—a carpet collage created from leftover scraps of carpet or low-cost mill remnants.

Give A Wall A Carpet Collage (Under $25)

Your entry hall or living room wall will dazzle with this beautiful textured montage made of a collection of scraps of carpet. To make this handsome "painting" you will need: a sheet of brown paper, a piece of ½-inch-thick plywood in the size collage you are making, strips of ¼x1-inch molding to fit around the plywood sheet, crayons, small nails, staple gun, a single-edge razor, a piece of yarn, Elmer's glue (or its equivalent), and bits and pieces of carpeting. Plan the montage first by drawing a variety of shapes and sizes on the brown paper. Color with crayon to see how the shades and patterns fit together. Use the brown paper as a pattern and cut out the pieces of carpet on wrong side. Spread carpet pile apart and staple the carpet onto the plywood. Complete by nailing molding around plywood to frame your work. Want to add a signature? Simply make the name out of a bit of yarn and glue it down in the bottom-right-hand corner. The cost to do (even if you had to buy everything from scratch) is well under $25.00. The carpet collage shown was created of Creslan acrylic fiber.

What to Give Your Den ... Kitchen ... Or Dining Room

The Appliance With A Place For Itself (Under $27)

Gift your kitchen with a sleek utility electric knife, which comes neatly compact in an exclusive decorator drawer, is easily mounted under cabinet, counter or shelf. Deftly combining decorativeness with practicality, it is accessible when needed and safely stores away when not in use. The Hideaway knife from Hamilton Beach is offered in gold and has an eight-foot detachable cord. Its companion cabinet is white with a design panel in gold to complement any style from Early American to modern. Under $27.

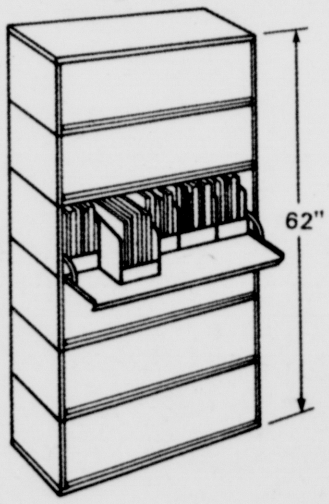
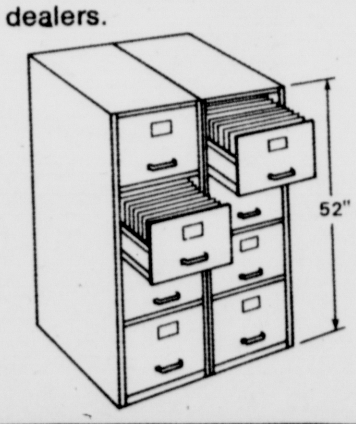
Give A File Unit Adapted For Home Use (Under $50)

Discovered: A perfect gift for your den or family room. This colorful file unit is made up of individual ten-inch tiers that can easily be attached to each other. Used against a wall, next to a desk, or as an end table, the modular tiers—in any number or color combination—can be arranged in horizontal groupings for a long, low look, or vertically where space is at a premium. Sturdy, all-steel (with interiors divided by metal separators), the tiers come with optional doors in 15 mix-or-match decorator colors. Uniboxes (removable filing containers) are available for convenient storing and organizing of important papers, magazines, sewing notions, hobby material—or whatever you choose. The two-tier unit with one door (shown) is less than $50. Thin Line Conserv-a-file units by Supreme are nationally available at stationery and office-supply dealers.





You Can Make Tray, Coasters, Napkin Rings (Under $5.00)

Here's an ecology-minded gift even children can make. The only new paper you need is art tissue paper (a heavier weight than the wrapping kind). All other paper is used paper: a cardboard tube (such as a waxed-paper roll); Styrofoam mounting board or white cardboard; a small foam or cardboard tray (the tray your meat comes in at the supermarket). You'll also need all-purpose white glue, clear plastic varnish. Cover the tray with your color choice of tissue using the collage technique.* When dry, spray with varnish. For coasters, cut discs of Styrofoam or white cardboard. Cover them using the tissue collage technique.* Add the striped accent by overlaying small strips of tissue in coordinating colors. Spray these also to produce a gloss. For napkin rings, cut a cardboard tube into 1½-inch sections. Cover the rings using the same colored strips used on the coasters. The colors will bleed together slightly, so allow more space for the lighter shades. When the rings are dry, spray with clear varnish. All items made from Dennison art tissue paper. *For instructions, see page 15.

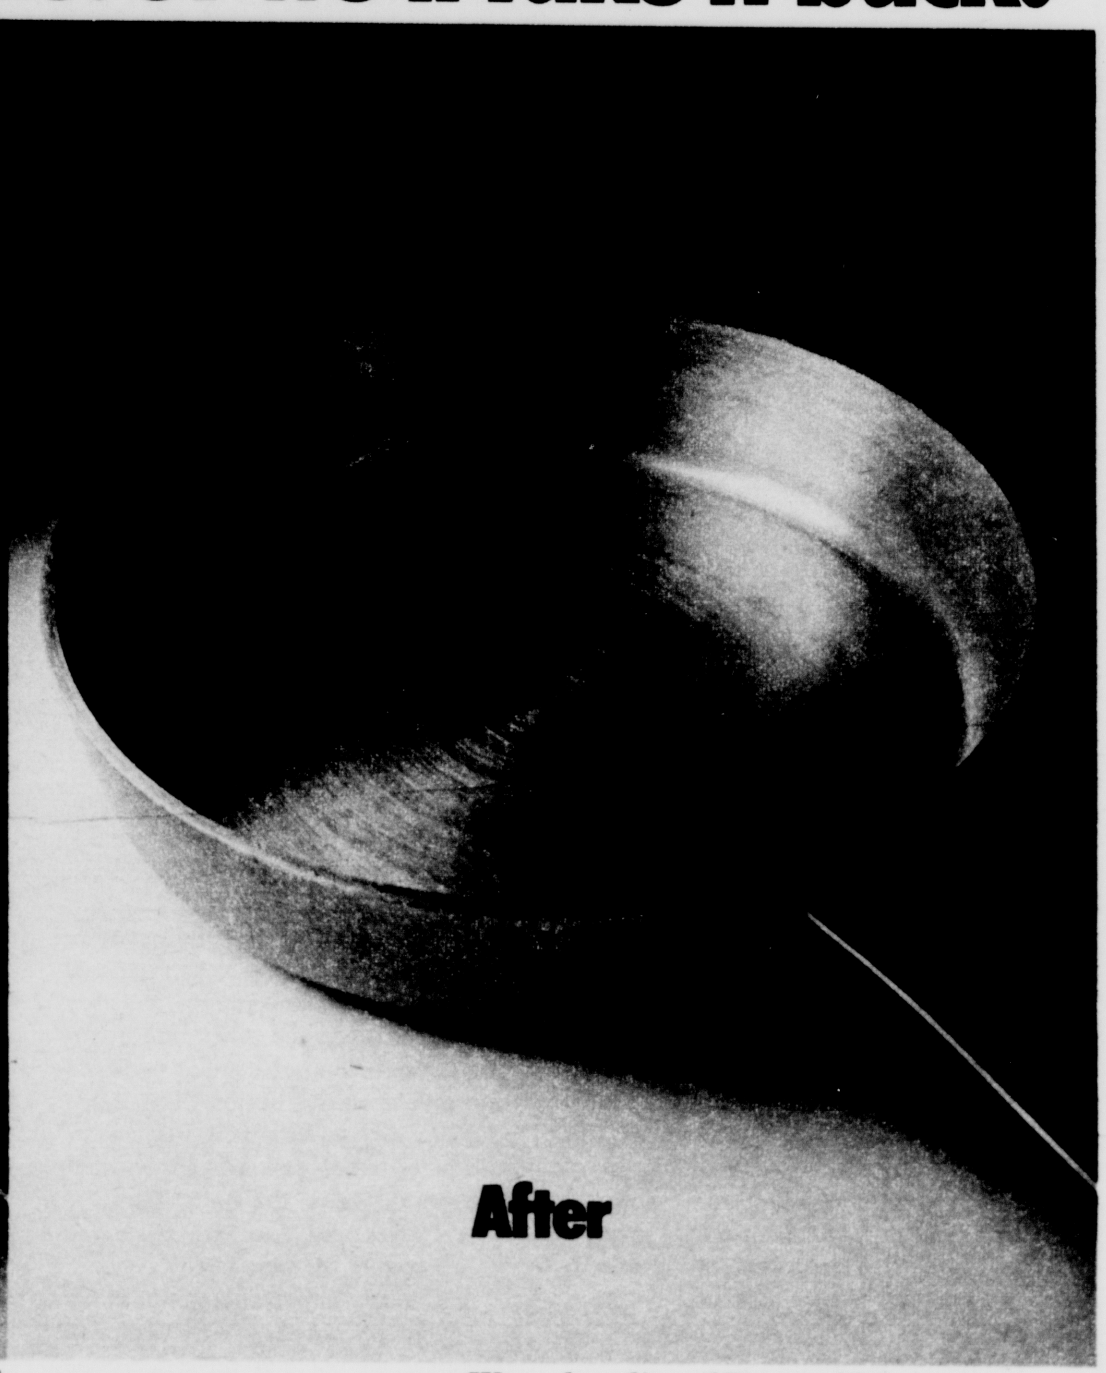
Before



After

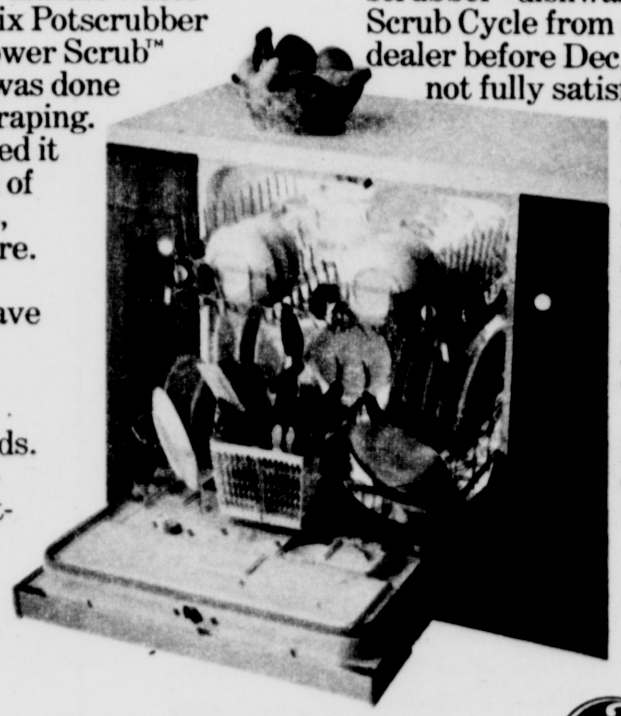
The unretouched picture on the right is the same pot after it has been scrubbed with the brushless water action of one of our six Potscrubber dishwashers with Power Scrub™ Cycle. Nothing else was done to this pot. No pre-scraping. No rinsing. We washed it along with a full load of 88 other dirty dishes, glasses and silverware.

You'll get the same results as we have if you'll follow our simple loading diagrams for different sizes and types of loads. Instructions are provided with every Potscrubber we sell.



That's why we can give this guarantee:

"Buy any one of our six Potscrubber* dishwashers with a Power Scrub Cycle from a participating GE dealer before Dec. 31, 1972. If you're not fully satisfied with its performance (and you'll be the judge), notify the dealer within 30 days of your purchase. He'll take back the dishwasher and refund your money. No questions asked."

In addition to pots and pans you can also safely wash fine china and crystal.

We make a line of Potscrubber models to fit into a lot of different kitchens. Three built-ins. Three front-load convertibles, portable now, can be built in later.

We also have a quality feature just as dependable as our Potscrubber.

Customer Care Service Everywhere. This is our pledge that wherever you are, or go, you'll find an authorized GE serviceman nearby. Should you ever need him.

How does the man who recorded the all-time best-selling "White Christmas" spend his holiday? FAMILY WEEKLY asked Bing's wife, Kathryn, what she did to make their home lovelier and warmer at Christmas. This is her reply.

How We Decorate Our Home at Christmas

By Kathryn Crosby, as told to Helen Dorsey

Decorations are a very big part of our Christmas. Making ornaments and decorating the house have become a family tradition: a time of sharing, doing, and praising each other's efforts! It's our home, not "my" house. We work hard together at everything we do.

We love to combine old treasures with new things. Each year we proudly hang ornaments that the children have made. Sometimes the children like to alter their earlier efforts. I like to change decorations too. Each year we have more fun as the children are growing up, pitching in and sharing the joy of Christmas.

The Christmas tree is always placed in the stairwell in the hall. Christmas family photos of friends—Prince Rainier, Princess Grace and their children; Bob Hope and clan; Frank Sinatra; Dean Martin; and others—are housed on the sideboard in the library.

Beautifully wrapped gifts are always part of the decor in the hall. They seem to grow under the tree and spill all over. We never hide our gifts. The children have reached an age now where they like to see what everybody else is getting, too.

We use stained glass window frames in our living room at the large French doors. The frames had been used on our TV special one year. Actually there is no stained glass in them—colored lights came through them. We use light from behind, with scenes from little churches and trees to choir boys and angels. The frames are made from plywood with paper cut-outs, then hung from the ceiling.

We love to use candles, especially tall tapers, in the hallway and dining room. We have a beautiful Venetian crystal chandelier in the dining room. It looks like a wedding cake with red, green and blue flowers. It's a happy chandelier when the tapers are lit inside it! We use altar candles to decorate greens in the library. The lights are white but set in red cups that glow red. The flames cast flickering shadows that dance on the walls. Tiny red velvet doves and fruit are so pretty nested among the pine needles.

The most important thing is to share in the decorating. As we unpack the boxes, we make all these decisions together as a group. Each child makes a contribution.

Bing's role is that of admirer, cajoler and advisor. He says he's color blind, but that doesn't stop him from saying, "That's a marvelous chartreuse"—particularly if it's fuchsia. Then he goes and sits on the corsage pins, which is not too attractive! He always asks, "Is there ever going to be a place where a man can sit down? How can I put my feet up? There are wreaths all over!" But then he just smiles and gets us off to church.

Bing's not very artsy-craftsy, but there's a lot of music around the house that has his voice. We create the Christmas atmosphere with music, putting on records and doing a lot of singing. Harry plays the piano and guitar and does some composing. Mary Frances dances ballet, and this year dances as a bon-bon in the Nutcracker Suite.

Bing does most of the big things for Christmas, and those are usually surprises. He came home from England after making a movie,with a couple of Adams chairs and Hepplewhite music stands and a music cabinet. He has exquisite taste, but leaves the reupholstering decisions to me. But I don't know if he'll do that again. I tried to get some Louis XV chairs recovered, and ended up taking the dirty old tapestries back to Paris to have them reproduced in their same faded colors. It took a year, but they are fantastic. The faded colors look beautiful with the faded wooden frames. If you are a seamstress, you can give a new look to chairs with crewel or needlepoint.

We're doing a new thing for gifts this year that also works well with centerpieces and decorations. We started last Easter. A lovely friend taught us how to paint sea shells. The scallop shells from the bay (in Baja) are deep orange. It's the same kind the Pilgrims used.We work with muriatic acid, clorox, dental picks and gloves, to clean the shells, paint the insides with tiny pictures and a quote. We're using lyrics from Bing's songs, giving credit to Jimmy Van Heusen, Johnny Mercer, and Irving Berlin. We're sending what we hope are appropriate quotes to very close friends.

Shells make wonderful centerpieces. I use chicken wire and newspaper to fill baskets before covering with spackle. You can bury the broken shells in the spackle before covering over the top with perfect shells. I made a decoration for the powder room. The powder room is all crystal and glass. I got a half shell, filled it with silvery sand and set a group of choir boys upright standing in the sand. It looks very attractive.

Z-50. The newest version of the original Mini Trail®

A Christmas stocking big enough to hold a small motorcycle? Believe it or not, it's true. And the only place you can get one is at your participating Honda dealer's.

How much? It's absolutely free when you purchase a new little Honda QA-50 or Mini Trail® 50 as a gift for your youngsters. Or a CT-70 for yourself.

Why the huge hosiery? Just because it's fun, and that's what the little Hondas are all about.

The crazy giant all-cloth stocking will be fun this Christmas and many Christmases to come. The Honda will be fun all year long.

For the best small motorcycles, and the biggest Christmas stocking, see your Honda dealer. And have a Merry Christmas and a very Happy New Honda.

The CT-70 in the stocking above is shown in a vertical position for advertising purposes only. We strongly recommend you not stand your bike on end. Promotion good through Christmas, 1972. Deck Out A Bedroom in Tie-Dye

Set the color scheme and mood of a bedroom with a gift ensemble you create yourself—an easy-to-do tie-dyed sunburst bedspread, pillows, and matching striped curtains. An inexpensive spread and fabric-by-the-yard curtains (about six yards of 45" width needed) and pillows (about 2½ yards needed) combine to let the sunshine in for about $18. For free how-to-instructions send a post card request to: Tie-Dye, Department FW, P.O. Box 307, Coventry, Connecticut 06238.

Make a Candleholder for Your Living Room

To make this elegant candleholder, you'll need a 3½" square wood block (from lumberyard or hobby store), a short tin can, self-adhesive soutache or string, a nail, a straightedge ruler, a design to trace, and a special foil tape kit for silver and gold tape. First, apply four 2"-wide strips of gold tape vertically, one to each side of block, centered. Then put one horizontal band of gold tape around center of block. Fill in all corners with silver tape. Trace desired motif into gold tape on four sides with kit stylus or sharp pencil. Then, to give a finished effect, trace each edge where gold and silver meet using straightedge ruler. Apply vertical strips of soutache or glue short lengths of string to can about one inch apart, then cover can completely with silver tape, pressing around soutache for raised effect. Nail the can to top of block, then cover inside with four quarter circles of gold tape. Add a candle, and you're done! The Arno Foil Craft Tape kit used is available at hobby stores for $5.95.

Make a solution of ½ glue and ½ water, generously painting the object to be covered. While surface is wet, add squares of tissue. Coat each piece of tissue before starting another layer. (The size of the tissue pieces will vary with the size of the surface to be covered.) The number of layers of tissue used will determine the richness of the finished color. Allow several hours to completely dry. Then spray with a clear varnish.

Good ol' Fibber McGee talks about new improved Glo-Coat.

"Take it from Ol' Fibber, this new formula Glo-Coat's even better than ever.

"Because now the new Glo-Coat can be used for touch-ups on problem areas. At doorways. Under the kitchen table. For spills. Just wipe it on and the shine blends right in. It keeps your floor looking nice longer.

Collector's Item

Here's a gift inspiration for adding a little grandeur to the dining room. A ladle planter, 31″ x 12″ x 8″ deep, which is impervious to soil and moisture ,can attractively hold artificial as well as live foliage. It comes in a silver or antique gold finish. If one is a spoon collector, this ladle would certainly enhance the collection. About $30. By Syroco.

The Valet Chair

There's no secret to the design of this chair's high coat-hanger-shaped back, it's meant to encourage neatness. Perfect as a bedroom or desk chair, it will hold a coat, sweater or dress temporarily on their way to the closet. Crafted with a Spanish ambience, its straight lines nevertheless destine it for blending well with other furniture décors. From Bassett's Viva collection, it has a textured vinyl-covered seat, is finished in pecan or white. Under $40.

Camper Trunk Stores and Entertains

The rainy day camp locker, in deep-blue vinyl finish, is for a young bedroom—where it can store clothes and toys, serve as a table and be used for playing games. Checkers, parcheesi and autoracing game boards in yellow and orange are silk-screened onto its top. The trunk, which can safely be shipped to camp or school, measures 31 x 17 x 12½ inches and is about $27.95 at department stores. Seward Luggage.

And Frigidaire will give you a Poinsettia for Christmas.

Our compact refrigerator is a place to mix drinks away from the place to make food. It's a way to keep snacks and beverages within easy reach of the TV or the card table. And it has many of the features of a full-size refrigerator yet fits into a space 3 feet high by 2 feet wide.

If there's a compact refrigerator in your home already, maybe you'd like one of our other time-saving gift ideas. Such as Frigidaire's convenient trash compactor, our mobile dishwasher or microwave oven.

Buy one of these appliances between now and Dec. 10, mail us proof of purchase postmarked no later than Dec. 12, 1972, and we'll send you a gift of a traditional Poinsettia plant through your local member of the Florists' Transworld Delivery Association in time for Christmas.

For complete details on our gift and yours see your participating Frigidaire dealer.

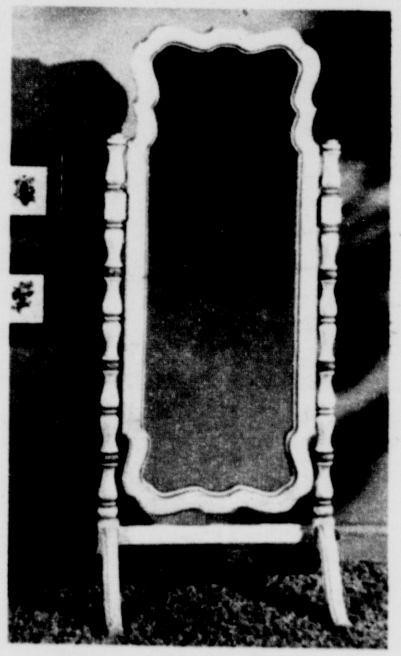
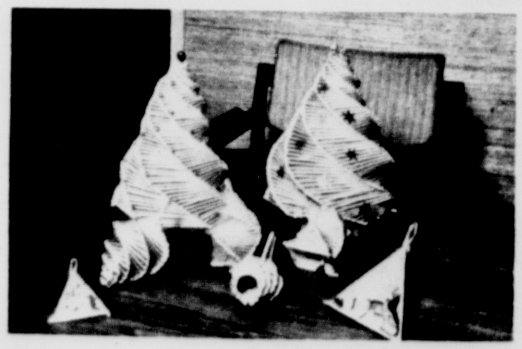
Humidifier With Its own Table

Any room (especially one limited in size) will benefit from a gift of this smartly styled black-and-white combination table-top humidifier and fashionable 16″ parsons table. The humidifier, which efficiently ends winter dry-air discomfort, features a simulated black wood grain finish with white grilles. The table is made of rugged ABS plastic (the kind telephones are made of) and is extremely durable and high-impact resistant. Use them as a unit or separate for those times you need an extra snack table. West Bend's new Humidiset decorator package is available nationwide for under $40.



Mirror For All Reasons

The essential full-length mirror makes a handsome gift, and is all the more practical when it can be moved around from room to room—from the bedroom to the vanity area to the sewing room. This functional yet decorative cheval mirror, of embossed hardwood veneers, is constructed with graceful, flowing curves and features a delicate floral motif. It tilts to various positions. Available in three painted finishes: lemon, celadon green, and blue. From the Toujours Moi collection by Stanley. Approximately $100.



Weave Christmas Ornaments With Paper Straws

A marvelous gift for the family tree—ornaments you create yourself. This weaving technique is a rediscovered art form, in which ancient people practiced the craft with corn sheaves. Here we used Craftstraws, which are 17-inch unwaxed paper straws (not used for drinking, but perfect for making things). A package of 750 straws is available in hobby and arts and crafts stores for under $2.50. If you'd like to make these Christmas decorations, exclusively designed for Family Weekly readers, send your request for free instructions to: Sweetheart Cup.; Corp.; Department FW—Craftstraws; Owings Mills, Md. 21117.

Can You Teach Your Pre-School Child To Read?

By Virginia B. Warren

Any child can learn to read within a year after he has learned to talk, say the experts . . . if a parent uses these simple methods.

Teach a three-year-old how to read? Only an expert can do that, right? Wrong! Many educators, who formerly frowned on parents teaching their pre-schoolers to read, now encourage it. And you don't have to be a college or even a high school graduate to do it. "Early learning seems to have little to do with the depth of education of either parent," according to a parent handbook published by a group of Montgomery County (Md.) parents and teachers.

Some easy techniques:

Write down words dictated by your child. Sound simple? It is. And it works. He will probably want you to write his name, mommy, daddy, chair, dog. Print each word large (2½ inches high) on a separate sheet of paper. (One reason children don't learn to read earlier: they're surrounded by small print, says Dr. Glenn Doman, author of "Teach Your Baby to Read.")

Have your child repeat each word. Now mix the papers and show them to him, one by one. Do this several times. He'll soon be reading them.

I saw this done with a four-year-old. She immediately read each word—even a long one: "grandmother." It wasn't done by memorizing words in order, for the sheets were shuffled each time and she read them many times.

This is called the "language experience" technique. It works because it thrills a child to read his own words.

For example, you can:

Have your child draw pictures and tell what they are. Print his exact words under each drawing: "A funny man." "A rainy day." Staple the pictures together. He'll look at "his book" over and over again, and soon be reading.

Have him dictate "experience stories." This method was used with immense success with some Washington, D.C. kindergarteners, who told their teachers about things they saw and did. The teachers wrote the stories, a few lines to a page, using photos or the children's own drawings for illustrations. They changed not a word of the slangy, often ungrammatical statements. The children were soon reading and trading their stories.

Your child can tell about recent experiences—going to the store, helping daddy wash the car. To start him off, ask questions and write down his answers. Again, collect the sheets into a "book". He'll want to create—and read—more books of his own.

Hang a blackboard in his room. Ask what word he wants written on it. Print it big. Confronted with it every day, he can't help learning to read it.

Combine these activities with alphabet teaching—using alphabet books, blocks, the alphabet song—and chances are your child will enter school with one tremendous advantage: he'll be able to read!

SPECIAL OFFER: A special kit, the Dolman-Delacato Early Reading Kit, contains in ready-made form many of the reading aids mentioned above. You can order this kit by sending a check for $9.95 (plus 50¢ postage) to Family Weekly Reading Kit, 8100 Greenland Bldg., Miami, Fla. 33054. Include your name and address.

What do doctors recommend for patients in pain?

Doctors all over the country dispense over 50,000,000 of these tablets to their patients each year.

There are many medications a physician or dentist can prescribe for pain. Some are narcotic, many are available only on prescription. But there is one pain reliever, available without prescription, doctors dispense again and again... Anacin.

Each year, doctors give over 50,000,000 Anacin tablets to their patients in pain. If doctors think enough about Anacin to dispense all these tablets, what better recommendation can you ask when you are in pain?

You see, Anacin contains more of the pain reliever doctors recommend most than any other leading tablet.

Headache and dental pain is relieved incredibly fast; minor pains of arthritis are dependably eased for hours; even the aches and pains of colds and flu respond to Anacin. So the tension and depression that can be caused by such pain will be relieved too. And millions take Anacin without stomach upset.

When you're in pain, why don't you follow the practice of so many doctors and take the tablet a doctor might give you in his own office. Take Anacin®.

Jobmanship

Are You Having Trouble with a New Boss?

You may have a new job and a new boss or the same old job with a new boss over you. Either way, you may realize that tensions are developing between you and your new supervisor. Have you considered the possibility that you yourself may be creating the unpleasantness? Are you assuming that everything on the job should be done in the way you are used to? Industrial psychologists have discovered that all of us have our own personal picture in our minds of what a boss is and how a boss should behave. As a result, people often create boss trouble for themselves by failing to adjust to the new boss's methods. Instead they wait impatiently for the boss to adjust his behavior! People like this will often think and talk about "how things were with my other boss" instead of learning to work with "how things are now with this boss." Another of their favorite comments is, "If the boss would only change."—By S. R. Redford

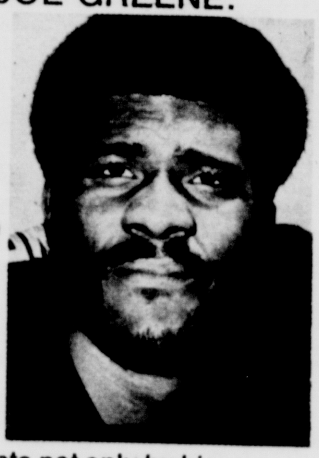
Lineman "MEAN" JOE GREENE:

"When You Dump The Quarterback, You Kill the Team"



Joe Greene, 275-pound defensive tackle for the Pittsburgh Steelers, is known as "Mean" Greene because of the fury he exhibits when he smashes opposing linemen to the ground and terrorizes quarterbacks as they're about to pass. He has been known to frighten opponents not only by his awesome size and power but by the angry look on his face. An all-pro tackle, "Mean" Greene is one of the few defensive linemen well known to fans all across the country. "He can dominate an entire game," says rival Doug Van Horn of the New York Giants. "He's one in a thousand, a big, strong man with unusual speed who hustles like hell."

. . . Greene's greatest joy is dumping a quarterback. Before a game, he will sit in front of his locker staring at a picture of the opposing quarterback. "The quarterback is my mountain," he says. "I know the quarterback is the head of the team and when you finish off the head, the body will die. When I throw the quarterback for a big loss, I know I'm on top of the mountain."

. . . "I don't think the nickname 'Mean' is a fair one to apply to me," Greene maintains. "I'm not mean by nature—I just play my game to the hilt." The big tackle is, in fact, a soft-spoken man who delights in working with kids. . . . Greene is a native of Texas who became an All-America lineman at North Texas State. The Steelers bypassed glamorous running backs and passers to pick him No. 1 in the pro draft in 1969, and he promptly asked for a salary to match that given to highly publicized quarterbacks. "If a quarterback is a $400,000 man," he said, "then it takes a $600,000 man to stop him!" Greene lives in Dallas, is married, and has two sons.—By Barry Abramson

This child has a devoted mother, good clothes, balanced meals —and Pin-Worms!

A tormenting itch in the rectal area, nose-picking and fidgeting are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms. It can happen to anyone in any family—young or old, rich or poor. It's so common, medical authorities say that 1 out of 3 children examined, and many parents, have Pin-Worms without knowing it. And because Pin-Worms bring on itching and fidgeting, they can distract children and affect their school work!

What's more, Pin-Worms are highly contagious, so they can spread from person to person, until the whole family is infected.

What can you do about it? Fortunately there is an easy-to-take medication that gets rid of Pin-Worms. It's called Jayne's® P-W® tablets. Ask your pharmacist. He'll tell you that Jayne's P-W tablets are specially formulated with an effective medical ingredient that gets Pin-Worms out of your system. For a free informative pamphlet giving medical facts about Pin-Worms, send name and address to Jayne's P-W, Dept. A5, Box 400, New York, N.Y. 10016.

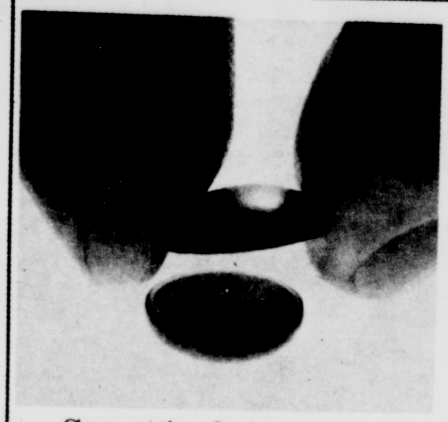
(It's made with smaller doses of two laxatives.)



Some single ingredient laxatives work on the "Sunday punch" theory. One big dose of a strong laxative that can knock your system for a loop.

Caroid & Bile Salts Tablets are made up of two separate laxatives that combine the surety of a strong laxative with the gentleness of a mild one.

Together they help ease you to regularity without sudden urgency upset.

And because the dosage is pre-measured, Caroid & Bile Salts Tablets are thorough and so predictable you can almost set your watch by them. Take two tablets at bedtime. Get a good night's sleep. And you can expect to be back on schedule in the morning.

Gentle Caroid & Bile Salts Tablets—the 'two-together' laxative—to help put your system back on schedule.

A noted physician says:

"You May Suffer From This SECRET SICKNESS That Makes Millions Of People Weak And Weary All Their Lives."

It is called HYPOGLYCEMIA, a dangerous and hidden cause of chronic fatigue and painful illness that medical science hardly recognized until now. And now you may knock out this SECRET SICKNESS with a diet so simple, you'd hardly call it a diet at all!

Does it shock you to be told there is a widespread SECRET SICKNESS?

And that it masquerades as symptoms of liver and kidney trouble, diabetes, chronic indigestion, failing memory and other serious conditions? And that even in its mildest form it can doom you to decades of aches and pains, low-grade health and bitter disability?

Many physicians were even more shocked than you are—when the full extent and full effect of this SECRET SICKNESS were recently discovered!

I have made a special study of the SECRET SICKNESS, which is hypoglycemia, or low blood sugar. What it does to you is this: it robs your bloodstream of natural blood sugar—and natural blood sugar is your body's absolutely indispensable fuel!

Now you can understand the true hidden dreadfulness of hypoglycemia. It does not allow you to properly "fuel the furnace" of your body. So, instead of enjoying a bright blaze of energy, your strength dwindles down to a miserable smoulder.

It's not your fault,

but you may suffer from headaches, backaches, bone-pain, muscle-pain—and get treatment—but it may be the wrong treatment! All you may need is treatment for low blood sugar, to make many such miseries simply go away!

VITAL NOTE!

You begin to gain the wonder-working benefits of this book in every area of your life starting within the first five minutes after you pick it up—there is absolutely no need to STUDY this revolutionary new book or even read it from cover to cover, or expend any more "literary" effort on your part other than to browse through it at your leisure for one or two thrilling minutes a day!

This is NOT a textbook! NOT a study manual! There are no lectures—not a single "blue-sky" theory to ponder over or memorize anywhere!

Instead, for the first time, here are revolutionary new breakthroughs that may easily banish insomnia, headaches, backaches, overweight, bone- and muscle-pain, even alcoholism . . . all by simply eating better than you do right now!

Therefore, we do NOT want you to treat this amazing volume as you would an ordinary book! Instead, all we ask you to do is this:

Place it on your bedstand, entirely at our risk, for thirty days! Browse through just a few pages every night before you retire! Skip around if you like! But make absolutely no conscious effort to "study" this book, "work" on it, or even memorize a single one of the thrilling techniques you will find on every one of its pages!

Instead, you'll make this startling discovery in these very first thirty days alone. Instantly—simply by leafing through its pages—your mind will automatically absorb the wonder-working procedures laid out for you in this book! Effortlessly, you will respond to its convention-shattering breakthroughs! Without premeditation, you will find yourself automatically applying its methods!

Inevitably—hour after hour—day after day—week after week—you will find your body in ever-increasing command of a New Blazing Energy—For Calmer Nerves—A Sound Night's Sleep—A Trim, Slim, Satisfied Body—Stronger Memory—Sharper Intellect—New Daily Optimism—Even a Pain-Free Body—and much, much more!

All this—for just a few short moments of your time a day spent with one of the most fascinating, completely-absorbing books it will ever be your pleasure to glance through!

Prove it yourself, entirely at our risk! You gamble nothing but your time! We bear the full cost! Send in the No-Risk Coupon—TODAY!

It's not your fault,

but nobody has explained why your so-called "balanced" diet may be disastrously UN-balanced if you have hypoglycemia. Or why it may be as true for you, as it has been for so many, that a few, inexpensive food supplements will give a special boost to glandular functions that have let you down for years!

It's not your fault—

but, in the words of Dr. Luther Terry, former Surgeon General of the United States: "This year . . . one million avoidable disabilities will occur because knowledge already at our command is not being applied." So I want this priceless new health knowledge to be known to the public, not merely to a few health researchers. I want ordinary men and women to be able to search out their own symptoms of hypoglycemia (although you should go to your doctor in some cases). And, most of all, I want to give everyone the diet that has proved effective, over and over, in balancing this vital blood sugar—a diet that has already helped many men and women toward better health and strength—that you'll want to follow it even if you don't have hypoglycemia!

I Want To Send You, To Read At Absolutely NO RISK, The Information You Need About Hypoglycemia And How To Get Rid Of It:

You are going to see, first of all, that you eat hearty helpings of meat, eggs, fish, cream, favorite fruits and vegetables, some desserts, and some absolutely wonderful food combinations that everyone enjoys. In many cases, SIMPLE FOOD AVAILABLE AT ANY SUPERMARKET!

Are you far overweight?

The trouble may be hypoglycemia. Read the story of Shirley M. (page 7 in my book) and you may realize your fatness is an adaptation to hypoglycemia. Your way to a slender, healthier body does not lie in frantic exercise or starvation. The chances are that it lies in GOOD NUTRITION, and its helpful effect toward getting your blood sugar balanced and keeping it that way!

Are you growing old too fast?

The trouble may be hypoglycemia. When you get your approval copy of my book, turn to Chapter Five. Here I combine tested diet principles with my lifelong work in geriatrics. This chapter can be priceless for anyone over 50. It can make your friends and family ask you, "What makes you look so young, lately?" You feel that way too!

Is insomnia your problem?

The trouble may be hypoglycemia. I want to give you an utterly simple SOUND SLEEP SECRET that is so natural, and has such long-term health-building benefits, you'll bless the day you took two minutes to find out! Read, on page 135, the "bed sheet" signal of trouble with blood sugar. Read new findings about SLEEP that can make you feel as though you had been born again!

Must you have sweet snacks or alcohol every little while to keep you going?

The trouble may be hypoglycemia. You may need snacks—and the anti-hypoglycemia diet includes special between-meal snacks and before-bed snacks, so you never have to go hungry. When enjoyable snacks become—not a "secret vice"—but your "best medicine"—you know you have found a new way to eat that is not only a way of health but also a way of good living!

American Association for the Advancement of Science . . . and The Industrial Medical Society.

Are you troubled with brain-lag, brain-fag, or even serious mental symptoms?

If you are nervous, or edgy, or suffer lapses of memory, hypoglycemia may be flying a red flag of warning. Read page 21—neurological symptoms. Yes, your brain can be literally crippled, or at least badly hampered, when it does not get its proper nourishment. Give your brain a chance to "fuel up", and you may discover, as so many already have, that you start living a new life almost immediately!

11 All-Time Favorite MUSIC BOXES

SPECIAL COLLECTOR'S PRICES START AT $3.98

"Little Drummer Boy"

A musical treasure, a ceramic pleasure, as the appealing elfin-like little drummer seems to tap out "pah-rum-pum-pum-pum" while he slowly revolves for all to listen to . . . and enjoy! A precision quality music movement plays this favorite Yuletide composition. Finely detailed, hand-painted drummer boy is handcrafted in a "Hummel-like" sculpture. Dressed in a Tyrolean-style hat, cheery red scarf, patched and worn clothing but love lights his face as he offers his only gift—music! Bisque finish, 7" high.

21888—Drummer Boy Music Box $3.98

"Sunrise, Sunset"

12665—Fiddler Music Box $3.98

Guarantee

We guarantee that you must be completely satisfied that these are excellent musical values for the money or we will send you a prompt and complete refund.

"The Impossible Dream"

Don Quixote tilting at windmills again, only this time to the haunting strains of the hit song from Man of La Mancha —"The Impossible Dream"—as he sets off on his memorable quest once again. Cervante's knight inspires men to dare to dream "the impossible dream" but you'll be just downright pleased with this classic ceramic music box. Measures 5¾" x 4½" x 3¼".

12772—La Mancha Music Box $3.98

"Bless This House"

Hand-decorated figurines are minutely detailed! Twist base, 5 x 6". Plays "Bless This House" and all of delicately hued bisque ceramic!

11065—Bless This House Music Box $3.98

Twin Moppets

The world's most adored doll couple whirl to the theme from "Love Story". Their bright red hair and familiar costumes are heightened by the beauty of handpainted glistening ceramic. 7½" high on wind-up pedestal base.

11402—Raggedy Doll Music Box $3.98

Music & Jewelry Box

11208—Piano Music Box $4.98

Irish Colleen

Plays "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling". She's sure to steal your heart away in a green and white gown with a perky bonnet atop beautifully sculptured curls. She glistens and gleams like a fine china doll (which she is!). Shamrocks bedeck the white platform. 7½" tall.

11383—Irish Music Box $3.98

Doves of Peace

Two doves waltz to "People Will Say We're in Love". Beautifully detailed to show every layer of feathering. Heads, bodies exquisitely sculptured in finely-glazed, hand-painted ceramic. 6".

11258—White Peace Doves $3.98

"Love Story"

Plays the beautiful "Love Story" theme. The two lovers and base are beautifully crafted hand-painted ceramic with a high luster finish. This is a must for lovers of all ages. A striking 7" high.

10729—Love Story Music Box $3.98

"Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head"

Young love stays high and dry with nothing to dampen their spirits! Sheltered by a colorful umbrella, these appealing little playmates revolve in a rustic setting to the hit tune "Raindrops Keep Falling On My Head." This prize-winning theme is played crips and clear by a precision music box movement hidden in the base. They're really an irresistible duo, and this charming ceramic piece will be a most cherished addition to any collection. 6½ inches high.

10238—Raindrops Keep Falling On My Head $3.98

"The Sound of Music"

Beautifully gowned lady carries gleaming porcelain flowers. Lift the gramophone lid . . . it's a hideaway for milady's rings, etc. Plays "The Sound of Music." A musical treasure, and artful sculpture. 7" tall. Bisque ceramic.

11903—Sound of Music $6.98

THE MARCH HARE
Recognize this actor?

Peter Sellers was so heavily made up and costumed for his role as the March Hare in the movie "Alice in Wonderland" that he couldn't speak his lines clearly. Since a muffled voice won't do, he had to dub his lines in after the scenes were filmed. A rabbit's lot is not always a happy one, as Peter Rabbit could well testify.

Get rid of braces on teeth? That's not an impossible dream, says Daniel Garliner of Coral Gables, Fla., who's devised a new technique for straightening teeth with exercises that retrain the swallowing reflex, the tongue and lip muscles. If braces are needed in addition, the work is less extensive, less expensive, and more successful than if done without exercises, he says. In one exercise the patient draws a string into his mouth until he's reached the marshmallow attached to the end. In another, child and parent each place one button (one on each end of a string) behind their lips, and play tug-of-war. Many dentists and orthodontists now are using this new painless way to a winning smile, and some results are being described as dramatic.

This is professional football player Dick Butkus speaking: "You want to hurt, but not injure. There's a distinction, in my mind at least, between the two. I want to flatten and intimidate my opponents. I want to absolutely destroy them. But I still want them ready to go the next day. I don't think I'm the most popular guy on the field. That's all right. I'm not trying to be. I don't want them to love me. No one ever sees me smile, or pat an opponent on the back and say, nice play. Why should I? He's the enemy. For those sixty minutes I hate him. If he made a good play, so what. He's supposed to make them. He's a pro. That's what he gets paid for. Why should I encourage him to make more? It'll only hurt me and my team. When a guy puts a block on me I want to kill him, not congratulate him." From "Stop-Action" (Dutton, $6.95), by Robert Billings and Dick Butkus of the Chicago Bears. (Butkus was voted most spectacular defensive player on FAMILY WEEKLY's "First Annual Sportscasters' All-Pro Team.")

THE GOLDFINGER LOOK
Tough on nail biters

The Goldfinger look is here: Is it far-out jewelry, the ultimate cure for nail biters, or the perfect touch for an instant sinister look? However you think of metal fingertip shields, they're definitely not recommended for typists during working hours. Introduced by a European company, they're available in silver- or gold-colored metal decorated with rhinestones, and they may become the rage—but don't bet on it.

ARMOUR'S ARMOURY
By Richard Armour

KNOCK, KNOCK

People knock upon my door.
I sigh and say, "Well, there's one more."
What I'm despondently expecting
Is someone selling or collecting.
My purse I clutch, my lips I purse;
Few moments that I know are worse.
So when I find, instead, their mission
Is just my name on some petition,
I'm so relieved I sign, may head it,
And only later wish I'd read it.

Overheard between two old-timers: "Nowadays everybody's working and everybody's broke. At least back in the '30's you didn't have to work."

It's so much more fun when you've read the book that started the conversation...

AN INVITATION TO READERS who may have considered membership in the BOOK-OF-THE-MONTH CLUB®

ANY 4 FOR ONLY $1

THE TRIAL: You simply agree to buy four Club choices within a year at special members' prices

BOOK-OF-THE-MONTH CLUB books inspire the kind of conversations that could go on for hours—and they often do. Controversial, thought-provoking, intellectually stimulating, books like these stay with you long after you've read the last line. They're new, important—and discussing them is nearly as pleasurable as reading them. The trial membership suggested here can help you keep up with the best books—and keep up your end of the conversation as well.

As long as you remain a member, you will receive the Book-of-the-Month Club News, a literary magazine published by the Club every three to four weeks. The News announces the coming Selection and describes scores of other important books, most of which are available at substantial discounts—up to 40% on more expensive volumes. All of these books are identical to the publishers' editions in format, size and quality. If you wish to purchase the Selection, do nothing and it will be shipped to you automatically. However, there is no obligation to purchase any particular volume. If you do not wish the Selection (or any other book)—or if you want one of the Alternates offered in the News—simply indicate your decision on the convenient form provided and mail it so the Club receives it by the date specified on the form. The News announcing each Selection is mailed in time to allow members at least 10 days to return the form if they do not want the Selection. If you, because of late delivery of the News, should ever receive a Selection without having had the 10-day consideration period, that Selection may be returned at Club expense.

If you continue after this experimental membership, you will earn, for every Club Selection or Alternate you buy, a Book-Dividend Credit. Each Credit, upon payment of a nominal sum, often only $1.00 or $1.50—somewhat more for unusually expensive volumes or sets—will entitle you to a Book-Dividend® which you may choose from over a hundred fine library volumes available over the year. This unique library-building system enables members to save 70% or more of what they would otherwise have to pay.

NATURE COLORS

VICTORIA REGIA

THE GIANT FLOATING PADS OF THE VICTORIA REGIA WATER LILY ARE THE WORLD'S LARGEST LEAVES.

THE LEAVES MAY GROW 6-FEET WIDE AND CAN SUPPORT A BOY.

COLOR THE WATER LILY GREEN.

THIS WEEK'S TOP PRIZE QUESTION:

PETER GONZALES OF TUCSON, AZ, ASKS: "WHY ARE TRAFFIC SIGNAL LIGHTS RED AND GREEN?"

TRAFFIC SIGNALS ATTRACT OUR ATTENTION WITH BRIGHT COLORS. RED IS A COLOR THAT MAKES US "PAY ATTENTION." ALL RED LIGHTS MEAN "STOP," FOR IT WOULD BE DANGEROUS TO PROCEED. GREEN IS A RESTFUL COLOR. A GREEN LIGHT TELLS US THAT IT IS SAFE TO GO FORWARD. RED AND GREEN MAKE THE BEST COLORS FOR TRAFFIC LIGHTS AND ARE THE SIGNALS FOR "STOP" AND "GO" ALL OVER THE LAND.

WHERE AM I?

I'M NOT SURE! IS THIS DALLAS OR DENVER?

EXCUSE ME! WHERE ARE WE?

LET ME SEE! I THINK WE'RE IN EITHER L.A. OR DETROIT.

HOLD ON— I HAVE THE FEELING I'VE BEEN HERE BEFORE. MAYBE IT'S MEMPHIS!

EXCUSE ME! COULD YOU TELL US...

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY—When it snows and rains and the weather is freezing-cold, I fill my bird baths with food instead of water, and the birds just love it. They seem more hungry than thirsty.—MRS. F. P.

DEAR POLLY—Cleaning the ceramic tile in the shower used to be a real chore with all that soap scum. Recently, I tried DRY steel wool. This quickly cleaned the scum off and no other cleanser was needed.—BETTY

Polly pays $1.00 for every idea used. Send them to her, c/o this newspaper.

DEAR POLLY—Every Tuesday I walk about three blocks to the beauty shop. I carry a large paper bag to pick up the litter along one side of the road. On my return home I pick up litter on the other side. I not only get exercise bending and stooping over, but I help to keep our wonderful city cleaner looking.—MRS. F. W.

DEAR POLLY—I finally discovered that using a cotton swab dipped in the cleaning solution I am using for the rest of my blender is great for cleaning between the eight buttons.—LINDA

DEAR POLLY—When opening cans of dog food and there may be some left inside, open both ends of the can (if the food is firm and not runny). Use end piece as a lever to push the dog food out the other end enough to slice off the desired amount. The opened can can be placed in a plastic bag and put in the refrigerator for later use. No muss, no fuss and no odor.—CARLA

(Polly's Note—This should not be limited to dog food, as it is great when opening cans of such foods as corned beef hash.)

DEAR POLLY—I want to share a safety Pointer that my wife and I follow in our recreational vehicles while on any vacation. I painted a three-pound coffee can, weighted the bottom with gravel and then filled it with sand. We snub any cigarettes, matches, etc., out in the sand. If more people would do this, rather than throw discards out the car window, there would be less danger of roadside brush and forest fires or burning inside the vehicle.—RICHARD

DEAR POLLY—Some prescriptions for my one-year-old have to be refilled regularly. I wrote the names of the drugs, the doctor's name, the drugstore and, most importantly, the prescription numbers on an index card that I taped to the inside of the medicine chest door. By having the numbers handy, I can phone ahead so the druggist will have the medicine ready when I go to get it.—MRS. E. M. H.

DEAR POLLY—Let color divide that closet that is shared by two people. Paint half of it one color and the other half another color. Paint the hangers to match each of the two sides.—JULIA
